

TOWN LEAGUE OPENS SEASON

Team Captained by F. Butler Wins in Opening Contest

The opening game of the Stirling Baseball League took place on the High School diamond on Monday night when Frank Butler's "Gas House Gang" defeated Gord. Bailey's "Yankees" by six runs to five. Long occupied the mound for the winners and kept the opponents' hits well scattered, with the exception of the third inning when they shelled him for four runs. He gave up another run in the fourth inning to bring their total to four, and held them runless for the remainder of the game. Hart, on the mound for the losers, pitched good ball, but his support was erratic at times, and the winners scored two in the first, three in the second and one in the fifth.

The next game takes place tonight (Thursday) when the "Gas House Gang" takes on Sid Williams' "Tigers". This is bound to be another close and exciting game and the fans are urged to turn out and encourage the boys. The lineups:

G.H.G. — Dracup, c; Long, p; J. Ward, 1b; A. Fraser, 2b; Butler, 3b; Shier, ss; Mathison, rf; Reid, cf; Lummis, lf.

Yankees — G. Bailey, c; Hart, p; Wells, 1b; Hulin, 2b; Cain, 3b; Robinson, ss; Dermidy, cf; Alcombrack, rf; H. Brooks, lf.

Umpires — Plate, H. Conley; bases, Major Fraser.

June 3 — Tigers vs. Gas House.
June 6 — Yankees vs. Tigers.
June 10 — G. H. vs. Yankees.
June 13 — Tigers vs. G. H.
June 17 — Yankees vs. Tigers.
June 20 — G. H. vs. Yankees.
June 24 — Tigers vs. G. H.
June 27 — Yankees vs. Tigers.
July 4 — G. H. vs. Yankees.
July 9 — Tigers vs. G. H.
July 11 — Yankees vs. Tigers.

POSTMASTERS MEETING

F. T. Hulin, local postmaster, attended a meeting of the Bay of Quinte Postmasters' Association held in the Quinte Hotel, Belleville, on Wednesday afternoon. The meeting which opened at 2:30 p.m., was addressed by an official of the postal department at Ottawa, following which a banquet was served.

KNOCKED DOWN BY CAR

Ellie, eleven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Wannamaker, Oak Hills, narrowly escaped serious injury on Saturday night when she walked in front of an automobile at the corner of Mill and North Streets, and was knocked to the pavement. Fortunately the car, which was being driven by Ross Hoard, was travelling very slowly, and was brought to an immediate stop. The injured child was picked up and taken to Dr. Pedley's office, where she was treated for numerous bruises and abrasions. The driver of the car was exonerated of all blame.

MIXED TOURNAMENT

The season's activities at the Stirling Bowling Club got away away to a most successful start last (Wednesday) night when some twenty bowlers participated in the opening tournament between the President's and vice-President's rinks. President M. A. Patterson declared the season officially opened and the honour of rolling the first bowl on the green was given to Miss Grace Carleton, young daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Carleton.

Four rinks were chosen with Messrs W. J. Whitty and R. A. Patterson skipping the President's rinks and Dr. E. A. Carleton and Thos. W. Solmes, their opponents. Two games were played and resulted in the President's rinks having a plus of eleven.

Players taking part included Mrs. E. G. Bailey, Mrs. E. A. Carleton, Mrs. Chas. Linn, Mrs. P. W. Long, Mrs. W. J. Whitty, Mrs. E. Munro, Mrs. N. Wescott, Mrs. Nina Morton, Mrs. C. N. Baker, W. J. Whitty, C. N. Baker, P. W. Long, J. E. O'Donnell, F. R. Mallory, R. A. Patterson, Dr. E. A. Carleton, J. B. Morton, Chas. Linn and T. W. Solmes.

TO HAVE HOLIDAY

Pupils of the Public and High Schools in Stirling and district will be granted a holiday on Wednesday, June 9th, in observance of the birthday of King George VI. Though the King's birthday is in December, June 9th has been chosen for its observance.

FELL AND BROKE ARM

Mrs. German Sine, who resides on Henry Street, suffered an unfortunate injury on Saturday when she slipped and fell outside the door of her home and fractured her left arm. The fracture was reduced by Dr. E. A. Carleton and on Monday the injured lady was taken to Belleville for an X-ray.

SUFFERS HEART ATTACK

Friends of Mr. F. T. Ward will be sorry to learn that he is confined to his home from a heart ailment. Mr. Ward was about as usual on Tuesday morning at his place of business when he became ill. Medical attention was given him and he was taken to his home. At the time of writing his condition is much improved. His many friends will wish him an early and complete recovery.

SCHOOL FAIR DATES

Mr. Jos. Wilson, Agricultural Representative for Hastings County, has announced the following dates for Rural School Fairs to be held this coming Fall throughout the County: Hungerford Township, at Stoco, on September 15th; Madoc Township, at Remington, on Sept. 15th; Thurlow Township, at Cannifton, on Sept. 10th; Rawdon Township, at Springbrook, on Sept. 13th; Tyendinaga Township, at Melrose, on Sept. 14th; Sidney Township, at Wallbridge, on Sept. 17th; Huntingdon Twp., Ivanhoe, on September 9th; North Hastings district, at Maynooth, on September 11th. The Championship School Fair will be held in connection with the Stirling Fall Fair on September 22nd. These fairs are conducted under the management of the Hastings County Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, in co-operation with the Ontario Department of Education, the Public School Inspectors, Teachers and the local school boards. The prize lists are in the hands of the printers and will be ready for distribution next week.

GOLDEN WEDDING

On Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. A. Hay, of Campbellford, passed their fiftieth milestone in wedded bliss at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Jos. Whitehead, on Charlotte St., Stirling. In honour of the occasion a dinner party had been arranged by their daughter and some twenty relatives and friends were present to join with them in celebrating the happy occasion.

The rooms were artistically decorated with white and gold bells and ribbon, while an abundance of spring flowers added to the decorative scheme. The table was centred with a large birthday cake, under an arch of coloured tissue, and was adorned with bouquets of tulips and Tullip roses.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rutherford, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hay and family and Mr. Charles Allen, of Campbellford; Mr. R. W. Melick and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Rosebush.

Mr. and Mrs. Hay, who before her marriage was Miss A. Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Anderson, of Seymour, were married at the Presbyterian Manse, in Campbellford, on June 1st, 1887, by Rev. John Hay. For twenty-two years they made their home on a farm in Seymour township, and upon retiring from active work moved to Campbellford, where they have since resided.

To this union were born five children: Messrs Ernie Hay, of Regina, Sask.; Ivan Hay, of Innisfail, Alta.; and Victor Hay, at home, being the sons; while Mrs. Fred Rutherford, of Campbellford, and Mrs. Jos. Whitehead of town are the daughters. There are also thirteen grandchildren.

Mr. Hay who is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Hay, of Seymour, is seventy-seven years of age, while his bride of fifty years ago has reached the age of seventy. A host of friends wish for them many more years of health and happiness.

GOOD-WILL COMPETITION ENDED MONDAY AT NOON

MRS. T. MCCONNELL, OF STIRLING, WINS FIRST PRIZE — TEN CONTESTANTS GIVEN AWARDS IN SUCCESSFUL CAMPAIGN — INTEREST IS KEEN THROUGHOUT

Monday noon saw the close of the Stirling Good Will Club Competition sponsored by the News-Argus and in which eighteen of the leading merchants of Stirling took part. Commencing on April 3rd, the competition attracted thirteen contestants who have worked hard throughout to make it a success, and the sponsors are deeply grateful to them for their co-operation. A large number of new subscriptions were added to our lists and hundreds of renewals were paid during the course of the campaign. The primary purpose of the campaign was to create increased business for the Club merchants and with the keen interest maintained throughout the eight weeks there can be little doubt but that they too benefitted.

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all who took part in the campaign, particularly to Mr. R. L. Taylor, the Campaign Manager, who came to us highly recommended for his ability and fair dealing with the public and contestants and through his efforts nothing but a feeling of good-will remains.

The final standing was as follows:

1. Mrs. T. McConnell	2,283,300
2. Miss Betty Jones	1,333,100
3. Mary Agnes Fox	922,575
4. Mrs. Jas. Mitchell	883,550
5. Miss Edna McMaster	684,800
6. Miss Marcella Fowler	363,200
7. Miss Violet Cook	345,575
8. Miss Marion McMullen	263,575
9. Mrs. N. Wannamaker	168,600
10. Miss Aletha Conley	150,500
11. Miss G. McLeaming	81,900
12. Carleton Wallace	73,275
13. Mrs. B. Woodbeck	60,400

Mrs. Thos. McConnell, the winner of the first prize, chose the chesterfield suite. The special prize of $25.00 cash for the contestant bringing in the most money in subscriptions to the Stirling News-Argus was also won by Mrs. McConnell.

The electric washer was taken by Miss Betty Jones, of Stirling, winner of the second prize, and the Davenport couch went to Miss Mary Agnes Fox, also of Stirling, as third prize. Mrs. Jas. Mitchell, of town, winner of the fourth prize, chose a 4-piece silver tea service and Miss Edna McMaster, of Harold R.R. 1, received a lady's wrist watch as fifth prize. An electric lamp, the sixth prize, went to Miss Marcella Fowler, of Stirling, and the Bed Spread and Comforter to Miss Violet Cook, of Harold, for seventh prize. Miss Marion McMullen, of Holloway R.R. 2, received a Jasmine Toilet Set for winning eighth prize, and Mrs. Nathan Wannamaker, also of Holloway R.R. 2, chose a dinner-ware set for ninth prize. The tenth and last award went to Miss Aletha Conley, of Stirling, who received a chest of lady's stationery.

CONGRATULATIONS

FOOT BADLY CRUSHED

Wesley Brooks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Brooks, of Carmel, suffered painful injuries on Tuesday evening about 8 o'clock, when he was thrown from a motorcycle which he was driving. The accident occurred when he was negotiating a corner on the Campbellford Road, near Central Cheese Factory when the machine struck some loose gravel. Don Campbell, who was an eye witness to the accident, picked the young man up and brought him to Dr. Pedley's office in Stirling, where it was found his left foot was badly crushed. He was taken to Belleville for an X-Ray examination.

TENNIS LEAGUE

Stirling Tennis Club secured entry to the Bay of Quinte Tennis League at an organization meeting of that body held in Belleville on Tuesday night. In the election of officers, Lorne Jackman, of Trenton, was re-elected to the office of President, and Harry Lovibond, of Stirling, received an acclamation for the office of Secretary-Treasurer.

Teams represented at the meeting were: Campbellford, by E. Lynn and Alex Lightning; Stirling, by H. Lovibond; Point Anne, by T. Bowler, Bud Roseberry and A. Scallin; Belleville, by E. Wickerson, G. Scott, Miss G. McCreary and Miss R. Lazler; and Trenton, by Lorne Jackman and W. White.

A home-and-home schedule was adopted, with a sudden-death play-off between the second and third teams, and a home-and-home series between the winner and the first place team at the conclusion of the schedule. The meeting was unanimous in deciding that no player could compete in more than one match in each week's play. It was decided to hold two men's doubles matches, two mixed doubles matches and a ladies' doubles match in each tournament, with a point system determining the standing of the clubs in the league. One point will be awarded for each match, making a possible total of five points per week.

CELEBRATION HERE JULY 12

Invitations Will Be Issued to Various Lodges of District

Members of Stirling L.O.L. No. 310 and L.O.B.A. No. 655 are busy making extensive plans for the celebration of the 24th anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne. Invitations will be issued to the lodges from the surrounding district and it is fully expected that Stirling will be the mecca for one of the largest crowds it has seen for a number of years. The program will include the usual parade of the lodges, without which no Orange celebration is complete, addresses by prominent members of the Order, and Sports, and will be held on the Fair grounds. Everything will be done to make this celebration one long to be remembered among Orangemen of the district and everybody in the district should plan now to attend.

At a recent meeting the following committees were appointed to make necessary arrangements for the celebration:

Decorations — H. C. Martin, Orval Casement, Arthur Juby, Thos. Donnan, J. S. Morton.
Finance — C. F. Wail, Thos. Cranston, Louis Rodgers, Sis. Effie Francis and Sis. Amelia Danford.
Programme and Printing — Thos. Montgomery, Thos. McGee, Harold McGee, Arthur Gould and H. C. Martin.

Purchasing — Thos. Cranston, Louis Rodgers, Thos. Donnan; Sis. Laura Gould, Sis. Gertrude Cooke.
Catering — Thos. McGee, Thos. Montgomery, Lindsay McGee, Wm. Courtney, Sis. Lulu Juby, Bessie Rodgers, Eva Mitchell, Jennie Burkill, Minnie Morrison, Pearl Kent.

Grounds — Frank McGee, Orval Casement, Phillip Carr, Robert Eggleton, Harold McGee, Percy McGee, Fred Richardson and Archie McGee.

PICTON CENTENARY FROM JUNE 30TH TO JULY 5TH

Holders of the World Championship Speed Boat records will compete in the Gold Cup races which will headlight the Picton Centenary and Prince Edward County Old Boys' Reunion Celebration to be staged in the Prince Edward County town from June 30th to July 5th. The regatta being staged on June 30th and July 1st by the Prince Edward Yacht Club is the first regatta ever to be held by a Canadian Yacht Club that has been sanctioned by the American Power Association, the World's foremost organization of this type. The 2.25 class race for the $750.00 Prince Edward Gold Cup will be the feature event but the outboards will also give keen competition. A score of the best American drivers have entered these events. World's records may be established at Picton.

The Celebration however, is not confined to the regatta. Horse races, historical parades, lacrosse and baseball matches and all the minor trimmings necessary for a successful celebration have a place on the wide and varied programme.

SUPPORT THEM

Lovers of the game of baseball in Stirling and district are to be given the opportunity of witnessing their favourite pastime during the summer months. While an entry was not made in the South Hastings League, a town League has been organized with three teams taking part and a series of games will be played to decide the championship. It is hoped through this league, the first game of which was held on Monday, to develop the younger players of the village, so that in future years Stirling will have sufficient material for a team in a district league. The boys of the town are showing a keen interest in the game and it is hoped that the fans will turn out in goodly numbers to give them their support. At Monday's game there was a fair sprinkling of fans but there should be many more. Good clean sport is needed in any village and it is up to us to encourage and boost the boys. The next game takes place tonight at the school grounds and everyone is urged to attend.

TOURIST HOMES AND FLAG-WAVING

In a well-known magazine, says The Bowmanville Statesman, we saw a cartoon which told a very true story. It pictured a Canadian tourist's home all decked out with Stars and Stripes to attract United States visitors to this country. In the foreground however an American tourist is seen leaving the place in disgust and he is made to say, "I didn't come to Canada to find a home away from home." There is a sadly mistaken idea by many Canadian tourist home operators that Americans like to see their flags flying everywhere in the breeze when they come to Canada. Primarily the American comes to Canada to get away from the humdrum of daily life in his own country. Canada to him is a foreign country and as such offers certain changes that are necessary to an enjoyable holiday. He likes to feel that he is abroad. He would be a lot happier to see Union Jacks floating in the breeze, and he is not so dumb that he doesn't see cheap commercialism in the tourist home which tries to bribe him on the premises with U.S. Stars and Stripes. Canadian tourist home operators might well take these facts into consideration before they deck their places out in American flags which do not please, but rather disgust the visitor.

A HINT TO TOO PLUMP PEOPLE

It is strange how people develop taste and prejudice regarding food, when there is neither rhyme nor reason to it. Canadians have their notions about food in abundance and one of them relates to mutton and lamb. As a people we eat very little of it — we eat more pork than any other meat.

Now the Dominion Department of Agriculture has quite a reputation for good advice regarding what we should eat and why. It tells us that the flavour of lamb combines well with all kinds of vegetables and it says that the lean, vitalizing meat and the extent to which vegetables are used with lamb meals no doubt accounts for the fact that persons eating meats built around this meat more readily control their weight. Indeed over-weight people with that menu reduce their circumference. This leads to the thought that the fat lady on exhibition in the midway at the Fall Fair is not given to lamb chops.

Although the Agricultural authorities declare that lamb is improving, we are consuming less than we did years ago. Prior to the Great War the Canadian consumption was over nine pounds per capita per annum; last year it was down to a little over six. In the United States it is about seven.

What Others Say

HEPBURN'S SAGACITY

(Almonte Gazette)

Many people hail the beginning of the Ontario Government's publicity campaign as a sure election sign. They are probably right. And Conservatives might note that Premier Hespburn had enough political sagacity to use the weekly press as well as the dailies which is more than could be said for Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett.

BUSINESS GOOD IN TRENTON

(Trenton Courier-Advocate)

If advertising is any indication of a return to business normalcy then better times are already here. This month of May has produced more advertising for this paper than any May since we took over The Courier-Advocate in July, 1933. The volume of advertising in our issue of May 13 was the greatest in a regular edition of this paper in many years.

SOUR GRAPES?

(Belleville Ontario-Intelligencer)

Belleville Redmen winning that hockey cup must have flabbergasted the Toronto hockey moguls for the cup arrived here with the silver plate acknowledging the victory of Belleville placed on the cup base upside down. Now Toronto sports may be short sighted on some things and liable to see double on occasion, but to put a silver plate on a trophy cup base upside down — we want to know — whether this upside down stuff is intended for insult, or whether it is just the Toronto rush and rustle which purports to be going some place in a hurry and then when it gets there wonders what it came for, and why.

REDUCED TEACHERS' SALARIES HAVE NOT HELPED

(Whitby Gazette and Chronicle)

Judging from recent pronouncements of officials of the Ontario Department of Education, rural schools have not been helped by the action of many rural school trustees who took advantage of the recent over-supply of teachers to hire young teachers at a mere pittance. It became the duty of the Department to sound a warning in this direction to the effect that grants would be cut if a certain minimum was not maintained, and while this warning has done a lot of good other results of the salary curtailment policy are becoming evident. Here is what the St. Mary's Journal-Argus has to say on the subject: "Rural schools have not been helped by the action of many rural trustees who took advantage of the recent over-supply of teachers to hire young teachers at a mere pittance. The result has been the driving out of many young folks to seek more remunerative work of another kind and the students, now coming along, are turning their attention to other lines of work. Attendance at the O.C.E. is less than one half of what it was four years ago and at the Normal Schools even lower. A shortage of teachers is predicted in the near future and it is prophesied by those who should know, that many rural schools will be paying "through the nose".

CURRENT COMMENT

The "Welcome" sings on the roads leading into this village are showing signs of becoming weather-beaten and dull. If these signs were brightened up with a fresh coat of paint it would add greatly to their attractiveness.

In five years' time a strip of country 12 miles wide and as long as from Toronto to Montreal has been cut down for pulp and the manufacture of paper, according to a prominent official of the Canadian Newspaper Manufacturers' Association. This should be of sufficient importance to impress upon anyone the need of a reforestation scheme in the province.

Indications are that Stirling and district is facing a severe plague of caterpillars, unless there is immediate action on the part of citizens generally to overcome the menace. Now is the time to destroy these nauseating creatures while they are in the breeding tents and not when they start crawling everywhere. Citizens are urged to search out these pests and see that they are destroyed at once.

With the warmer weather of the past few days the farmers of this district are more hopeful in regard to the crops this year. The heavy precipitation of the spring has seriously handicapped them in their seeding operations, especially those having low land, and the dry weather was badly needed. While many farmers are of the opinion that the hay crop will not be up to the usual standard, an optimistic outlook is held in regards to the other crops.

Cream producers throughout the province will welcome the efforts being made by the Ontario Cream Patrons' Association to stabilize the price of cream and improvement of the quality. Two of the main objectives of the scheme are to reduce the cost of processing and to eliminate the unnecessary expense caused by duplicate trucking services. Another item in the list of improvements sought by the Association is the weighing and grading of cream. The scheme is to be undertaken under the Farm Products Marketing Act passed at the last session of Parliament and its results will be eagerly awaited by the farmers who patronize the creameries of the province.

Will there be peace or war in Europe? This is a question that is causing grave concern to the nations of the world. Some students of world affairs believe there is no immediate danger of war, but with Italy and Germany withdrawing from the International Neutrality Committee which has struggled to keep the Spanish Revolution from spreading beyond its borders, anything may happen. The action of these two countries is the result of attacks by the Spanish Loyalists on their ships lying in Rebel ports and the situation is tense. Nations which might be drawn into a European conflict are hopeful that both these countries will show more willingness to give and take in the interest of the common good.

The town of Orangeville, Ont., has adopted a novel idea in traffic signs in order to protect their children from accidents at the hands of careless automobile drivers. A sign with its appeal for child safety — "We love our children; drive carefully" — has been erected at the eastern entrance of the town, with the hope that it will make the passing motorist safety-conscious. With two provincial highways converging at the corner of Front and North streets, and with both roads carrying a heavy traffic, Stirling might well copy the idea adopted by the Western town. While it is true that this village has had very few accidents to children, none being of a fatal nature, there is always the possibility of some child dashing into the street to retrieve a ball and crossing directly in the path of a motor vehicle.

MARMORA HIGH SCHOOL SEEKS LARGER GRANTS

On Tuesday of this week Mr. T. E. Laycock, Chairman of Marmora High School Board, Mr. H. W. Sabine, a member of the Board, and Reeve W. R. Linn motored to Toronto to make an appeal for greater assistance to Marmora High School. Through the co-operation of Hon. Dr. Faulkner, member for West Hastings, the delegation had the opportunity to meet Hon. Dr. Simpson, Minister of Education, and Dr. McArthur, Deputy Minister, and was given a very sympathetic hearing.

Not only was assurance given of an increased grant for the present year, but the Minister promised to have an inspector visit Marmora at an early date to make a survey of the whole situation in regard to secondary education. With the proposed changes soon to be made in the courses of study it is recognized that Marmora has neither the necessary accommodation or equipment to meet the situation.

Ever since a Continuation School was first started in Marmora, the ratepayers of the village have carried a very heavy burden. For years Marmora had about the same attendance as Stirling and covered practically the same subjects, but the Government and County grants to Stirling were from $10,000 to $12,000 per annum while Marmora received from $4,000 to $5,000. The difference was nearly the same in the case of some of the other schools and at the same time Marmora's assessment was much smaller than the others. In spite of the difficulty the school has carried on year after year, but it is recognized that to meet changing conditions the Board must have greater assistance from some outside source. — Marmora Herald.

WILTSHIRE DAIRYMAN WILL LECTURE IN CANADA

English Farmer - Author To Address
Series of Meetings

Mr. Arthur G. Street, dairy farmer, near Salisbury, in Wiltshire, England; author of "Farmer's Glory" and a dozen other books on farm topics; lecturer and broadcaster, and one of the most interesting characters in English Agriculture, is coming to Canada to address a series of meetings.

Mr. Street is being brought to this country through arrangements made by Canada Packers, Massey-Harris and Imperial Oil because of the keen interest entertained for his farming books by Mr. J. S. McLean, Mr. T. A. Russell and Mr. Frank Prendergast.

The plans for these meetings were made by the Honourable Duncan Marshall who has read some ten books from the pen of Arthur G. Street. Mr. Marshall visited this Wiltshire farmer at his home last summer and was impressed with the desirability of having a few public meetings in Canada by an English Farmer who is so practical and so charming in address.

Mr. Street spent four years as a farm labourer on a Manitoba homestead about 50 miles northwest of Portage la Prairie, coming out to Canada when he was about 18 years of age and graduating into a first-class farm hand, who was able to hold his job with one farmer for four consecutive years.

He returned to England at the time of the war and, at its conclusion,

The Score

Jones' wife had been unusually silent during the concert, but it was obvious something was puzzling her. "By the way," she said, when a piece came to an end, "what's that book the conductor keeps looking at?" "That's the score of the overture," he replied.

"Oh," she exclaimed, "who's winning?"

Something

Haughty Woman: "Did any of your ancestors do things to cause posterity to remember them?"

Farmer: "I reckon they did. My grandfather put mortgages on this place that aren't paid off yet!"

ARTHUR G. STREET

took over his father's farm, and since that time he has been the tenant at "Ditchampton Farm" in Wiltshire, which he now operates as a dairy farm, milking 70 cows upon the Hoser system, which means milking them outside in bales. These cows are not stabled either winter or summer and Mr. Street is conducting a very successful dairy farm.

He became an author by chance after writing a few articles for newspapers upon farm topics, and finally being asked by one of his friends to set down in book form some of his impressions and ideas of farming, he produced, under the title of "Farmer's Glory," the most favorably received farming story ever published in Britain. It went into seven successive editions inside of 14 months after publication. His fame has spread almost all over the world as a writer of farming stories.

Other books which have come from the pen of Arthur G. Street are "Strawberry Roan," "Hedge Trimmings," "The Endless Furrow," "Country Days," "Thinking Aloud," "A Country Calendar," "Moonraking," "Land Everlasting" and "The Gentleman of the Party."

He is a regular contributor to the "Farmer's Weekly" in Great Britain and his page of "Random Philosophy" is read with great interest by the farmers in the United Kingdom.

In these days when we are developing a successful trade in farm products between Canada and Great Britain, the people who are interested in these meetings. Dr. Barton, Deputy Minister of Agriculture in Ottawa, and Dr. E. S. Archibald, Director of the Dominion Experimental Farms, are both admirers of Mr. Street's publications and are actively assisting in the arrangements for his visit.

'SALADA' TEA is delicious

Mr. Street is a practical farmer, living on and operating the farm upon which he was born, and has that keen knowledge of everything that contributes to successful farming which makes his addresses doubly interesting.

Mr. Street will address his first meeting at the Experimental Farm at Ottawa where he will be received by The Honourable J. G. Gardiner, who has taken a lively interest in this visit. He will speak at the farm on the afternoon of Saturday, June 5th, at 2 o'clock Standard Time, 3 o'clock Daylight Saving Time. There will be a parade of livestock previous to the address. He will come from Ottawa to Toronto and address and luncheon in the Royal York Hotel at noon, on Monday, June 7th, at 12:30 Daylight Saving Time. This luncheon will be held under the joint auspices of the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair, the Canadian Club and the Empire Club.

On Tuesday, June 8th, Mr. Street will visit the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph and address a large gathering of people who will be assembled there for the purpose of hearing him. This meeting is at 2 o'clock Standard Time, 3 o'clock Daylight Saving Time. There will be a parade of livestock previous to the address. He then goes on to the Manitoba Agricultural College at Winnipeg; to the Experimental Farms at Brandon and Indian Head; to the Agricultural College at Edmonton, Alberta, and to the Experimental Farm at Lethbridge, and will return to Ontario early in July.

The Provincial Departments of Agriculture in each of these Provinces, and the Federal Department are uniting for the purpose of organizing these meetings. Dr. Barton, Deputy Minister of Agriculture in Ottawa, and Dr. E. S. Archibald, Director of the Dominion Experimental Farms, are both admirers of Mr. Street's publications and are actively assisting in the arrangements for his visit.

Mr. Street has been broadcasting now for a number of years for the British Broadcasting Corporation, and a good many of his talks over the radio have been made from farms. This modest and unassuming man of the land has been in the public eye perhaps more than any other British farmer during the last four or five years since he became famous through the production of his first book "Farmer's Glory."

Among the topics upon which Mr. Street will talk are "The Countryman's place today in the national life of England," "The part which home farming must play in any worthwhile Empire scheme of co-ordination," "The varying nature of English farming with a detailed description of the working of three of the most famous farms in England," "A word picture of the rural scenes of England and the people who inhabit it." He has a most interesting lecture also on the curious fluke which has transformed a Wiltshire farmer into a writer and broadcaster with some humorous stories of the many bricks which he has dropped in the strange land of London's literary world.

The visit of Mr. Street to Canada will be one of the Agricultural events of the year 1937 and farmers, their wives, sons and daughters should not miss the opportunity of seeing, hearing and meeting, if possible, this practical English farmer.

Mr. Street will also visit a half dozen Agricultural Colleges in the United States where he will deliver addresses before his return to England.

Modern Elizabethan

An English dramatist was asked to check and correct some dialogue in a Hollywood film dealing with Queen Elizabeth and Mary Queen of Scots. He pointed out that to make Queen Elizabeth say, "Well, Mary, I guess I've got one on you," was hardly the language of the period.

The producer altered it and proudly displayed the amended version, with the comment: "It's a hundred per cent Elizabethan now."

It read: "Well, Mary, I guess I've got one up on you, forsooth."

Hotel Boom

Voice over phone: "I want one room for tonight, please. The name is Lumsden — L for Lucy, U for Una, M for Mary, S for Stephen, D for Dick, E for Edith, N for Nellie."

Proprietress of country hotel: "My Guidness! Are they a' coming?"

The Catch

Applicant: "And if I take the job, am I to get a rise in salary every year?"

Employer: "Yes, if your work is satisfactory."

Applicant: "Ah, I thought there was a catch in it somewhere"

Walking Again

"So the banker put you on your feet again?"

"Yes."

"Did he give you another loan?"

"No; he foreclosed on my car."

Large Peas

Dad and Mum were spending a few days in London. One evening they dined at an expensive restaurant. As soon as they were seated, a large tray of olives was placed on the table.

Dad eyed them seriously for a few minutes, then beckoned to the waiter. "I don't want to give you any trouble," he said, "but I'd like to see the pods those green peas grew in."

The three losing groups in the season's contest entertained the remaining group under Captain Wanda Bateman to winners and "marsh-mallow roasts around a jolly bonfire. A part of the programme was the presentation of a beautiful blanket as a souvenir from the League to Rev. and Mrs. Foley, with the following address:

Springbrook, Ontario,

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Foley:— This being our last Young People's meeting for the season and knowing that you are about to leave our community, we felt that we could not let the evening pass without showing in some tangible way the esteem you hold among us. It is often said "The good die young," but we find as we go through life that this is not always true. Many good followers of our Master are given long life, and we have found you both to be among the true and faithful and it certainly has meant a lot to our Young People's group in Springbrook. As a slight token of our respect and regard for you we ask you to accept this blanket along with the warm wishes from each and every member of our Society.

Signed on behalf of Springbrook Young People — Jeana Nickle, Pres., Harry Bateman, Sec.

Mr. William Fitchett was master of ceremonies and Miss Lenora Stapley read the following address:

Madoc Junction,

June 1st, 1937

Dear Caroline and Leonard:— The neighbours declare it, the papers have said

That a youth and a maiden have lately been wed.

This evening your friends have all gathered here,

The old and the young, to wish you good cheer.

We trust that your future will always be bright,

Your pathway be joyous, your troubles be light.

Yet God has not promised skies always blue,

Flower-strewn pathways, all your life through;

So if shadows should come, just whistle and sing.

It will make the clouds vanish, and happiness bring.

Now Caroline, don't start nagging, be cranky or pout,

It will spoil a home quicker than all get out.

Just be to your husband a dear loving wife,

And he will love you, the rest of your life.

And Leonard you a good provider will make,

To bring home the bacon, and furnish the steak.

Also you must praise your wife's efforts when she bakes,

And just be blind to any mistakes.

Now on this occasion, we have brought you tonight

These miscellaneous articles, all new and bright.

We hope you will like them, and that useful they'll be,

And serve to remind of friends one, two and three.

Please kindly unwrap them, and we will stand by

And watch with delight as each piece you untie.

Signed — Your Friends at Madoc Junction.

The bride and groom replied briefly, thanking their friends for their gifts. While all joined in singing "For They are Jolly Good Fellows" the Stirling band, of which the groom is a member, arrived in a body and played several selections out on the lawn, after which they came in and presented the young couple with a lovely occasional chair and rocker to match. Maurice Bell, band leader, voiced his appreciation of the services of Leonard in connection with the band, and on behalf of the band members wished the young couple bon voyage, through life. The ladies then served refreshments and a social time was spent.

ALLAN'S MILLS

A miscellaneous shower was tendered to Mr. and Mrs. M. Jones on Tuesday night at their home. Several selections of music were played by Misses Grace and Evelyn Gibson with their guitars; Mr. Garland Irwin with guitar, Mr. Walter Jones with banjo, Mr. M. Jones with violin, which was enjoyed by all.

Miss Vera Norman of Marmora spent the past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Wellman.

Mrs. Hay were school-mates together in by-gone days.

A very appetizing dinner was served at noon in banquet style and a splendid programme followed, based on the old-fashioned days of long ago and the happy thought of giving flowers to the living. Mrs. Jane Hoard who last August celebrated her 85th birthday, was chairlady, and gave a wonderful address and also read a timely selection "Take time to go and spend the day with your neighbours." Appropriate readings were given by Mrs. Don Campbell, Mrs. Will Hubble, Mrs. Frank Smith, Mrs. Morris Rose, Mrs. George Weaver, Mrs. John Hay, Mrs. Ross Hoard, Mrs. Emma Summers and Mrs. Frank Jeffs. Mrs. John Holmes and Mrs. Ross Hoard sang "The Home where my forefathers dwell." Mrs. Kenneth Weaver rendered a vocal number "The songs of Long, Long ago." Mrs. Frank Smith and Mrs. Holmes sang a duet "The Old Rocking Chair." During the program the ladies sang "When you and I were young Maggie," and at the close they joined hands and sang "Auld Lang Syne."

Mrs. Frank Hutchinson sent Mrs. Hay a lovely bouquet of cut flowers and Mrs. Arthur Phillips attended in the afternoon. Mrs. Hay heartily thanked her friends for the very happy function which had been planned in her honour.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Weese, Rednersville, spent a couple of days with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Weese.

MRS. JOHN CAIN

The death occurred in Belleville Hospital on Tuesday, June 1st, of Ellen Keenan, wife of Mr. John Cain, of Rawdon, after a lingering illness.

The late Mrs. Cain was born in Ireland, the daughter of the late James and Catharine Keenan, and was sixty-four years of age. She came to Canada in her youth, and was married to John Cain, of Rawdon Township. To this union were born six sons and one daughter, all of whom are left to survive, namely: Alphons, of Sidney;
W. J. Cain, of Hoards Station; Ernest,
Michael and Vincent, all of Detroit;
Donald, at home, and Mrs. Ernest Darson of Detroit.

The funeral was held on Thursday morning at 9:30 p.m. at St. James' Roman Catholic Church, Stirling, of which the deceased was a valued member, with Rev. Father H. J. Farrell officiating, and was largely attended. The six sons acted as pallbearers.

Interment was in St. James' Cemetry.

LIBERALS WIN B. C. ELECTION

Premier Thomas Dufferin Pattullo and at least 29 of his followers were swept back into office in the provincial election held in British Columbia on Tuesday.

The Liberal party, campaigning on a platform of past record and better terms for British Columbia under confederation, turned back the challenge of a re-organized Conservative party, a Co-operative Commonwealth contin-gent of 45 candidates, a social Credit force of 18 and a group of 14 Conservatives.

The Conservatives, unrepresented in the last legislature, made a show of strength and eight members of the party were elected, including the provincial leader, Dr. Frank Patterson.

Six co-operative Commonwealth
Federation candidates, including Dr.
Lyle Telford, party leader, won election. An Independent, R. W. Bruhn, won re-election in Salmon Arm and the veteran Labour member for Ferrie, Thomas Uphill, was returned.

Only Burnaby, where E. E. Winch, C.C.F., sought re-election in a sevencornered fight, and Mackenzie, another former C.C.F. seat, remained in doubt.

FRANKFORD L.O.B.A. OBSERVES ANNIVERSARY

The Frankford L.O.B.A. held a lun-quet on Wednesday evening, May 26th, in honour of their 16th anniversary. About 100 guests sat down to their spacious tables. Members of the Grand Lodge also Picton and Trenton Lodges were present. Worthy Mistress of Frankford Lodge, Sister Luella Stickle, acting as chairman first gave an address of welcome to her Sister members and guests. Sister Gordon proposed a toast to King and Country, responded to by singing the National Anthem. The orchestra from Trenton gave several selections.
A toast proposed by Sister Hanna to Grand Lodge Officers was responded to by Sister Caton, Grand Worthy Mistress, also Sister Johnstown, Grand Dr. Miss Maybee delighted the audience with different solos. Sister
Reid proposed a toast to the guests, Worthy Mistresses from Picton and other points responding.

Miss Doris Stickle and Mr. Empey of Trenton rendered a duet, Mr. Reid, Past County Master of Belleville gave a very interesting address, also Mr.
Bell, Past Grand Prep. of Ontario
East. The evening drew to a close by singing 'God be with you till we meet again.'

Rutherford; song, Rev. H. Foley; contest, Bernice Lisle. At the close of the program the presentation of an electric desk lamp was made by the league to Rev. H. W. Foley, who is leaving at the end of June to make his future home at Bowmanville. The following address was read by the president — Dear Mr. Foley — We,
the Young People of Stanwood League wish to thank you for the interest you have taken in the young people in organizing this league. We will miss you when you leave but hope to look back with pleasant memories of the evenings we have spent together in league. We ask you to accept this token of remembrance from the Y.P.
U. of Stanwood as you are about to leave us and go to a new home. May God bless and sustain you in future years. Signed — on behalf of the League.

This came as a total surprise to

Leashed Guns of Circle L

by Perry Westbrook

Tenth instalment

SYNOPSIS: Slim Loyale is paroled from prison after serving 18 months for a crime he did not commit. He returns to his Circle L ranch to find his father dead and sinister forces at work, trying to make him violate his parole so that he can again be railroaded to prison.

The Brockwells and their gang are plotting to gain possession of Circle L ranch and the property of Mona Hall, a neighbour and life-long friend of Slim Loyale.

Slim discovers that Sheriff Starbuck has joined the plot against him. With the help of Dakota Blue and his cowboys, Slim Loyale defies the land-grabbers to do their worst.

"I say yes," exploded Tisdale. "I got money in my poke an' the boys down in Jericho Valley have authorized me to act for the whole crowd. Let's go an' see the young lady right away."

That night, behind locked door and shuttered windows, three men met in heated argument in George Arthur's office. Arthur himself was again nervously pacing back and forth, while Sarg Brockwell and Jigger Starbuck occupied chairs.

"I tell you," snapped Arthur, "we've got to act quick without a minute of delay. If we don't, we lose everything. Those herds are nearly to the north end of Jericho Valley right now. Tisdale, the Big Bend representative, raved like a wild man when I told him it would cost him and the others a dollar a head to cross the range, but they'll pay in the end. They'll have to, and they know it."

"But now Loyale is going to loan Miss Hall money enough to pay me. We've got to stop that move somehow, and there is only one way to do it. I've told you how. We'd be better off if we had the Circle L too, but we simply gotta get the Dot H Dot to get any money out of this deal."

"It's a pretty stiff deal you're handing me an' my gang, Arthur," growled Brockwell, his big teeth showing in a snarl of anger. "Robbin' a bank is apt to start somethin' we can't stop. Folks in this neck of the woods are beginnin' to get kinda on edge."

"Why shouldn't they?" broke in Starbuck. "Yuh've messed things up from the first, Sarg. Yuh won't leave that Vasco stage alone. You're so danged greedy yuh can't see the end of yore own nose. If a dollar is in the way."

"I'm about ready to chuck the whole thing an' pull my freight. Time was when I was a square-shooter. Yuh jaspers dangled a lot of promises an' false bait in front of me, an' I turned coyote. I'm sick of the whole deal."

"This is no time to quarrel among ourselves or quit," snapped Arthur. "We can still win out — big. Brockwell, that bank has got to be robbed, and Loyale and Blue have got to be rubbed out. Furthermore, we've got to act tonight."

Silence fell. Every one of these three realized that they were gambling madly beyond all reason. Yet so deeply were they in the fire already they could not stop. A wild reckless light flamed in Starbuck's eyes.

"Gimme enough men for a posse, an' I'll go out to the Circle L an' arrest both Loyale an' Blue. If they resist, an' I hope they will, we'll rock 'em off. If they don't well, I can always swear they made a getaway attempt along the trail to town an' rock 'em off anyway. Gimme five men an' I'll make my play. Like Arthur says it's whole hawg or none."

Brockwell licked his thick lips. "Keno! I'll split my crew. Jigger, yuh can take half; I'll take the rest. While yore outa town, I'll spear that bank. It'll be a good alibi for yuh anyhow."

"But ye don't take all the risk, Arthur, at daybreak tomorrow mornin' you're due at the Dot H Dot. Clamp that foreclosure on, an' make it stick. I don't care how much time of notice yuh've give that Hall woman. Take it back. Slap that foreclosure on without another day of grace. Savvy?"

"Oh I'll do it," promised Arthur. "We've got to pyramid now — push our luck for all we've got. That's decided. Let's drink on it."

From the lower drawer of his desk, the renegade lawyer produced a whiskey bottle and three glasses. And with him drank a renegade sheriff and a renegade cattleman. Without further words, Starbuck and Brockwell went out into the night.

Arthur remained and drank and drank until he was dead-drunk. At least, the other two were fighting men who, in the final showdown, were game to sniff smoke. But he was the rat, drinking to stifle his innate cowardice to try and whip his shaking nerves to face the big showdown.

Out at the Dot H Dot, Mona Hall was radiant. Sam Tisdale had just laid a pile of bills on the table before her. "There's five thousand dollars, Miss Hall," he said. "There'll probably be a thousand or fifteen hundred more due yuh. We'll make a good count as the herds go through the pass at the north end of Jericho. Yuh can rest happy that we'll shoot square with yuh."

"Oh, I know you will, Mr. Tisdale," she cried. "You don't know what this means! You can't guess!"

Tisdale grinned. "Mebbe I can better than yuh think, miss," he broke in. "Give all the credit to Loyale here. He figured it out for the both of us."

As the three men were leaving, Mona caught Slim by the arm. Her eyes were starry. "You're the best, dearest friend ever, Slim," she told him.

Slim smiled and chuckled her under the chin. "Me, I'm beginnin' to get tired of that word 'friend.' It's okay for some cases, but in others it's pretty darned empty soundin'. When things are squared away on this range again we'll argue that out. Adios! It's plumb good to see yuh smilin' again an' with roses in yore cheeks, Mona."

Outside, Slim paused for a moment beside the Dot H Dot bunkhouse and called Abe Fornachon. "Abe," he said, "Mona's got quite a lump of money there in the house — enough to squelch that mortgage. Kinda keep yore eye on things, will yuh? An' if Arthur shows up to-morrow to try an' foreclose, yuh can be present an' see that he takes the money an' receipts the note an' turns it over to Mona."

"I'll wring his damned neck if he don't," promised Abe.

At the Circle L, a heavy argument was in progress. Steve Owens and Charley Quinn were sprawled flat on the ground behind a substantial pile of spare corral rails, their cheeks pressed to the stocks of a pair of Winchester, the muzzles of which bore steadily upon a dark clump of riders.

"Yuh jaspers stay put!" yelled Steve. "Yuh start anythin' an' we'll shore finish it."

"But I've got warrants, I tell yuh," came back Jigger Starbuck's voice. "This is the law. Put down them guns an' get some sense."

"Yore kind of law has got a busted back around this ranch, Starbuck," retorted Steve. "Best thing yuh can do is pull yore freight. Won't be no warrants served around here."

There came a matter of argument from the posse, then Leo Brockwell's venomous tones sounded. "Aw, hell! This blab makes me sick. Let's rush 'em." We can't stand here all night arguin'. Let's spread out an' circle that pile of rails an' show them jaspers they're draggin' a short rope."

During the renewed argument over this plan, Steve and Charley got busy immediately. Not unlike a pair of awkward land crabs, they spraddled backwards, located the corral fence with their feet and slid under it. Then, rising to a crouch, they stole along it.

"Yuh git behind the feed shed, Charley," whispered Steve. "I'll hole up around the bunk shack. If they start murderin' that pile of rails, give it to 'em."

The bulk of the posse split and circled. "Last chance," came Starbuck's voice. "Come outa there or we start shootin'."

There was no answer. Starbuck cursed in sudden fury and rolled a gun, the others of the posse follow ing suit. The night shook with the rumbling reports and was splashed with goutts of crimson flame from searching gun muzzles.

Without any more hesitation Steve and Charley went to work. They laced the night with lead, their rifles sounding flatly. The posse was torn with confusion. "Spread out!" yelled Starbuck. "Git around the whole damned place, an' grab cover!"

The posse needed no second command. Like startled quail they all scattered, seizing upon anything to get away from that surprising cross-fire. One individual of the crowd, who had had his horse shot from under him, had the bad judgment to duck behind a corner of the big ranch house. Here he halted beneath an open window, peering back into the darkness.

Oscar, the big Swede cook, startled by this outburst of sudden gunfire, stuck his head out of the window. The posseman did not see him, but Oscar saw the crouching figure. By the snarling curses echoing upward, he knew it was neither Steve or Charley. Therefore Oscar leaned well out, one huge fist clubbed. It fell like a post maul, and the posseman subsided in a silent heap.

Oscar chuckled and heaved his big bulk out of the window. He found the big fellow's guns and hefted them. "I guess this bans good time to start fightin'," rumbled Oscar to himself.

So with a queer, Swedish war cry, he waded in.

Slim and his two companions were about a quarter of a mile from home when that first burst of gunfire echoed. Instantly Slim spurred his mount to a scudding run.

"Our fight, Tisdale," he flung over his shoulder. "No call for yuh to take chances. Yuh can drop out." "Like hell I will!" snapped Tisdale, spurring up even with Slim and Dakota Blue. "Yuh shot square with me. I'm returning the favour."

Just as they reached the ranch they heard Oscar's war cry and saw by the gun flames that answered it the approximate positions of the attackers. Slim left his saddle while his horse was still in movement, and ran, crouching, down one corner of the central corral.

Tisdale followed Slim, but Dakota cut around the other way. By the steady spangling of the Winchester, Slim got Steve and Charley located. So he turned his own guns loose on the hostile positions.

Almost opposite him from the other side of the corral came answering lead. Slim, a wild ferocity upon him, stalked straight towards the place, shooting steadily. His hat left his head and swirled to one side, torn and dragged. Invisible fingers plucked at one flaring wing of his chaps. He heard Tisdale curse in sudden pain, but he kept on, shooting low and center.

The hostile guns went quiet and a choking curse echoed. A man tottered out of the blackness towards him. "Reach high," snapped Slim, "Reach high, quick."

"Loyale!" gasped the other. "Yuh had all the luck. Yuh got me — yuh got me, yuh damned jailbird!"

The voice broke off and the figure slumped forward silently. Slim new, by the voice, that he had killed Leo Brockwell.

As Dakota Blue cut in from the opposite side, he found himself barging right through the scattered and disorganized forces of Starbuck's discomfited law. Starbuck, wildly furious at the way things were going against him, was trying by word and action to rally his men. By the renegade sheriff's cursing and shooting Dakota was able to locate him, and with grim purposefulness he made his way towards him.

Momentarily, no one questioned Dakota's presence. He was right among the remaining numbers of the posse, and in the dark they had no way to distinguish him from any other of their crowd. Dakota wisely held his fire, working always towards his objective. He knew that he was taking a long chance of intercepting a slug from the gun of some ranch defender, but he was willing to take the gamble providing he could get at Starbuck.

Long since, the last atom of doubt had been wiped from Dakota's mind regarding just how and where Jigger Starbuck stood in relation to decent interests of the country. Too much damning evidence had been uncovered in the last week or two for him to be mistaken.

The remnants of the posse were beginning to break and give back, despite Starbuck's infuriated orders and cursing wrath. They had come with him in the first place, believing that there would be little resistance to the plans. But here, deadly lead was lashing them from several angles at once. They were being outnumbered by men they could hardly locate, men who held the advantage of concealment and protection.

CROLL TO RETURN TO LAW PRACTICE

David Croll, Ontario Minister of Labor-Welfare and Municipal Affairs until his resignation April 14, has announced he is retiring to the practice of law with his brother, Cecil Croll in Windsor. Since he became a member of the Ontario Cabinet after the 1934 election, Croll has taken no active part in practising his profession.

WORTH WHILE

Is it worth while to get by fraud, The thing you wish to gain, To give up trying by fairer means, Because of the toil and pain? It were better far that it were lost, For what can it profit you, Whatever you get, be it small or great That is gained by ways untrue? Is it worth while when angry and hurt, The unkind word to say? For will you not feel ashamed of it When you come to the close of day? But it's better far to strive and win, And do your best to smile, For a victory over your lower self Is always well worth while. Is it worth while to live for yourself, And only yourself to please? Never to care for another's weal, So long as you are at ease.

SPRY SCHOOL LOG

School Section 15, Rawdon, is located in the north-east corner of the township and includes a few farms in Marmora Township, also. It extends approximately two miles from north to south and three from east to west. Some land originally belonging to this section has been transferred to other sections due to the building of the Bonarlaw and Bateman Schools.

In the Spry Settlement, at the west end of the section, the earliest settlers were chiefly English and settled as farmers. John Spry, who helped survey the township, Thomas Neal, Philip Wilman and Joseph Liberty, a Frenchman, were these pioneers. At the east end United Empire Loyalists, Martin Brownson and Henry Hoover, settled on very rough land and worked in the mines at Marmora, Deloro and Madoc. They cleared land little by little as a sideline.

The land for the old log school was granted to the section by John Spry at the corner west of the present school site. This log school was lighted by a window in each side wall. At either side was a long slanting desk and bench with a small bench in front for the primary pupils, who had no desk on which to write. The box-stove burned cordwood. In spring, floods reached the top step and a pathway of logs and boards had to be built to the road. Big boys, up to twenty-one years of age, attended school in the winter. Miss Lizzie McDade, Miss Squires and Lizzie Bamber taught in the log school.

When the log school burned a half-acre of land was purchased for $5 on January 9th, 1873 from Mr. James Mumby, and his wife Anne, both of whom signed the deed with their mark. The new site on lot seven, concessive thirteen, Rawdon, a quarter of a mile east of the old site, was more central. The trustees at the time were William J. Cooney, Lewis Brownson and Samuel C. Hoover. (This information was obtained from the original deed at the Registry Office, Belleville).

School was held in an old log house, now on Mr. Percy Brownson's farm, during the period when the new school was being built. Miss Kitty Cross was teacher then. The present brick school was built by William J. Cooney. It has three windows at each side and two facing north on either side of the door. The original seats were made of lumber with iron supports, later ones being the ordinary double desks. The floor, which became very uneven, has since been replaced by a hardwood floor. The wooden blackboards have given place to slate boards. The old teachers' desk of terra cotta lumber has been replaced by a modern desks.

Other additions and improvements include a cement footing, 1933; a wire fence next the road, 1934; five single desks, 1934; minimum fifth class agricultural equipment, 1935; a map shelf and five large roller maps, 1936; a drilled well, 1936, and a new stove, 1937. At present a double swing is being erected, the poles being donated by Mr. Elias Spry and other expenses provided from the proceeds of a star autograph quilt made by pupils and friends.

The first teacher in the brick school was Eliza MacAninch, followed by Nellie Spur, Mr. Holmes, a "grand old man", of eighty had a telescope for studying the stars. Minnie Garry was succeeded by Miss Moore, who received $285 salary, the lowest ever paid by the section. Following Minnie Ross in 1885, were Miss Bates, Maud Mack, Hermann MacConnell and Edison MacConnell. From 1896 to 1904 teachers were: Alfred McKewen, Hattie Martin, Carrie Green, Alice Sinclair, Margaret McPhedran, Stanley Trotter, Florence Nelson and Florence Snell. Those from 1904 to 1915 (some names being lacking) are: Lizzie McLaughlin, Thesa Fraser, Mr. Watson, Mr. Yelland, Grace Macdonald, Daisy Thain, Miss Houston, Robert Miller and Hazel Rogers. The following list is from the oldest existing register: E. Kirktown and C. W. Thompson, 1915; B. McQuarrie, 1916; E. Halpeny, 1917-18; B. McLellan, 1918, N. Graham and G. Sanders 1919; O. M. Jones and Miss Haines, 1920; Irene Liddle, 1920-21; H. McKay and Mary Bronson, 1921; L. Bradley, 1922; A. Merle McKenzie, 1923-24; Bertha V. Long and I. Sine, 1924-25; H. Walker, A. Leslie, N. Skeleton and N. Holloman 1925-26; Elsie Smith, 1926-27; E. E. Ross, Katie Robinson and B. E. Vanstone, 1927-28; Minnie Moorcroft, 1928-30; Ruth Lampert, 1930-32; Mrs. Mildred Forneri, 1932-33; Dorothy B. Bennett, 1933-35, and Laura L. Foley, 1935-37.

The inspectors have been Mr. McIntosh, Mr. Minns, Mr. McGuire and Mr. A. A. Martin; the Secretaries, Mr. Joseph Mumby, Mr. Isaac Spry, Mr. Walter Spry and Mr. Isaac Spry again.

Since the earliest days of the brick school it has been a religious as well as educational centre, as the Spry appointment was part of the Marmora circuit in the days of Methodism. Church and Sunday School were held in the school. At present the church services are conducted every second Friday evening by the Springbrook minister.

For information regarding the early days of the settlement the writer, Laura L. Foley, Bonarlaw, Ont., is indebted to Mr. William Spry and Mr. Albert Brownson, Sr., both of whom attended the old log school. Many others have been helpful and any additional information for the permanent record would be appreciated.

NICE NEW LICENSES FOR ORANGE ONES

If the red background of your Ontario motor license plates is turning yellow, don't be afraid to write the government and ask for new ones. J. P. Bickell, provincial registrar of motor vehicles has announced. The Department of Highways will replace fading plates free.

Some motorists complained the red on their licenses is taking on an orange tinge. Others reported the white letters are going pinkish.

THESE THINGS

I love to walk through shady bowers,
To roam beside a rippling brook,
Bareheaded walk in summer showers,
Seeking the thrills of natives book.
I love to watch the dawn of day,
Or sunset heralding the night;
To see the sky, red streaked or grey,
The brilliance of a pale moonlight.
To music of the birds thrill;
The songling of the gentle breeze,
In darkness when the world is still
I hear the singing in the trees.
To climb upon some mountain peak
And see the valley spread beneath.
Some hidden corner, beauty seek
The colouring of natives heath.
For in these things I find my rest;
The quiet voice, that stills my fears,
It fills my soul again with rest,
And wipes away all trace of tears.

As often as you use them we hope you will find pleasure in remembering your old friends. Signed on behalf of the Community — Irene Willis, Hazel Fleming, Dorothy Morgan, Stella Ray. Mr. Wendell Thompson of Toronto University is home for his holidays. Miss Marie Lytle spent the week-end with friends in Toronto. Mr. Thos. Kytte, of Verona, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lytle over the holiday.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Benson entertained Mr. and Mrs. John Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Webb and Miss Hazel Benson, of Belleville. Miss Norma Bronson and Mr. W. Wright of Brampton were quietly married at the United Church parsonage on Monday morning by Rev. W. H. Foley. The bride, who was attended by her sister Miss Josephine Bronson, was becomingly attired in navy tulle with matching accessories, and carrying a beautiful bouquet of white tulips. The groom was ably supported by Mr. Oliver Willis, of Menie. After a short honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Wright will reside in Brampton. During the ceremony the young folk of the village gathered and decorated the car in the usual manner causing a great deal of merriment.

CONTROL OF ONION MAGGOT PESTS

Onion maggot flies usually emerge about the middle of May, and towards the end of the month commence laying their eggs in the soil at the base of the tiny onion seedlings. Control measures, which consist of spraying the young seedlings with an oil emulsion spray at least four times, should be applied without delay, advises the Field Crop and Garden Insects Division, Entomological Branch, Dominion Department of Agriculture. A light to medium lubricating oil of good grade should be chosen and it may be obtained from any of the oil companies or service stations.

To prepare the spray, mix a gallon of Bordeaux mixture by first dissolving two ounces of bluestone in a gallon of water and then adding two ounces of hydrated lime to the solution. Stir and pour into a pail containing a gallon of the oil. By means of a bucket pump or other small sprayer, pump the liquid back upon itself until a perfect emulsion of the oil and Bordeaux is secured, which should take place in about five minutes. It can be tested by pouring a small quantity into water. If no droplets of oil are found on the surface of the water, the mixture is ready for use. If oil is on the surface, agitate the mixture further, and when it is thoroughly emulsified, mix it with 33 gallons of soft water.

The onions should be sprayed at least four times, the first spray being applied as soon as the earliest apple blossoms appear, and the subsequent sprays weekly. In spraying, the whole surface of the ground should be covered as well as the tiny plants. One hundred gallons of spray per acre should be used at each application.

INSIDE FURNACE SAFEST PLACE FOR DODGING LIGHTNING

The furnace is the place to go to be safe from lightning, according to K. B. McEachron, research engineer, addressing the Montreal Electrical Club. Completely surrounded by metal, a human would be safe from a stroke of lightning and, as a rule, the only spot in the home where he, or she, could be so encased, would be inside the furnace, he explained. "This may sound facetious," he said, "but it was the conclusion reached at a conference of electrical engineers." Now that automobile bodies were made of steel they too afforded safety though, he warned, it would be unwise to get out to change a tire. The popular notion that rubber-soled shoes acted as a safeguard was unfounded for "if the lightning has enough power what does a quarter of an inch of rubber amount to?" Mr. McEachron pointed out.

When a thunderstorm bursts the things to avoid are sitting on radiators or on the edge of a bed.

ICED TEA

Iced Tea is a deliciously different cold drink and it is very easily made. Use 6 heaping teaspoons of "Sala-da" Black Tea. Infuse Tea in one pint of freshly boiled water for six minutes. Strain, and pour liquid into a two-quart container. While hot add: 1½ cups of granulated sugar, and juice of two lemons.

Then shake or stir contents well, until sugar is thoroughly dissolved. Fill container with cold water. Do not allow Tea to cool before adding the cold water; otherwise, liquid will become cloudy.

This is now ready to serve in tall glasses with chipped ice or cubes. A slice of lemon may be added if desired. The above will make two quarts of Iced Tea, or 7 tall glasses.

BRITAIN IS TO HAVE COLOURED HIGHWAYS

Britain is experimenting with coloured roads. Moreover, "Coronation" colours are now available as the granite chippings for road surfaces, are for the first time obtainable in red, white, blue and other colours. The chippings are gray granite of Penmaenmawr, in North Wales, and are treated by a colour process. Already there are red roads at Leyton, Dagenham and Ruislip round London.

The possibility of distinctive colours for road markings is also being explored. The British Road Federation suggested recently that pedestrian crossings should be marked by colour, instead of the steel studs which are commonly used at present. It is stated that the studs are a danger to cyclists.

On the London-Oxford road beyond Beaconsfield gray granite is used for inside traffic lanes and pink granite for a middle track for overtaking traffic.

FRANKFORD DRAMATISTS WIN

At the Cobourg Presbytery Young People's Annual Convention held at Cobourg on Thursday night Frankford dramatists were adjudged winners over Stockdale in the finals of the Dramatic Festival.

MAN'S FAITHFUL FRIEND, THE DOG

This is not new or original. It was spoken several years ago by the late U. S. Senator Vest; but it seems appropriate to start it on its rounds again.

"Gentlemen of the jury: 'The best friend a man has in this world may turn against him and become his enemy. His son or daughter that he has reared with loving care may prove ungrateful. Those who are nearest and dearest to us, those whom we trust with our happiness and with our good name, may become traitors to their faith. The money that a man has he may lose. It flies away from him perhaps when he needs it most. A man's reputation may be sacrificed in a moment of ill-considered action. The people who are prone to fall on their knees to do us honour when success is with us may be the first to throw the stone of malice when failure settles its cloud upon our heads. The one absolutely unselfish friend that man can have in this selfish world, the one that never deserts him, the one that never proves ungrateful and treacherous is the dog.

"Gentlemen of the jury: a man's dog stands by him in prosperity and in poverty; in health and in sickness. He will sleep on the cold ground where the wintry winds blow and the snow drifts fiercely, if only he may be near his master's side. He will kiss the hand that has no food to offer, he will lick the wounds and sores that come in encounter with the roughness of the world. He guards the sleep of his pauper master as if he were a prince.

"When all other friends desert he remains. When riches take wings and reputation falls to pieces he is as constant in his love as the sun in its journey through the heavens. If fortune drives the master forth an outcast in the world friendless and homeless, the faithful dog asks no higher privilege than that of accompanying him to guard him against danger, to fight against his enemies, and death takes the master in its embrace and his body is laid away in the cold ground, no matter if all other friends pursue their way, there by his grave side will the noble dog be found, his head between his paws, his eyes sad but open in alert watchfulness, faithful and true even to death."

THE BELLEVILLE MARKET

In spite of the pressure of belated Spring work many farmers took advantage of ideal weather conditions to bring to city shoppers a splendid display of Spring vegetables and flowers on Belleville market, Saturday.

At the peak of its natural production, asparagus reached a new high in quantity but prices remained steady and scarcely changed from those quoted at the beginning of the season. Pound bunches were quoted at fifteen, twenty and twenty-five cents each, according to quality. New spinach was also in evidence and sold well at fifteen cents per six quart basket.

New spring vegetables dominated the outside market with fine quality radishes selling at three bunches for ten cents and six bunches for twenty-five cents. Onions, radishes, green lettuce and other early edibles sold readily at five cents the bunch.

Potatoes were fairly plentiful with prices fluctuating as vendors sought for trade. Top price quoted was $1.75 for the ninety-pound containers with other prices ranging from that quotation down to as low as $1.25. Certified seed potatoes were offered at $2.00 per ninety pounds. Catching the eyes of discerning shoppers was a fine quality of new string beans, with both the yellow and green varieties selling at 15 cents the pound. New Spring cabbage also proved popular moving briskly at prices ranging from five to fifteen cents each.

Contributing to the colour of the market were the many varieties of plants and flowering blooms. Huge bunches of purple lilac selling at 10 cents per half dozen. Trilliums were plentiful and were offered at 5 cents per bunch; single and double petunias at twenty-five and fifteen cents per box; pansies at the same price; Foliage at five cents; potted geraniums at fifteen and twenty cents per pot; woodfern at five and ten cents per pot; zinnias and sweet elysium at fifteen cents per box; Marigolds at the same price and the popular nicotiana plant at fifteen cents the box rounded out a colourful display.

Small spruce sets, fresh from the north woods and popularly used for hedges on city lawns sold well at twenty-five cents per root.

Raspberries, blue and red varieties, averaged two cents each at a number of vendor stalls. Strawberry sets were quoted at thirty-five cents per hundred. Tomato plants ready for field planting were plentiful with prices noting a marked decline from those of a week ago. These were offered at seventy-five cents per hundred with dozen lots going at fifteen cents. Cabbage and onion shoots were quoted at ten cents per dozen and fifty cents per hundred.

Collie puppies added a homelike touch to the market with youthful vendors selling at little fellows at one and two dollars each. Black and white rabbits nibbling peacefully at lettuce leaves were offered at twenty-five cents the pair. Four and five weeks old pigs were plentiful and were offered at prices ranging from three dollars to four dollars and fifty cents each.

In the inside market, Saturday morning shoppers were greeted with a fine display of farm and dairy produce. Eggs generally were offered at eighteen cents the dozen for "A" selects although a majority of vendors sold their stock at nineteen and twenty cents. Ungraded were offered generally at nineteen cents. Young broilers dominated the chicken mart selling at from 75 cents to one dollar per pair. Chickens were offered at from seventy-five cents to as high as $1.25 each. Farmer's butter was quoted at the usual prices of fifty-five cents for two-pound rolls with some vendors selling their stock at thirty-cent per pound.

BOB PATTERSON

FARM AND HOME WEEK AT O.A.C.
JUNE 21 - 25, 1937

Again the Ontario Agricultural College is throwing open its doors for a special week of visits from the farm folks of the Province June 21-25, inclusive, are the days, and the number of visitors should be larger than ever, since the work of the college and Experimental Farm grows in extent and in value from year to year.

Perhaps special interest will centre around the daily livestock parade. Never before has the College had such a fine array of breeding stock, and many farmers will be anxious to see the excellent offspring of such notable College sires as the Clydesdale stallion, "Craigie Realization" and the Shorthorn Bull "Millhills Ransom."

The ninety acres of field crop experiment plots will include some interesting new things, and the magnificent grounds and gardens will be at their best, with hundreds of varieties of roses and other flowering shrubs and trees to be inspected and enjoyed.

Besides these there will be many educational exhibits showing the work of various departments. Visitors will have an opportunity to ask questions of the men in charge of these exhibits and to learn what is being done about mineral deficiency; about improvement of soils and the use of fertilizers; about troublesome pests such as insects and nematodes; about pullorum disease in poultry and the most efficient methods of feeding chicks; about off flavours in butter and the manufacture of blue cheese; and about many other important problems which the College is working on at the present time.

Altogether it will be a great week for the farmers of Ontario and for the College.

Last year more than 16,000 people visited the College during Farm and Home Week and more than 16,000 others at other times during the summer. Already quite a number of groups have been at the College this year and a large number of others are booked for dates other than Farm and Home Week. Thus does the College extend its services to the people of Ontario, and thus do people take advantage of that service. It is too good an opportunity to be missed.

ORDER-IN-COUNCIL AFFECTING CHEESE PASSED

The Ontario Cheese Producers' Marketing Scheme, under The Farm Products Control Act, 1937, was passed on Tuesday by Order-in-Council by the Provincial Cabinet, and becomes effective from this date.

Under the scheme all cheese will be sold through the medium of organized cheese boards. Every cheese buyer will be licensed.

A direct charge or toll of 5c per 100 lbs. of cheese produced will be levied by the Ontario Cheese Producers' Marketing Board, and will be remitted to the Board by the cheese buyer who will deduct it from factory remittances.

PROVINCE TO PAY BILL FOR POLICE UNDER PROTEST

Although he feels the Province should not have to bear the cost, Premier Hepburn has decided to pay the Dominion Government the $2,800 asked for in connection with the Mounted Police sent to Toronto from Ottawa during the Oshawa strike.

In his previous statement on the subject, the Premier charged that the Mounted Police had been given instructions from Ottawa to remain inactive until such time as it appeared that the local and Provincial Police could not handle the situation. The detachment was, therefore, useless, the Premier maintained.

Old Lady Tells Secret of Her Vigor

The writer of the following letter once suffered from rheumatism, headaches, and depression. Then one day a vigorous old lady told her the secret of good health. And now that former sufferer writes to tell others how she obtained relief through Kruschen:—

"Kruschen was recommended to me by an old lady of seventy-two who can dance the Highland Fling — thanks to Kruschen, which she has used for thirty years. She told me to take Kruschen Salts to try and relieve a dull heavy headache from which I suffered nearly every morning on waking. I was also troubled with rheumatism in both shoulders. Kruschen turned the trick. The headache disappeared and so did the rheumatism. I have continued taking Kruschen and intend to keep it up."

(Mrs.) F.B.W.

Kruschen is a combination of mineral salts which assist in stimulating your liver, kidneys and digestive tract to healthy, regular activity. They ensure internal cleanliness, and thus help to keep the blood-stream pure.

EXPECT HEAVY CROP OF HUCKLEBERRIES

Huckleberries will be a fine crop in the "flats" of North Hastings this fall, judging by the extra heavy growth of buds at present observed on the bushes. Favourable winter conditions and plenty of moisture this spring have been factors in promoting heavy growth it is stated.

HASTINGS REGIMENT TO CAMP AT BARRIEFIELD

Announcement was made on Saturday that a military camp will be held at Barriefield for the first time in six years, when from 700 to 800 are expected to attend.

The camp will be held from July 8 to 17 and will be commanded by the District Officer Commanding, Brigadier W. B. Anderson, while Colonel H. J. Smith, of Trenton, will be Brigade Commander. The units to be in camp will be Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, Midland Regiment, Stormont, Grenville and Glengarry Highlanders and 1st Field Ambulance.

ST. PAUL'S W. A.

A large gathering of members and friends of St. Paul's W. A. enjoyed the hospitality at the home of Mrs. N. Morton on Tuesday afternoon. The President, Mrs. C. Macklin, occupied the chair and opened the meeting with the "Theme Song", followed by prayer. The Secretary, Mrs. P. Bronson, read the minutes of the May meeting and same were approved as read. Twenty-four members responded to the roll call. Treasurer's report was given, also the flower bill. All items of business were properly dealt with. Mrs. C. Wright and Mrs. A. E. Good made eleven calls during the month of May. The visiting committee for June are Mrs. A. Martin and Mrs. G. White. Mrs. N. Morton supervised the programme with Mrs. D. A. Burkitt and Mrs. C. Macklin taking the devotional period. Hymn 338 "O Master let me walk with thee" was sung. Mrs. E. Bailey, delegate to Convention at Demorestville, gave a full report which was very interesting. Mrs. F. Jeffrey sang "Was that Somebody you", with Mrs. H. Moore playing the accompaniment. Mrs. J. L. Good took the topic entitled "Beauty" which was very appropriate as it was pertaining to the beauty of Nature which God has so kindly given us to enjoy. Mrs. Pedley and Mrs. Moore gave a piano duet. Hymn 502 "What a Friend we have in Jesus" was the closing number. Lunch was served in the usual manner. Proceeds of lunch $3.50. Mrs. C. F. Linn moved a hearty vote of thanks to the hostess; also to the programme Committee. As the meeting ended all went away feeling it was a very profitable as well as enjoyable afternoon.

REGULATIONS GOVERNING EXPORT CHEESE CHANGED

Cheesemakers of this central district are advised through a communication received at the office of Dominion dairy grader J. L. Irwin, that Regulation 13, section D, under Part 2 of the Dairy Industry Act has been rescinded and the following substituted therefore:

(1) No person shall place in boxes within eight days from date of manufacture, any cheese destined for export.

(2) No grader shall grade any cheese until in his judgment it is sufficiently mature to permit of the quality being properly determined.

"The above sections of Regulation 13 are now in effect and all cheese destined for export must be held in the curing room for at least eight days after removal from the press before being placed in the boxes," the communication adds.

MRS. ELIZABETH BRYAN

The death occurred at Green Bank on Friday last of Mrs. Elizabeth Bryan, mother of Mrs. Frank Woodbeck, of Stirling. Mrs. Woodbeck had been called to her mother's bedside the week prior to her death and was joined on Thursday by Mr. Woodbeck. The funeral was held on Sunday and was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Woodbeck and Mr. Burton Woodbeck of Stirling, with whom Mr. and Mrs. Frank Woodbeck returned home.

GEO. F. COOK IS NEW PRESIDENT

F. R. Mallory, Stirling, Re-Elected Secretary for 15th Term

At the annual meeting of the Belleville Cheese Board held on Saturday morning, Mr. Geo. F. Cook, West Huntingdon, was the unanimous choice for president of the organization for the ensuing year.

The election of Mr. Cook followed the nomination of Mr. Mitz as president, who, however, asked the privilege of withdrawing his name.

Mr. Cook will be assisted by the following officers during the current term:

Third vice-president — W. H. Bell, Consocon.

Secretary-Treasurer — F. R. Mallory.

Auditors — Chas. Mumby and Frank Wessels.

Previous to the election of officers Mr. W. C. Morrow, president of the Board for the past two years, voiced the pleasure it had been for him to be able to head that body during part of its strenuous latter years.

With the Board now in good position and circumstances, Mr. Morrow requested that his name be not advanced for re-election. A vote of thanks for his capable management of the Board during his term as president, was voiced by Mr. James Cook, in the form of an official motion, which was seconded by Mr. Chas. Fraleigh. Appreciation for the efforts of Mr. Morrow on behalf of the Board was also expressed by Mr. W. R. McCreary.

The auditor's report presented by Mr. Frank Wessels revealed a standing balance of $55.25 to date. Receipts during the year were $138.66 and expenditures listed at $83.40.

Although an effort was made by buyer James Cook to find out and list the names of cheese factories making free deliveries to Belleville after sales have been made, the matter of transportation from factory to the city will be one alone in which buyer and factory are directly concerned. No motion could be passed upon the board making necessary the posting of this information, it was intimated.

COURT OF REVISION

Members of Stirling Council will meet in the Council Chambers next Monday night as a Court of Revision, when a number of appeals against the Assessment Roll will be heard.

ATTEND EXERCISES

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Richardson, Miss Ruby Richardson, Mrs. Edgar Matthews and Miss Marybelle Rogers attended the graduation exercises for nurses at Nichols Hospital, which were held on Monday night at the Collegiate Auditorium, Peterboro.

BOWLERS AT KINGSTON

Messrs Thos. W. Solmes and W. J. Whitty and Dr. E. A. Carleton, of Stirling, and Dr. H. Carleton, of Norwood, were in Kingston on Wednesday attending the doubles tournament under the auspices of the Kingston Lawn Bowling Club. Whitty and Solmes reached the semi-finals, but were eliminated by Higgins and Greig, of Campbellford, who later were defeated by a Kingston rink. The Carleton rink failed to gain the charmed circle.

LISTS CORRECTED

With the Stirling Good-Will Club Competition ended, the Mailing Lists of the News-Argus have been corrected up to date. Please look at your label now, and notify us at once if the date thereon is not correct, according to your receipt. While a great many of our subscribers paid up during the campaign, there are still some who have failed to remit which we owe us and we would greatly appreciate their prompt attention to this matter. KENNETH SARGENT IS FATALLY INJURED ON TUESDAY

Tragedy struck this village with startling suddenness on Tuesday morning about 11.45, when Kenneth Sargent, of St. Ola, an employee at the garage of J. F. Woodbeck & Son, was instantly killed by a tractor falling upon him. The unfortunate victim had been repairing the tractor and had taken it out for a test. While attempting to turn the machine around on Charlotte St., just a few yards west of the garage, he apparently lost control of the tractor and the front wheels mounted the sidewalk in front of Mr. Carl Conley's residence, and toppled backwards, pinning the driver beneath it. Eyewitnesses of the accident were Mrs. Price, who was sitting on the veranda of the home of her daughter, Mrs. Carl Conley, and Russell Woodbeck, who was standing at the well on the Matthews property. The latter rushed to the scene and along with his father, J. F. Woodbeck, N. E. Eggleston and Alex McCrory, succeeded in lifting the tractor sufficiently to permit H. Morton to remove the victim. Dr. J. S. Demorest, coroner, Dr. H. H. Alger and Dr. W. H. Pedley, were summoned, but Sargent was beyond help, being killed instantly. The body was removed to a local undertaking parlor. Chief Coroner Dr. J. J. Robertson and Sgt. Harry Thompson, of Belleville, visited the scene and decided an inquest would not be necessary.

Coming to Stirling ten years ago, the young man has been employed by J. F. Woodbeck & Son for the past eight years. Of a retiring though kindly nature, he was held in high regard in the community, and his sudden death was a distinct shock to all who knew him. Through his connection with the many customers to whom he daily gave of his services, as well as many other residents of the community, he had a host of friends who knew and enjoyed his companionship. "Ken" as he was popularly known, will long be remembered as one who always gave his best in his efforts to be of service.

Deceased was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Morley Sargent of St. Ola, and was twenty-six years of age. Left to survive, besides his parents, are four sisters, Mrs. Lawrence Conley, of Stirling, with whom he made his home; Miss Mortena Sargent, of Trenton; Mrs. Wm. Baker, St. Ola, and Miss Dorothy Sargent at home.

The funeral was held this morning at 11.30, with Rev. W. J. Scott, pastor of St. Paul's United Church, in charge. The bearers were Earl Green, Jack Lummis, Harold West, Burton Woodbeck, Noelton Wright and Art Sheridan. Interment was made at St. Ola.

BASEBALL NOTES

Two games were played in the Town Baseball League during the past week. On Thursday night Sid Williams' Tigers defeated the Gas House boys led by Frank Butler, to the tune of 12 to 3. The Tigers had their batting tops on and Long, on the mound for the Gas boys, was unable to hold them in check, giving up two runs in the first, five in the second, two in the fourth and three in the fifth. The losers' nicked Ryckman for two runs in the second and one in the fifth.

On Monday night Bailey's Yankees defeated the Tigers by a score of 12 to 6.

ESCAPED SERIOUS INJURY

Four occupants of a Durant Sedan miraculously escaped possible fatal injuries when the car in which they were riding took the ditch on Highway No. 14, near Harold, Ontario, on Sunday about noon. The automobile was proceeding south on the highway, and when a tire dropped off went out of control and turned upside down in the ditch. Occupants in the car were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Horton and daughter, Miss Ethel Horton and Miss F. Leal, of Deloro, all of whom were badly shaken up, with Mrs. Horton suffering an injured back. Constable S. Eggleston investigated the accident and the car, which was a total wreck, was towed to a local garage.

COUNCIL MET MONDAY NIGHT

Permission Granted Orangemen To Hold Parade and Street Dance

Stirling Village Council held its regular meeting in the Council Chambers on Monday night with Reeve T. Cranston in the chair and Councillors Rollins, Stapley, Whitehead and Burdett in attendance.

Following the adoption of the minutes of previous meetings, Clerk Laury presented the report of the Stirling Hydro-Electric System for the past year, together with a communication from E. G. Bailey seeking tax exemption on the property known as the Old Town Hall, because of its being used as a place of worship. On motion of Rollins and Whitehead these were received and filed.

The following accounts were presented for payment after being passed by the various committees:

Fox and Anderson, $14.90; N. E. Eggleston, $1.95; W. Wright, $5.20; Hydro-Electric System, $185.55; Stirling Waterworks, $124.20; W. Mosher, .75; Fred McCutcheon, $27.55; Amos Leach, $7.25; H. S. Langdon, $1.75; Archie McGee, $7.00; Fred McDonnell, $6.00; Munro Bros, $27.98; Roofers Supply Co., $263.38; Norman Sine, $4.65; Wilfrid Scott, $4.65; A. Munro, $11.00; Basil Robinson, $31.25; Arthur Keegan, $39.65; Geo. Keegan, $14.90; Munro Bros, $12.00; Fred McKee, $23.98; Burton Woodbeck, $1.25; E. G. Bailey, .60; Geo. Belshaw, $1.80; William Chambers, .90; R. A. Patterson, $5.00; News-Argus, $26.64.

Mr. C. A. Wells headed a deputation from the Stirling Baseball Club seeking the use of the Village grader and Council's co-operation in getting the hay cut on the diamond. It was claimed.

GAVE SHOWER

The home of Mrs. Annie Bailey, Stirling, was the scene of a very pleasant event on Thursday evening last, when Miss Nina Carlisle gave a pre-nuptial cup and saucer shower for Miss Margaret Simpson. About twelve of the girl friends of the coming bride were present and an enjoyable time was had in playing numerous games. During the evening Miss Simpson was the recipient of numerous gifts and an illuminated address, which was read by Miss Carlisle. The serving of a dainty lunch brought the evening to a close.

DESCRIBE TRIP TO JASPER PARK

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Morrow Pay Visit To Canada's Playground

A vivid description of the extent and beauty of Jasper National Park, in Alberta, is given in a letter received by Mr. Harry Morrow, of Stirling, from his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Morrow, who are enjoying a trip through the Western States and Western Canada. In the letter they write: Dear Harry and Kenneth,—

Just a letter to tell you what we have seen today at Jasper National Park.

Arrived at 1.40 p.m., May 29th, got our rooms and have had a motor tour of all the important places here. From our room facing the west is the view have seen several light frosts on low lands, but no damage has been reported. The acreage of canning tomatoes under contract shows an increase of 40 per cent. The acreage of asparagus, early roots, early cabbage, lettuce and early potatoes is expected to show a slight gain over last year. Commercial table stock turnip acreage will show an estimated increase of 25% over 1936 as a result of the improvement in export demand.

Eastern Ontario — Seeding generally has been considerably delayed by wet weather, although in the Ottawa valley, it is a region of tremendous distances, of rushing rivers, high waterfalls and deep canyons, yet a region too of beautiful valleys and thick forests of large and beautiful lakes as sparkling and brilliant in colour as jewels. Within its boundaries, thousands of wild creatures roam, unmolested, learning a new relationship with man. The park area extends

BARN BURNED

A fine large barn on the farm of Mr. Lewis Wilson, of Harold, Ont., was totally destroyed by fire on Tuesday night about nine o'clock. The fire, the cause of which is unknown, had gained considerable headway before it was noticed, and nothing could be done to save the building. A few hens also perished in the blaze. The barn, built only a few years ago to replace one also destroyed by fire, was modernly equipped in every respect, and was known as one of the finest farm buildings in the community.

COMMITTEES FORMED AS FAIR BOARD MEETS

GROUNDS WILL BE CLEANED — CANVASSERS APPOINTED

Although it is still several months before Stirling's Annual Fair, the 1937 directors, under the presidency of J. B. Thompson, are laying their plans for making this year's Fair one of the best in the history of the Society.

In connection with the Field Cup Competition in Barley, Secretary Mallory explained that while he had been assured of some seventeen entries, the late season had made it impossible for some to enter and to date only seven had filled out the necessary applications. It was necessary to have ten entries in order to have a

The question of cleaning up the Fair Grounds for the use of the Orangemen on the 14th of July was brought up and the Property Committee were authorized to make whatever arrangements were necessary, and then call a bee to do the work.

A committee, composed of Messrs Wm. Fitchett and Thos. Montgomery Sr., was named to canvass the town for cash donations and special prizes, while Messrs Jos. Williams and F. R. Mallory were assigned the duty of canvassing outside organizations for specials.

Those present at the meeting were: Messrs Wm. Patterson, Henry Farrell, H. R. Tompkins, E. J. Pyear, Wm. Fitchett, Chas. F. Linn, Gilbert Thompson, Thos. Solmes, C. M. Sine, H. P. Ellis, F. R. Mallory and J. B. Thompson.

WINS AWARD

Included in the list of nurses graduating from the Nicols Hospital Training School, Peterborough, at the annual graduation exercises held on Monday was Miss Mildred Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Richardson, of Stirling. In addition to receiving her diploma, Miss Richardson won the second prize in general proficiency, amounting to $15.00, awarded by the Trustee Board of the Hospital.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

The summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wright, at Oak Lake, was the scene of a happy gathering on Wednesday afternoon, when seventeen girl friends of Miss Katherine Wright were entertained at a party celebrating her eleventh birthday. The afternoon was spent in games, swimming, dancing and community singing. Dainty refreshments were served including a birthday cake, upon which eleven candles had been mounted. Those in attendance were Misses Betty Beacock, Evelyn West, Lee Conley, Shirley Francis, Shirley Ormiston, Aletta Conley, June Conley, Phyllis Vance, Milly and Mary Morrison, Marybelle Rodgers, Muriel Gibson, Margaret Ann McGuire, Helen Hick, Iris Bastedo, Jean Salisbury and Doris Jandrew.

TALL RYE

Despite the late spring, there has been an abundant growth in this section. On Monday Mr. Russell Rupert, who resides on the Campbellford road, brought to the News-Argus several stalks of fall rye measuring six feet six inches in height, which were grown on the farm which he has rented from Mrs. Geo. Green. The grain has not commenced to fill yet and there is no doubt but that it will grow to a considerably greater height before it is harvested.

PRESENTED PLAY AT ST. ANDREW'S

Campbellford Troupe, Directed by Mr. Chas. Allen Give Pleasing Performance

On Thursday evening, June 3rd, a play under the direction of Chas. E. Allen was presented in the basement of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church to a very large audience. Mr. Allen and his troupe from St. Andrew's Church, Campbellford, certainly excelled themselves in their presentation of the three-act farce entitled "Calm Yourself". The audience was delighted by the wit and humour of the play.

In the absence of Rev. J. A. Koffend, Mr. H. Rollins extended the greetings of the visitors on behalf of the Ladies' Aid and the congregation and called upon Rev. B. D. Black, pastor of St. Andrew's, Campbellford, to act as chairman for the evening. Mr. Black expressed the pleasure of his company in being privileged to visit Stirling and explained the nature of the play to be very light comedy. By his genial manner he created a very wholesome atmosphere for the staging of the play.

Between acts musical numbers were received. Mrs. F. H. MacMillan and Mrs. R. McGee sang vocal duets and Mr. Bates played a number of piano solos. Each of these were very much appreciated.

The play itself, a three-act farce comedy, centred in the home of Mr. Fred Smithie (Fred Roe) on an evening when Fred planned he was going to have a nice quiet evening without company. As the play opens he is awakened from a snooze by Barbara Hanson who is a friend of the family and whose three husbands have all deserted her. Barbara informs Fred that his socially-ambitious wife (Hazel Atkinson) is to have company for the evening meal. Fred is highly displeased. His wife, Fannie, enters in a state of extreme excitement as Harold Ainsworth, famous artist with the same name as an old bean of hers, is invited to dinner. Harold is taken by Wallace Rutherford. The Wonders George and Mrs. George (Earl Stephens and Charlie Allen) arrive and the eighteen or nineteen-year old Lucy Smithie (Geraldine McMullen) appears on the stage before the famous Mr. Ainsworth is ushered in. Evans, the maid (Marion McArthur) brings Mr. Ainsworth to the parlour where Fred is waiting dinner. Fred insists him, telling him that dinner isn't ready yet and that he might as well sit down and wait. The rest of the cast gradually wander to the stage and Evans announces dinner. Each of the women create much amusement as she tries to sit on the Chesterfield with the visitor, the widow Hanson being the fortunate one in being able to enter the dining room with the artist.

The second act opens as Jack Bird, (Malcolm McKinnie) who plans to elope with Lucy, enters and hides behind the Chesterfield. Fred enters, followed by Ainsworth, who wants to get away from the crowd for a quiet game of checkers. Fred heartily agrees to the latter plan but insists that Ainsworth give the women a dose of their own medicine by making violent love to all three, leaving them flat, thereby discouraging the business of asking every celebrity who visits the town to the house.

Jack Bird is discovered behind the Chesterfield and is promptly put out by the pair, with orders not to return on penalty of the police. He declares in leaving that he will return for Lucy. Fred does not appreciate his remarks and informs him that he shall

TRY THE SIDE ROADS

Leisurely travel throughout the surrounding district will well repay motorists at this time of year. The frequent rains and the warm weather have been a boon to the crops and the whole countryside presents a pleasing appearance. Keeping to side roads is one way to avoid the ever-present hazards of the main roads with their fast-moving passenger cars, buses and transports. On these side roads the scenery is even better than that on the main roads and driving is more of a pleasure. Try the side roads on your next outing.

DOGS TO BE CONTROLLED

After numerous complaints having been received of dogs destroying flower beds and otherwise making themselves a general nuisance in the Village, Stirling Council has decided to take action to control the running at large of these canines during certain months of the year. At Monday night's Council meeting notice of motion of the introduction of a by-law was given and the next Council meeting will see definite action taken. The trouble does not appear to be with the dog that occasionally wanders away from his home surroundings, but some owners pay no attention to their pets and allow them to run the streets continually. One prominent citizen informed us this week that it was almost impossible to grow a flower or shrub about his residence due to these roving animals and felt something should be done to stop this nuisance. Several municipalities in the district make it an offence to allow a dog to roam at large during the summer months and find the plan works to good advantage.

TOO FAST FOR TOWNS

The recent change in the Highways Act permitting a speed of thirty miles per hour through urban communities is meeting with considerable opposition in certain municipalities. According to the Prescott Journal, the Council of the town on the St. Lawrence where "highways, waterways and railways meet", has decided to stand by its former limit of twenty miles per hour on Highway No. 2 passing through the town. A by-law is to be introduced to this effect at the next meeting of Council and authority will be sought from the Department of Highways to hold the old level. The opinion is that the lower speed is ample through the main street of the town and any higher rate will only increase the danger of serious injury to the citizens. The success of the appeal by Prescott to the Department will be watched with interest as what applies in its case is applicable to many other municipalities situated on Provincial Highways. Stirling has two highways meeting in the centre of its business section and there is no one but who will admit that thirty miles an hour is too fast through this man's town.

STERN MEASURES TAKEN

In spite of all that has been said in these columns and all the efforts of the Village Council to impress upon the citizens the necessity of having their refuse taken to the dump at the western limits of the Village, there are some persons who persist in throwing offending matter in other sections of the town. At Monday's Council meeting a complaint was voiced concerning a load of refuse which had been thrown on a street running west from Henry street. There is nothing different about this load of refuse than many others that have been thrown in the same place at other times, but it so happens that the name of the party dumping this particular load is known. Council decided that unless the offending refuse was removed at once, action would be taken, and Constable Eggleton has been notified to see that it is done. People who do this sort of thing show a lack of the least resemblance of civic pride and the Council is to be commended for taking immediate action to have the parties responsible remove the refuse or suffer the consequences. Perhaps the adoption of sterner measures will have the desired effect.

WHAT ARE THE FACTS?

That is the fundamental question upon which business depends. Opinions and beliefs are all right in their place, but have no place in business operations unless they have facts to support them. Theories and theorists get scant attention in this or any other well conducted business, unless they fit in with every known fact. The best theory in the world falls down in the presence of a single proved fact which does not fit in. It is the theory which has to give way, not the fact, when the two find themselves in conflict. Government, unfortunately, is seldom or never conducted on that basis. Government does not have to show a profit from operations. It is Government's function to spend money, not to earn it. Indeed it would arouse considerable public indignation if any Government in this country engaged, in any important way, in operations for profit. So long as income flows freely from taxpayers, the Government is primarily a spending institution. There is, however, a duty too often overlooked, to the sources of the money Government spends. The taxpayer is, as Professor Sumner long ago pointed out, the "forgotten man". On his behalf, it would seem but fair that Government, before scattering tax money too lavishly, should enquire: "What are the facts?"

LIBRARY REPORT

the list of books bor- Stirling Public Lib- nth of May, as tabulat-

In June of each year an annual survey of the crops and livestock is made by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The survey is made in co-operation with the provincial Department of Agriculture and records are compiled from cardboard schedules which are distributed to the farmers to fill in. The averages of field crops in particular are the real foundation of the scheme of agricultural production statistics, while the obtaining of correct knowledge of the numbers of livestock on farms is only slightly less important. The accuracy of the statistics is dependent on the farmers completely filling out the cards, and the farmers of Stirling district are urged to co-operate with the Bureau in making complete and accurate returns.

Ball fans who fail to attend the games being staged in the town League on the school grounds on Monday and Thursday evenings of each week are missing some good entertainment. The three teams are evenly matched, each having won one game so far, and while the class of ball being played does not compare with that one would see in larger centres, the boys are showing plenty of enthusiasm and many who may be considered in the rookie class, are coming along fast, and we venture the opinion that before the season is over some fine ball players will be developed. Why not take a stroll over to the ball park on Thursday and Monday nights where you will get plenty of entertainment as well as encourage the youth of the village in their play.

The announcement by Premier Hepburn that compulsory hospitalization for persons found suffering from tuberculosis is planned by the Ontario Government will meet with the favour of citizens as a whole. Tuberculosis causes more deaths over a period of years than any other communicable disease and it is imperative that steps should be taken at once if the disease is to be brought under control. It has been found that many sufferers discovered by travelling clinics have failed to take the necessary treatment and have not only become worse themselves but have spread the disease to others. It is to overcome this condition of affairs that the government is planning to make treatment compulsory and this action in the interests of the public health of the province is to be commended.

Cheese continues to maintain a good price on the Belleville Cheese Board, with last week's offering being sold at 14¢ and 14 1/2¢. But we note that many cheese board sales throughout the province were at a higher price, with Campbellford showing the top price of 15¢ for the entire offering. There was a time when the Belleville Board, on which the factories of this district sell their output, was held up as an example for the eastern part of the province, but the last couple of years things have been different and better prices have been paid frequently on some of the smaller boards. This is something that requires some explanation. For several years this district has headed the province for production of first grade cheese, so the trouble apparently cannot be with the quality. Whatever the reason, farmers of this section would like to know it. And after all, who can blame them?

What Others Say

Y' BET THEY SEE IT

(Renfrew Mercury)

It is an amusing thing to the news-writer on a newspaper when they hear somebody suggest that they would like to have an item or an advertisement in the paper "where people will see it." The news-writers know that people see every item in the paper and every ad. People see a "3" when it should be a "5" and they see every wrong initial, every mis-spelled name and every omission of items they expect to see. "Where people will see it?" There is no place you can put anything in the country newspaper that people will not see it.

SAVING THE WILD THINGS

(Elmira Signet)

There is an old maxim which says, in effect, that it is idle to lock the stable door after the horse has vanished. It contains a great deal of wisdom when applied to our wild life. Conservation is an attempt to lock the stable door, metaphorically speaking, while the contents are still intact. In other words, it is an effort to protect the resources which are available today in anticipation of the needs of tomorrow. It is this concern about the future which makes the conservation movement so important. Conservation and sportsmanship should, if not already, be closely allied.

THE LOBBY FEARED

(Petrolia Advertiser-Topic)

Food for thought is given those of us who have been demanding a reduction in the number of members in the Legislature, by the experience of the State of Nebraska. Last January it will be recalled, this State inaugurated the first session of a unicameral Legislature, i.e., one House of 43 members instead of two of 133 members. Nebraska's legislation voted overwhelmingly last week against a return of the two-chamber system, but it is significant that the session's outstanding member, Charles Dafeo, fourth cousin of Dr. Allan Dafeo, of Ontario quintuplet fame, remarked: "It remains to be seen whether or not a small membership will be more susceptible to lobbying by special interests. I believe it may be desirable in future to increase the membership."

THINGS WE NEVER KNEW BEFORE

(Cobourg Sentinel-Star)

While we attempt to keep up with changes in legislation as they are made from time to time, it is not uncommon for us to find that we have overlooked some item of importance. We believe we are not alone in this, and feel that more publicity should be given by the Legislature to the amendments that are enacted as in the courts "ignorance of the law is no defence." To cite an example, at a recent meeting in Cobourg, Inspector Lionel Bishop of the Fire Marshall's Department recently stated that drivers of trucks and automobiles who leave their engines running while the fuel tank is being filled are liable to a fine of $100. We understand that this regulation was put through at the instigation of the Fire Marshall in an effort to cut down the number of explosions and fires occurring around service stations. When Inspector Bishop made his statement surprise was general among members of the fire brigade who were unaware that such a law had been passed. Inspector Bishop stated that one company had issued orders that any of its drivers disobeying the regulation would be fired without further ado. While some may know of the new regulation we believe it would be to the advantage of all if the government gave more publicity of new legislation.

Acquainted

The vicar had just returned from a visit abroad, and a big crowd of his parishioners had collected in the schoolroom to meet him. Beaming with pleasure, the vicar got up to speak to the people.

"My dear friends," he started. "I will not call you ladies and gentlemen, because I know you too well."

After the Party

Wife: "I suppose you realize what you did at the Joneses?"

Husband: "No; but I agree with you that it was wrong. Just what was it?"

Constant Renewals

"You say you've had that hat for 10 years? Why it looks like new."

"Well, perhaps it's because I've had it cleaned four times, and exchanged it in restaurants six times."

String-Puller

"A man went to a summer resort hotel on the New Jersey coast and signed up to stay ten weeks. After a few days he approached the proprietor and said:

"I can't stand it here any longer. The fish you had on Friday was not fit for a cat, and the meat you had on Sunday was not fit for a dog. And besides, the portions were altogether too small."

Farmer Fuddlemuch: "Yep, we've got all the new-fangled machinery there is. Our latest buy was two milking machines."

City Miss: "How interesting. But tell me, do they really give as good milk as the cows?"

Two coloured men were up before the judge in police court for speeding in their ramshackle auto.

"Have you a lawyer?" asked the judge.

"Naw, suh," replied the spokesman.

"We has decided to tell de truth!"

"It's easy to see how that fellow gets a living — he's always pulling strings."

"Indeed?"

"Yes — he's a harpist."

 The Better Part

"With your ready speech," remarked a young minister to Dr. Andrew Thompson, "I wonder why you spend so much time on your sermons. Many of the time I've written a sermon and caught a salmon before breakfast."

"Well," replied Dr. Thompson, "all I can say is, I'd rather have eaten your salmon than listened to your sermon."

Of course I love my little farm — But then, why can't the ducks Stop running out beneath the fence And right in front of trucks?

Of course I love my little farm — But hay is so hard-headed; It's never ready to bring in Until the rains have started.

Of course I love my little farm — But, weeds are weeds, you know; And they are smarter than the beans At learning how to grow!

Of course I love my little farm — But, I'm not sure, you see, By the way it acts sometimes That Little Farm loves me!

The painter and his new apprentice were at work in the museum. He shouted an order to his assistant in the basement and was surprised when the boy returned and handed him a stuffed bird. "What on earth's this?" he bellowed.

"It's the sandpiper you wanted," replied the boy.

Customer: "I've come back to buy the car I was looking at yesterday."

Salesman: "Fine. Now tell me, what was the one dominating thing that made you decide to buy this car?"

Customer: "My wife."

NEWS OF INTEREST FOR BUSY FARMERS

Early sweet corn brings the best price, hence the importance of planting as soon as possible. Successional sowings made at intervals of ten days in the same field are a good way to get early corn. Should the first planting succeed the second or third plantings may be hoed out, or if the first planting be killed by frost the third or fourth planting may develop unhampered.

Possibly one of the most satisfactory implements for the control of weeds in a growing grain crop is what is known as the finger weeder. This implement consists of a series of long slender teeth which form a very light harrow. The finger weeder may be used to advantage on annual weeds, shortly after germination, both before and after the grain crop has emerged and until the crop is some two to four inches high.

Spring seeding is about completed in most districts, although in some areas excessive moisture has retarded the program. This is particularly the case where the soil is low or clay in nature.

A report from Perth states that one prominent beef farmer who feeds two or more carloads of cattle, brought in Western Hereford steers at 4c a lb., averaging 740 lbs. in weight and sold them at 7c a pound, weighing over an average of 1100 lbs. This shipment of cattle which brought in $4,000 was fed on the grain and hay grown on a 100-acre farm.

Summary of Vegetable Prospects

Western Ontario — Variable, cool, wet weather, retarded somewhat the preparation of soil and seeding, depending upon locality and drainage facilities. As a result growth at the present time is a week or ten days later than normal, but roots are developing well and with a few warm days top growth would be rapid. Moisture conditions are excellent. There have been several light frosts on low lands, but no damage has been reported. The acreage of canning tomatoes under contract shows an increase of 40 per cent. The acreage of asparagus, early roots, early cabbage, lettuce and early potatoes is expected to show a slight gain over last year. Commercial table stock turnip acreage will show an estimated increase of 25% over 1936 as a result of the improvement in export demand.

Eastern Ontario — Seeding generally has been considerably delayed by wet weather, although in the Ottawa district almost all of the seeding intended to be sown up to the present time has been done. In Northumberland and Prince Edward counties a considerable amount of seeding was done on light soils during four warm days at the beginning of May. On heavy soils along the lake front from Toronto east, practically no seeding of vegetables has been done. In Peel and York counties weather conditions have been favourable for seeding on sandy land, but frequent rains have prevented seeding on heavy and black soils. Correspondents state there will be a large increase in the acreage devoted to canning crops such as tomatoes, peas, and corn, as there are a number of new canning factories opening in Eastern Ontario this year.

It is very necessary that late chicks be raised on clean ground. Disease is more likely to hit the late ones, because of the fact that they get out on the ground younger and range farther than do the early broods.

To keep them from trouble with coccidiosis and worms, see that the chicks are kept free from the contamination of the earlier broods and also from the laying flocks. Keep the birds in clean quarters and on clean ground, and you are giving your chicks a chance to make a normal, steady growth throughout the summer.

Late chicks must be fed well; they cannot rough it during the summer months if they are to make sufficient growth to bring them into lay in time to get fall or winter eggs. It takes a well balanced diet to produce proper framework and growth.

Egg size is affected by inheritance, but it also is affected by the feeding programme. Size of egg is directly influenced by the growth the pullets make. Maximum growth must be obtained before the short days arrive. Place extra mash hoppers in the shade on the range and give the birds plenty of fresh clean drinking water.

If the chick range is covered with a crop of alfalfa, it would help materially in rounding out these growing chicks and in turning them into profitable layers. It would provide shade as well as food and would be a factor in making these chicks more comfortable during the hot weather.

Farm and Home Week at O. A. C., June 21 — 25

Again the Ontario Agricultural College is throwing open its doors for a special week of visits from the farm folks of the province. June 21-25, inclusive are the days and the number of visitors should be larger than ever, since the work of the College and the Experimental Farm grows in extent and in value from year to year.

Perhaps special interest will centre around the daily livestock parade. Never before has the College had such a fine array of breeding stock, and many farmers will be anxious to see the excellent offspring of such notable College sires as the Cyldestale stallion "Craigie Realization", and the Shorthorn bull, "Millhill Ransom."

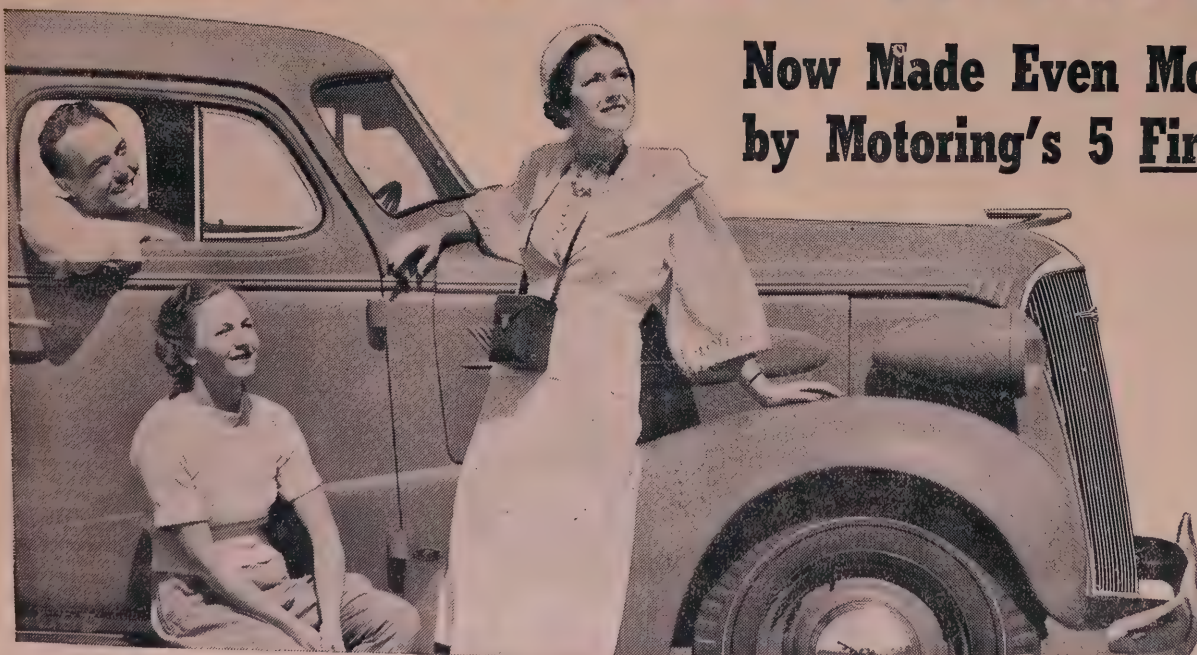

The ninety acres of field crop experiment plots will include some interesting new things and the magnificent grounds and gardens will be at their best, with hundreds of varieties of roses and other flowering shrubs and trees to be inspected and enjoyed.

Besides these there will be many educational exhibits showing the work of various departments. Visitors will have an opportunity to ask questions of the men in charge of these exhibits, and to learn what is being done about mineral deficiency; about improvements of soils and the use of fertilizers; about troublesome pests such as insects and nematodes; about pullorum disease in poultry and the most efficient methods of feeding chicks; about off-flavours in butter and the manufacture of blue cheese; and about many other important problems which the College is working on at the present time.

Last year more than 16,000 people visited the College during Farm and Home Week, and more than 16,000 others at other times during the summer. Already quite a number of others are booked for dates other than Farm and Home Week. Thus does the College extend its services to the people of Ontario and thus do the people take advantage of that service. It is too good an opportunity to be missed.

Mrs. Arthur Phillips contributed a reading. Miss Phyllis David delighted with an instrumental number and Miss Muriel Milligan staged two games.

Mrs. Edgar McKeown received word of the death of her aunt, Mrs. James Stewart, of Estevan, Sask. The body will arrive on Tuesday, June 8th, at the home of Mr. John Stewart, 9th Concession, Rawdon, where the funeral will be held on Wednesday afternoon, with interment in Burnbrae cemetery.

Mrs. Ernest Honey, Myrtle Station, spent a few days with her sisters, Mrs. John Reid and Mrs. Robert Sharp, while Rev. Honey attended Conference at Smiths Falls.

Miss Muriel Milligan, who has been a very efficient teacher at the Allan school, S.S. No. 3, for the past four years, has severed her connection and accepted a position as Senior teacher in Foxboro Public School. Her many friends regret her departure, as she has willingly helped with all church and community affairs.

On Sunday afternoon, it being Conference Sunday, the Young People's Society had charge of the Sunday Service at Mount Pleasant. Mr. Arthur Duncan, of Stirling, was guest speaker, and urged everyone present to consider their duty to their own church and put the activities of their own church first. By means of illustrations he gave a graphic thumbnail sketch of the entire Scriptures, which was very interesting and beneficial. At the close he rendered "Jesus Lover of My Soul" with Miss Elsie Kerr as accompanist. During the service Miss Edna Thrasher presided at the piano, and all rendered Faith of our Fathers. Mr. Irvin Reid offered prayer and Mr. Bert Jeffs read the Bible lesson.

On Friday evening, June 4th, a number of Mount Pleasant folk journeyed to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Johnson, Salem, and gave Mr. Johnson a pleasant surprise party on the occasion of his sixtieth birthday. The happy event was arranged by Mrs. Johnson and was a complete surprise to her husband, as he was preparing for bed when the company arrived. During the evening vocal solos were given by Misses Edna Thrasher, Lois McAdam and Gladys Summers. Mrs. James Sharp gave an oral address and Mrs. Wilbert Hagerman presented Mr. Johnson with a leather-bound Bible, on behalf of the group assembled. At the close all enjoyed a delicious lunch topped off with birthday cake. As it was also the occasion of Billy McAdam's birthday, he shared the honour of blowing out the candles. The guests, numbering about forty, included Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thrasher and Edna, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Summers, Eric and Gladys, Mrs. E. Summers, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Sharp, Mr. and Mrs. Earle McAdam, Harry, Vera, Douglas, Billy and Lois; Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hagerman and Harold, Mount Pleasant; Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Donnan and sons, Ridge Road; Mr. and Mrs. Melville Donnan and family, West Huntingdon; Mr. and Mrs. Boulter Johnson, James, Lorne and Mae. SIT DOWN STRIKE IN MUNRO FACTORY AT NORWOOD

In common with other centres of industry throughout Canada and the United States and other countries, Norwood experienced a "sit down" strike on Monday morning when employees of the Cheese Box factory operated by Munro Bros. of Stirling struck for higher wages. An increase of 10 cents per day was promised before work was resumed. — Norwood Register.

GREENLEY — SIMPSON

The marriage of Miss Margaret Ann Simpson, of Stirling, daughter of Mr. J. Simpson and the late Mrs. Simpson, of Seely's Bay, to Mr. Joseph Greenley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Greenley, of Warkworth, Ont., was solemnized at the home of Rev. E. W. Rowland, Peterboro, on Monday.

The bride was gowned in pale blue triple sheer crepe, with white accessories, and was attended by Miss Nina Carlisle, of Stirling, who wore pale yellow crepe with white trimmings. Mr. Alex MacKenzie, of Campbellford, acted as groomsmen. Following a luncheon party at a Peterborough Hotel, the young couple left on a motor trip to Kingston, Watertown, N.Y., and other points. On their return they will reside at Warkworth.

NO MORE SWEEPSTAKES

The Post Office Department has put a new obstacle in the way of lottery promoters. Hereafter, Postmaster General Elliott said recently, letters suspected of containing lottery tickets or lottery remittances will be marked with a warning and returned to the senders. "Many well-intentioned people are concerned with lotteries," Mr. Elliott said, "but when the lotteries are conducted under cover, there is no means of telling how much is taken out before any money is returned to the winners. In any event, lotteries are illegal under the Criminal Code and mail respecting them is not properly mailable matter under the Postoffice Act." The postoffice authorities have always had the power under the Postoffice Act to return suspected matter, he explained, but in 1934 a regulation was put in effect that the officials would only take action "where a complaint has been received." The opinion of legal advisers was that this negated the purpose of the act, as the lottery might be conducted for some time before anyone troubled to send a complaint to the department. A new regulation has recently been approved which removes the proviso respecting complaints and the officials may act whenever their suspicions are aroused.

SPRINGBROOK L. A. HAVE FINE MEETING

The June meeting of the Springbrook L. A. was held at the home of Mrs. Walter Heath. There was a splendid attendance, one new member joining. Singing of the "Theme Song" was the opening item on the program, followed by a prayer offered by Mrs. F. Bateman. Mrs. Thos. Webb and Mrs. P. Bateman read the Scripture lesson. Explanation given by the President, Mrs. Florence Bateman. Mrs. Fred Fenn lead in reading Psalm 34 which was read responsively. The roll call, a verse, the keynote of which is "Love" was well responded to. Two verses of "I Love to Tell the Story" were sung by all. Mrs. S. Mason, the organist, was present. Mrs. Foley led in prayer. Minutes of the last meeting were read by the Secretary, Mrs. G. E. Bailey, which were adopted. Report of the Coronation was given by Mrs. Geo. Williams. Other features of the program included a humorous reading by Mrs. A. Reynolds "Secret Session". A paper entitled "Little Boy's Prayer", was given by Mrs. Jas. Mumby. Mrs. A. Haslett gave a splendid reading "The Kitchen Clock". During the course of the programme Mrs. W. Heath and Mrs. C. Sine gave splendid reports of the forenoon and afternoon sessions of the L. A. and W. A. convention held recently at Demorestville, which was enjoyed by all. The Theme Song was sung in unison. Then the Secretary, Mrs. G. E. Bailey, read and address to Mrs. (Rev.) Foley.

We realize that the time (which we all dreaded to think of as approaching) has arrived, when you must necessarily sever your connections with us as co-workers, neighbour and sister associate in our Ladies' Aid. It seems to conceive that today is probably the last time we will be priv-

HAD RHEUMATIC PAINS FOR 25 YEARS

His Arms Were Becoming Useless

It was about 25 years ago that rheumatism first marked down this sufferer; and finally the day came when he could hardly lift his arms. But he found relief — here in this letter he tells the whole story:—

"About 25 years ago I first experienced slight muscular rheumatism in my arm and shoulder. A few years later lumbago also attacked me. They gradually got worse until the pain got acute in both arms and loins. I could not lift a jugful of water with my arm extended straight out. About 12 months ago I bought a bottle of Kruschen Salts and by the time it was finished I was agreeably surprised at a slight improvement. I bought another one, and when that was finished all the pain had disappeared, and has never appeared since." — T.R.

The pains and stiffness of rheumatism are frequently caused by deposits of uric acid in the muscles and joints. The numerous salts in Kruschen assist in stimulating the internal organs to healthy, regular activity, and help them to eliminate this excess uric acid.

Ileged to entertain you in our aid meetings. Since coming into our community four years ago, a total stranger as well as in various other circuits, you have laboured unceasingly for the good of mankind, ever seeking to advance the kingdom of God on earth. Now, no doubt, you feel you are entitled to a well-earned and appreciative rest, which we hope you may be spared to enjoy for many years. Your sojourn here has added many friends to your list and we know that in your new home the same opportunity will be yours. As the river pursues its course in and out among the rocks and hills, ever increasing in strength and making the land with which it comes in contact of increased value, so too, you have gone in and out amongst us a friend, thereby setting us an example and we certainly felt our lives benefitted and encouraged by your presence and cheery word.

Although removed from our midst in person alone, and not too great a distance, we hope we may be privileged at some later date to associate with you in your new home in the town of Bowmanville. And now as time for separation draws nigh, we will just say "Au Revoir" but not good-bye, and ask you to accept this gift, not for its intrinsic value, but that as you look at it and use it, you will ever have occasion to remember the members of Springbrook Ladies' Aid.

Signed — Mrs. W. A. Bateman, Pres.; Mrs. Thos. McKeown, 1st Vice-Pres.; Mrs. G. E. Bailey, Sec.; Mrs. A. P. Williams, Treas.

The President then presented Mrs. Foley with a linen table cloth. Mrs. Foley thanked the ladies for their kindness and invited them to visit her in her new home. All joined in singing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds". Mrs. Walter Heath, who was hostess, served sandwiches, cake, pickles and tea, and a pleasant half-hour was spent before the ladies felt for home. The July meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Thos. Morgan.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Reid for the week-end were: Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Needham, Carleton Place, Ont.; Mr. Jack Needham of Montreal and Mr. R. Needham, of Chicago, Ill.

A meeting of St. Mark's Church vestry Council was held on Tuesday evening of last week. It was decided to sell the material in the old church as soon as possible. It was also voted unanimously that no lawn social be held this year.

School Inspector, Mr. Martin, visited S.S. No. 5 on Wednesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Barlow and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Baker and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Barber and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Mumby at Ameliasburg on Sunday last.

A meeting of the Rawdon Branch of the Upper Canada Bible Society was held in the Sunday School rooms of St. Mark's Church on Friday last. Officers elected were Canon W. G. Swayne, President, and Mrs. Hiram Mumby, Secretary-Treasurer. Mr. M. W. Murphy, of Toronto, gave a splendid address concerning the work of the Society at large. The Bible, he states, is now printed in 711 different languages and there is still much to be done as it is estimated there are at least 2000 dialects spoken in the world. The Society has been working, he states, for 133 years. Mr. Murphy spent two years in Northern Ontario as a colporteur, distributing the word of God from house to house. His experiences were very interesting.

WEST HUNTINGDON

Depression and unemployment are two expressions that are much out of date and almost forgotten in this quiet little hamlet. The farmers are finding it difficult to obtain extra help. The spare labourers are all employed on the county crusher and on the Marmora Highway and Ridge road. A sure sign that times are better is that a large number of our people have dealt off the old car for much more up-to-date models. Implement agents also inform us that it is difficult for them to obtain machinery from the factories, so great is the demand from farmers for new machinery.

DON'T SQUEEZE THEM

There is an old saying "Squeeze a pimple and make a boil; squeeze a boil and make a carbuncle." The maxim has been confirmed by the researches of Dr. Oscar W. Bethea, of Dr. Oscar W. Bethea, of Tulane University, New Orleans. In the treatment of carbuncles of the face, the mortality was twice as great in cases in which excisions were made as in cases where there was no surgical interference. Heat is the remedy. Heat kills pain and hastens the well-known natural processes through which infection is mastered and eliminated. It is a good policy in infections of the skin, particularly of the face, to stay

by Perry Westbrook

SYNOPSIS: Slim Loyale is paroled from prison after serving 18 months for a crime he did not commit. He returns to his Circle L ranch to find his father dead and sinister forces at work, trying to make him violate his parole so that he can again be railroaded to prison.

The Brockwells and their gang are plotting to gain possession of Circle L ranch and the property of Mona Hall, a neighbour and life-long friend of Slim Loyale.

Slim discovers that Sheriff Starbuck has joined the plot against him. With the help of Dakota Blue and his cowboys, Slim Loyale defies the land-grabbers to do their worst.

Even Starbuck himself began to realize the futility of things. He also began to retreat slowly, throwing lead steadily at those mocking, fiery flashes. Dakota, singling him out, closed in. At ten paces, he shouted, "Starbuck, yuh crooked rat, this way. It's Blue who's callin' yuh."

Starbuck twisted in his saddle, snarling, and flung two lightning shots. One drew a crimson brand across the side of Dakota's neck. The other socked heavily into one of the bucking rolls of Dakota's saddle.

Dakota let loose one careful shot. Starbuck gasped, his snarling curses cut short abruptly. His guns thudded to the dusty earth. He loaded both hands about the thorn of his saddle, his shoulders hunched, his bitter face draining white.

He drove home the spurs, trying to ride past Dakota. But the first frenzied leap of his mount sent him away. Quite suddenly, he alighted head foremost from his saddle.

Instantly Dakota also swung to the ground, leaping apart from his broncho, crouching low. He knew that a hall of lead would be searching for him. In that he was right. The animal he had just left collapsed in its tracks, shot through the head. Dakota went flat on the ground, alert and waiting.

Lead whispered over and around him, one slug kicking his eyes full of dust. Still he held his fire, gambling that without Starbuck to lead them the remaining members of the posse would break and run for it.

In this he was also right. Realizing that their leader was down, the posse gave back faster and thundered away into the night. For a time Steve Owens and Charley Quinn warmed them on their way with the Winchester. But presently Slim's voice, calling out, stopped all shooting.

Slim came through the darkness warily. "Dakota, yuh all right?" he called.

"Sittin' pretty, Slim," was the laconic answer. "They've all sloped. Bring the boys out, I've got Starbuck."

Slim exclaimed in surprise. "Leo Brockwell's back in the corral," he vouchsafed, as he came up. "Tisdale stopped a slug somewhere, but it can't be very bad; he's still cussin'." He raised his voice to a shout. "Hi, gang; come on over. They've pulled out."

Tisdale was the first to reach them. "Got a furrow from my wrist plumb to my elbow," he exclaimed bleedin' some, but I've got my neck-erchief wound around it. It'll keep for a time."

Steve, Charley and Oscar reported, unhurt, except that Oscar had had one boot heel shot off. He walked with a queer hitchity-hop that caused Steve to chuckle. "Ole step-an-a-half, Oscar."

As Dakota scratched a match and bent over Starbuck, he was surprised to see that Starbuck's eyes were open. The sheriff groaned. "Listen close," he whispered. "I'm done for an I know it. Don't hold it agin' yuh Blue, yuh're a pretty good man."

"Time was when I was a square-shooter myself. But the glitter of money ain't a lot of slick talk made a sucker out me. However, I aim to get some of the dirt off my shriveled soul. I ain't got long, but I'll do my best."

"Loyale, yuh were railroaded on perjured evidence. Arthur — George Arthur, he's got all the dope. Get hold of him an' make him talk. He's a coward, an' he'll come clean. An' yuh better skin to town. Sarg Brockwell an' some more of his crowd are aimin' to rob the bank tonight. Arthur's idea — to keep yuh from loanin' money to the Hall girl."

"Arthur an' Brockwell been runnin' this thing. Schemed to make a clean-up on them Big Bend herds. But they made a mess of things an' got me into it. Leo Brockwell's the man who's been holdin' up the Vasco stage." His voice turned drowsy and plaintive. "I'm cold — cold as hell. Get me a blanket, somebody."

Steve Owens, subdued and a little awed, ran into the bunkhouse. But when he returned with the blanket, there was no need for it.

Slim Loyale made swift decision on the information Starbuck had given before he died. The bank hold-up did not exactly surprise Slim; for that matter, none of the information did. But it rendered his position all the more secure, to know that his conjectures had been right.

He had guessed that an attempt might be made to loot the bank. For that reason he had detailed Roy O'Brien and Stoney Sheard to guard it. But he knew the odds would now be greatly against them. They would need help, ferocious fighters though they were. So Slim turned to Dakota.

"Yuh an' me go to town, as quick as we can get there, Dakota," he snapped tensely. "Tisdale, yuh stay here an' let Oscar fix up that arm of yores. Steve an' Charley, get some lanterns an' clean up things around here. But keep yore guns handy. There's no tellin' but what that crowd, bein' desperate, might take another try. Grab a bronc, Dakota."

Dakota's own horse was dead, but he soon secured another, as there were several riderless ones stamping and snorting around. In a fast, ground-eating gallop, he and Slim headed for town.

Slim knew human nature and he knew that unless this full exoneration was made, there would be always some who would believe his incarceration had been legitimate. The only way to completely wipe out that stain against him was to get that confession from Arthur. Slim's face was grim as he considered it. He'd get what he wanted if he had to resort to Apache tricks to do it.

When Slim and Dakota reached the town, it was after midnight. The town seemed quiet enough. However, they took no chances, circling well around to one side and leaving their mounts ground-reined some two hundred yards away from the town limits. They went the rest of the way on foot, stealing in through the shadows carefully.

"Roy an' Stoney will be somewhere close to the bank," muttered Slim. "But by this time Brockwell an' his crowd are in town an' on the watch. Best thing we can do is just lay out quiet here in this alley and wait developments. What d'yuh think?"

Dakota grunted assent. So they squatted down, their backs against a friendly wall close to the mouth of the alley. From time to time Slim would stick a careful head around the corner and survey the street. The bank was some fifty yards away, on the opposite side. Two doors from it was a Mexican cantina. The windows of the Mexican joint glowed yellow and there were quite a few bronchos slouching at the hitching rail in front.

"Brockwell an' his gang are in that greaser joint," observed Slim softly. "I recognize that buckskin boss of Cinder Alton's. Hope Roy and Stoney don't take any chances with Alton. That crooked little devil is poison with a gun."

"I wouldn't do any worryin' about them two," answered Dakota. "They know Alton as well as we do. The first lead they throw will be pulled his way. Wader when they'll pull the job?"

"Most any time now. The town is pretty daid. I reckon they're figgerin' on doin' it plenty quiet. They won't have an alibi in the world, should they get caught at it. Knowin' this, Brockwell will play his cyards careful."

"Won't do him no good," chuckled Dakota. "He's gonna get caught. But somethin' tells me that he won't have no use for an alibi anyhow. Them things don't mean a darn to a daid man."

"Yuh must expect Roy an' Stoney to sorta spread a lot of destruction," observed Slim.

"Roy's good, but Stoney is forked lightnin'," grunted Dakota. "Yuh've never seen him in action like I have, Slim. I tell yuh, he's a holy terror. He ain't got those quiet, cold eyes for nothin'. Besides, yuh an' me oughta come in handy ourselves." Dakota yawned and stretched. "Wish they'd get started," he grumbled. "I'm gettin' sleepy and cold."

Silence fell and endured unbroken for a long hour. Dakota's head was sunk upon his chest and he was snoring softly. Slim was having trouble in keeping awake himself. The let-down in nervous tension, after the long day of momentous happenings, found him weary. Several times his head began to nod, his eyelids growing heavy.

And then, like a thunderclap, a single report echoed down the street. Following it came a shrill, yammering began a staccato rumbling, in such cadence that it was easy to tell that one man with a practised pair of hands was welding them.

Thump-thump! Thump-thump! Thump-thump!

Slim and Dakota were on their feet in a bound, guns drawn, poised in the alley opening. The measured roll of those first reports was now shattered to bits by a ragged roar of other gunfire. Slim saw the shadowy figures darting about the bank in what appeared to be aimless confusion.

Then a stentorian yell echoed in a voice easily distinguishable as belonging to Sarg Brockwell. "Close in! Close in! There's only two of 'em. Close in, I tell yuh!"

By the answering massing of those shadowy figures, Slim got Stoney Sheard and Roy O'Brien located. They were beyond the bank in the corral of the livery stable.

"C'mon," he snapped to Dakota. "They got Stoney an' Roy cornered."

Slim and Dakota went up the street at a run. With half the distance gone, Slim halted and began to shoot. Dakota stepped apart from him and followed suit. Someone in Brockwell's crowd yelled a warning. Immediately Slim and Dakota became the centre of a lashing hail of lead. Dakota Blue grunted, cursed and went down in a heap.

Behind Slim came a hail of warning. "Get him inside!" Get him inside, Slim. I'll help yuh."

The next moment, fat Spud Dillon, still encased in his white bartender's apron, was bending over Dakota, tugging at his shoulders.

"It's my right leg," snapped Dakota through set teeth. "Get me up, Spud, an' I can hobble inside. Give 'em hell, Slim, an' back up with us."

Quick to grasp the idea, Slim shot with smooth precision, backing up a step at a time. Just as his guns snapped empty, his shoulders struck the wall of a building. Then hands grabbed him, jerked him to one side and through an open doorway. The door slammed shut. He and Dakota were inside the Wild Horse Saloon. No one was inside the saloon when Old Joe Rooney was the man who had guided Slim to safety.

As Slim began hurriedly reloading his guns, Spud barked an order. "Git my ole double-barreled Greener, Joe an' fasten yoreself to that front window. Spray those buzzards by the bank with buckshot. That'll keep 'em shuttled up."

It did. With the initial bellow of the shotgun, Brockwell's crowd scattered wildly. Slim, edging in beside Rooney, snapped shot after shot at this one and that. He saw two of them go down. From the livery stable corral came a whoop of triumph and a sputter of words, thick with the brogue of old Ireland.

"Whurroo! Give it to the spalpeens! Away with 'em the robbin' murderin' devils. Smoke 'em out."

Surprised and confused the bandit crowd were quick to realize that there was nothing to be gained by trying to fight matters out along this line. Any chance of looting the bank was entirely gone now.

In another minute or two, the entire town would be about their ears. The only thing to do was ride and ride fast. As this idea caught them they raced for their horses, which were rearing and plunging with fright. They split, some riding north, some south.

In the lead of those passing the Wild Horse, came Cinder Alton, crouched low over his buckskin's neck. Slim tried two shots, but missed both. Joe Rooney calmly spat, cradled the Greener against his shoulder and pulled both triggers.

TWEED CONSTABLE GETS HIS MAN

Harry Elvidge of the City of Toronto was arrested by Chief Constable Hayes of Tweed as he was leaving the court at Smith's Falls after having been released on bail at that town. Following the hearing of a charge of reckless driving preferred against him. In an accident which occurred at Smith's Falls he and a companion were slightly hurt. Elvidge is alleged to have been dodging Constable Hayes since last August when a charge under the Liquor Control Act was laid. Owing to the fact that he had to appear in Smith's Falls again on Thursday of the same week, it was deemed necessary by Magistrate Kirkland that he should be tried immediately on the Tweed charges. Elvidge pleaded guilty and was assessed the minimum fine, together with costs. He was defended by H. Smith, of Smith's Falls. Constable Clair Hayes, of Tweed, was present on behalf of the prosecution.

PROVINCE TO ASSUME ROAD FROM COBOURG TO NORWOOD

That the Provincial Department of Highways will assume the entire road between Cobourg and Norwood via Rosemeath and Hastings is the assurance given a deputation from the Peterborough County Council which interviewed the Minister of Highways in Toronto last week. — Norwood Register.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY MEETS IN TORONTO NEXT YEAR

The sixty-fourth General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada will hold its sessions at Toronto in the summer of 1938. The Commissioners have accepted the invitation of Calvin Church, which was offered for the second year in succession. No other city competed for the honour of being host.

CHARGED WITH ARSON

George Mountenay was lodged in County Jail at Cobourg on Monday, charged with arson arising from fire that destroyed a house belonging to his father-in-law, Marshall Tyler, on Friday. Mountenay was arrested on Saturday at Tyler's farm four miles west of here. County Constable F. L. Atkinson of Brighton said Mountenay's wife informed him of the fire and asked an investigation.

MARMORA-MADOC AREA TO GET MINERAL SURVEY

Fifty-two survey and exploratory parties will be placed in the mineral fields of the various Provinces of the Dominion this year by the Mines and Geology branch of the Department of Mines and Resources, Ottawa, according to the program announced for 1937, launched in hopes of new mineral discoveries. Marmora-Madoc district will be included in the fields to be extensively surveyed.

The field program in Ontario will comprise geological mapping and investigations in the Quetico-Ignace area, 70 miles west of Port Arthur; in the south-western peninsula of the Province; in the Toronto-Hamilton area; in the Madoc-Marmora area, and in a portion of the Province east of Ottawa. It will include also a topographical project in northwestern Ontario. M. E. Wilson will spend a few weeks in the examination of mining properties in the Madoc-Marmora area. The results of the work will be used in the preparation of a geological map which should be of great aid to development in this active section.

THE SPOOFERS HAVE STARTED

With an election coming in a few months, we have noticed recently in a Tory newspaper, a letter signed by "Old Liberal," who is disgusted with Hepburn and will support Rowe next election. On Tuesday we saw a letter in a Grit newspaper signed "Real Conservative" who is disgusted with Rowe and will follow George Drew or Hepburn next voting time. These letters may be what they say they are but to us we imagine someone is spoofing us — or trying to. As these things always happen when an election is in the offing we put them down to political propaganda and let it go at that. They may influence some voters, but not many. Reading this kind of stuff, we are reminded of the virtue of politics! And how odoriferous these "herrings" across the trail usually smell!

TRENTON STUDENTS WIN

Trenton High School won 117 points without a senior entry when its track and field athletes won the boys' section of the annual meet of the Bay of Quinte Secondary Schools at Napanee Saturday. Belleville Collegiate, with 49 points placed first in the girls' section.

A junior, F. Burt, of Trenton, gathered nineteen points to top the individual honor list in the boys' section, while Miss M. Hilchon, a Belleville intermediate headed the girls with 23 points. Godfrey Paul of Napanee, broke the interscholastic standard in the senior pole vault when he cleared eleven feet one-half inch. Last week Paul won the event at the Kingston meet to determine district representatives at the Ontario Athletic Commission's summer camp.

SIDNEY COUNCIL

The June session of the Sidney Council was held at Wallbridge on the 1st inst. Minutes of the May meeting read and adopted.

Bleeker and Ketcheson — That Relief accounts for May be paid. Cd. Ketcheson and Danford — That the Treasurer be authorized to issue a check for $2.00 in payment of a gravel pit on lot 17, concession 4, in Sidney Township.

Ketcheson and Danford — That accounts under Road Voucher No. 13 be paid. Cd.

The Council then adjourned to go into Court of Revision.

Mr. Lyons appealed for a reduction in his assessment but the Court decided that no action be taken.

Mr. O. Lonsberry considered his property overvalued by the assessors and the Court agreed to a reduction of $200 assessment on his land.

Mr. A. Saylor appealed for a lower assessment and asked for exemption on his wood lot.

The Court ordered that no action be taken on the appeal and that the granting of exemption on his wood lot and on that of the Duncan Ketcheson property be left in the hands of the assessors for adjustment.

Mr. Jones, representing the Bay of Quinte Golf Club, pointed out that the assessment on this property had been raised $1,000 over that of 1936 and asked that this increase be cancelled, which was granted.

Mr. C. Ashley claimed to be assessed for a greater acreage than he had and was granted $350 reduction.

Mr. R. J. E. Graham appealed for a reduction on the unused Orange Hall on lot 18, concession 1, Sidney, and the Court granted a reduction of $250.00.

The Court having considered all appeals brought before them, the Council resumed.

Ketcheson and Wilson — That the Reeve be appointed to consult the Township Solicitor re appointment of a Constable. Cd.

Ketcheson and Bush — That the Clerk be authorized to write the Provincial Treasurer as to what disposition is to be made of the proposed 1 mill grant to municipalities and when the Township is likely to receive it. Cd.

Wilson and Ketcheson — That the Clerk be authorized to make any necessary changes in the Assessment Roll. Cd.

A by-law to authorize the Road Supt. to supervise the construction of the lines, plant, etc., of the Bell Telephone Co. of Canada, was passed through its various readings, after which the Council was adjourned to meet at 1 o'clock p.m. on July 5th.

MANY ATTRACTIONS AT CELEBRATION OF PICTON'S CENTENNIAL

The town of Picton in Prince Edward County, is this year marking its Centennial with a great celebration from June 30 to July 6, inclusive.

June 30 sees an afternoon of boat racing on the beautiful Bay of Quinte near Picton, with a colorful night celebration. July 1st sees the regatta continued, events starting at 10 a.m. and continuing all day, these including a race for 225 cubic inch piston displacement class boats for a $750 Gold Cup. Jack McGinnis, Quebec, has entered two boats. He holds the World's Championship in this class, won at the C.N.E. last year. This regatta is an international event and record holders from United States and Canada will be seen in thrilling action. District boats will take part too, and there is a lengthy programme for sailing craft which will be run on a different course the same time as the Power Boat events. These races are to be filmed for theatre showing across Canada.

Bands of the district will take part in a great tattoo and provide music at all times. A famed band from Flint, Michigan, will be present and give concerts. They represented the United States abroad one year.

A great many entries for horse races on July 5th are being received. Purses total $1500.

A big midway will be at the fair grounds. There is special entertainment every afternoon and evening.

Attractions include monster parade on morning of July 2, sports of all kinds, variety shows each night, gala dances, midjet car races, exhibit and demonstration of Historical articles, night shirt parade, clown band, special religious services on July 4th.

Further details will appear each week in The News-Argus.

BELLEVILLE MARKET FEATURES BROILERS

New Spring vegetables made their appearance on the Belleville market on Saturday morning and included onions, lettuce and rhubarb, being offered at five cents per bunch. New carrots were quoted at ten cents the bunch, while radishes also struck a popular note with a fine quality offered at three bunches for ten cents. Other qualities sold at six bunches for twenty-five cents. Spring cabbage was offered at five, ten and fifteen cents the head. White and yellow string beans, imported from the south were quoted at two pounds for twenty-five cents.

Potatoes were plentiful with another slight decrease in the prices being noticed. Ninety pound lots were quoted in some quarters at $1.50. Seventy-five pound containers were offered at $1.25 with peak lot prices fluctuating between twenty-five cents and thirty cents.

Cut flowers, potted plants and flowering blooms ready for transplanting were offered in an abundance of variety and colour. Young broilers again stole the buying spotlight in the inside market, selling at from sixty cents to one dollar a pair. Chickens and kowl while not as plentiful as the broilers, found a steady response on the part of shoppers selling at from 50c to as high as $1.00 each.

Raspberry sets were quoted at two cents each for both red and blue varieties. Strawberry sets, some of them in blossom, were offered at forty cents per hundred. Cabbage, onion and other vegetable shoots were quoted at fifteen cents the dozen. Tomato plants noted a drop in price, selling at from 60 to 75 cents per hundred.

Eggs remained steady at their all-week price with "A" selects offered generally at 20c the dozen. Mediums were quoted at 18c, although some were sold at 16c and 17c. Ungraded qualities were quoted at 18c and 19c. Farmers' butter showed no change in price, with vendors quoting stocks at 30c per pound and two-pound rolls at 55c. One vendor, on the outside mart advertised Jersey butter at 22c per pound. Whipping cream was quoted at 15c and 30c per half-pint and pint respectively. Home-cooking stands did a land-office business with housewives taking advantage of the attractive prices quoted.

Baby chicks of the Leghorn breed were offered at 15c the pair. Youthful vendors offered 6-weeks old Col. lie pups at $1.50 each. Young pigs were plentiful but moved slowly at prices ranging from $3.00 to $4.50 each.

BACK ROWE'S LEADERSHIP

Liberal-Conservatives of five ridings of Eastern Ontario, represented by riding secretaries and Presidents met in Belleville on Friday and expressed satisfaction in the Provincial leadership of Hon. Earl Rowe.

SNARR SCHOOL LOG

Nestled in the shady surroundings and breathing forth its spirit of peace, stands the little red brick school of S. S. No. 17, Rawdon, familiarly known as the Snarr School. From its tall spreading maples and willow one might imagine that the story of its life would have been as quiet and restful. But indeed it is not so for the dim pages of memory reveal pictures and facts of the struggle of the early settlers for their little institution of learning.

Settlement began early in the nineteenth century when Loyalists took up their homesteads on the locations now owned by Chas. Dunham and H. Hoover. On August 7th, 1852, Francis Vandervoort deeded to the Trustees of S. S. No. 17, Rawdon, one quarter of an acre on Lot 19, Concession 7, for five shillings. The frame school erected there was later known as the Jordison School.

The building typical of one of its time provided little for the comfort of those in attendance. Walls and floors were by no means draft-proof. The older pupils sat on forms; the younger ones who were not adept at balancing on such were given the honour of benches set against the wall. Painted boards provided a blackboard four feet square. As this afforded very little convenience for teaching the twenty to sixty pupils, copy cards and reading charts were posted about the room.

In these early years, teachers were paid about $100.00 a year, each family supplying a given sum for each child in attendance. This bore heavily on large families so that the system was adopted whereby each citizen was taxed according to his holdings. The teachers boarded in the homes, staying a specified time in each. Among these early teachers were Messrs. Jas. Irwin, Thos. Irwin, Brown, Mrs.

Stacy, Miss Arnold and Miss Stokes. Inspectors were Mr. Ackers and Mr. McIntosh. The life of the school and community was led by Jas. Hurst, D. Linn, Geo. Snarr, John Pollock.

In 1876 the school site was moved to its present and more central location. A new brick structure was erected. Sufficient fibre board to stretch across the west side for blackboard, and new double seats were the outstanding improvements. At this time it is interesting to note that Bible study and memorization occupied a considerable part of the curriculum.

Teachers of the First Snarr School up to 1889 were Miss Stokes, Miss Horkins, Miss Clarke, Miss Vandervoort, Miss Pyne and Walter Smith. Mr. Eagleson 1889-90; Jas. Watson, 1890-91; J. A. Hubble, 1891-94; Mr. Anderson, 1894-95; Fred Barron 1896-98; Miss Campbell, 1898-99; J. Gay, 1899-1900; Miss Brown, 1900; Miss Milne, 1900-04. Mr. Jas. Watson, who taught from 1890 to 1891 later entered the ministry. During his stay he planted maple trees around the school yard — the same trees which cast their soft green light around the buildings and grounds.

Twenty-five years after its erection the first Snarr School was condemned. Amusing stories are told of how the brick toppled down, just missing the head of the learned instructor. In 1901 the school was rebuilt by Mat Johnston, using the same brick, but reducing the length and width by two feet. More windows were put in, allowing three on the south, three on the north and two on the east. During the time of its completion some of the pupils attended other schools — Wellmans or the Ninth Line. With the addition of cupboards and pictures the interior of the building began to take on the appearance of a study-room. First mention of library books on account was made in 1902. School Fair work was entered upon by the pupils of this second Snarr School, the first meeting taking place at Harold, Sept. 14th, 1914.

From the group of pupils who attended the second Snarr School, 1901 to 1936, several have entered the fields of higher education — Dr. M. Wellman, demonstrator in Anatomy, University of Toronto; Dr. L. Wellman, of Kitchener; Dr. Victoria Wellman of Toronto and Rev. Hoover of Chicago. Those who followed the teaching profession were Miss M. Matthews (Mrs. H. Rollins), Miss L. Matthews and Miss R. Matthews.

Teachers of the Second Snarr School were: Miss Brown, 1901; Miss Milne, 1902-04; Miss Brown, Miss Meiklejohn 1906-07; Miss McMullen, 1908-09; Miss M. Matthews, 1910-11; Miss Harlow, 1911; A. Markley, 1912; Miss N. Totton, 1914-15; Miss A. Richardson, Miss J. Bateman, Mr. F. Fletcher, Miss A. Stephens, Miss M. Weaver.

er. Miss L. Williams, K. Henderson, Miss McCready, Miss L. Matthews, Miss L. Jones, Miss L. Foster, Mr. A. Cise and Miss P. Cook (Mrs. O. Dracup).

On the morning of Aug. 30th, 1936, the day prior to opening, the second Snarr School was destroyed by fire. Members of the section turned out to fight the conflagration but little could be done to save any of the equipment. The big Library of some five hundred volumes which had taken years to gather together, was destroyed. The brick wall were left standing and these were used in the new building.

Meetings of the ratepayers were called on Aug. 30, Sept. 3 and Sept. 10 to consider plans. Inspector A. A. Martin was present at two of these and lent his assistance on various occasions. The building committee, composed of the trustees, Mr. Chas. Dunham, Fred Thain, Reg. McGee, Malcolm Totton, Bogart Linn, Bert Tompkins and Alex Johnston visited some of the newer schools with Mr. Martin for the purpose of gathering suggestions in regard to the modern building. The contract was given to Mr. R. Eggleton, Stirling.

Lighting was the chief factor of improvement. Two of the north windows were bricked in and five large windows were made on the south. New cast materials were used to help insulate the building, for particular attention was paid to making it warm. A built-in cupboard and overhanging map rack are other new features. In individual chairs with desk-arm attached, have been purchased. These are the latest and most comfortable of school seats available and show the influence of the stress laid upon the health and comfort of the child during his early formative years.

During the completion of the new school, classes were held in vacant houses of Mrs. W. Beckett and Mr. A. Johnson. Dr. McDougall, the Deputy Chief Inspector visited the former on Sept. 4, bringing a message of encouragement to the pupils who were struggling under such a handicap as lack of equipment and surroundings conducive to study. Finally on Nov. 27, they bade farewell to temporary quarters and took their places in the new home of instruction.

In regard to introduction of new subjects, Agriculture may be named first. It was begun by Miss L. Jones in 1930, and since that time it has received a regular place in the studies. Music became an extra study under the supervision of Miss Ramsay. Miss Alexander continued the work in 1934 but now it is also a regular study of the curriculum. This year the first school garden is being planted, and flower beds set out with the hope of continuing the beautification of the grounds begun in 1891 with the planting of the trees by (Rev.) Jas. Watson.

Owing to the fact that records were destroyed in the school fire of Aug. 30, 1936, the writer would welcome any further information or contribution to this history before it is entered as a permanent report. She also wishes to thank those who so kindly assisted in the gathering of these facts.

RIB-ROLL ROOFING

This durable roofing has extra rigidity that makes it particularly good for roofing over light framework. The secret of its strength is: the ribs are only five inches apart! The most copied roofing of its kind on the market. Be sure you get the genuine, economical "Rib-Roll Roofing".

Ask your banker for details about re-roofing on the Government-backed Home Improvement Plan.

Use them with all metal roofing. The lead on the head seals the nail-hole.

REDECORATE ST. PAUL'S

The Board of Stewards of St. Paul's United Church have decided to completely redecorate the church at an estimated expenditure of one thousand dollars. Tenders for the work are being called forthwith.

ASSISTED IN ORDINATION

Rev. James E. Beckel, of Stirling, minister of Rawdon Circuit, assisted in the ordination of five candidates to the ministry of the United Church at Smith's Falls on Sunday, as part of the closing sessions of the Bay of Quinte Conference. Right Rev. Peter Bryce, Moderator of the United Church of Canada, had charge of the service.

W. M. S. RALLY

On Wednesday, June 9th, Mt. Pleasant W.M.S. was "At Home" to five auxiliaries, Wellmans, Hoards, Eggleston, West Huntingdon, United and St. Andrew's. The guest speakers were Mrs. H. B. Herrington, of Thomasburg, periodical secretary of Bay of Quinte Conference Branch, and Mrs. W. S. Gordon, of Tweed, vice-president of Madoc section. Over 100 guests were in attendance and enjoyed an appetizing lunch in the hall.

DELEGATES CHOSEN

At a meeting of the Liberal-Conservative Association of Stirling, held in H. C. Martin's office on Monday night, delegates were chosen to attend the Convention to be held in Marmora on June 23rd, to select a Conservative standard-bearer in the provincial riding of West Hastings. Delegates selected were Messrs Thos. Solmes, W. J. Whitty, H. C. Martin, W. C. West, Dr. E. A. Carleton, Mrs.

Nina Morton and Mrs. Harper Rollins. Alternates chosen were Thos. Montgomery Sr., Gil. Thompson, Mrs. W. C. West, Mrs. W. J. Whitty and Mrs. Geo. W. Bailey.

COUNTY COUNCIL MEETS

The members of Hastings County Council will convene in Shire Hall, Belleville, on Tuesday next, for the June session. The striking of the County tax rate will be one of the most important items of business to be discussed, and is of particular interest to the majority of the ratepayers because of the equalized assessment decisions by the Tribunal last winter. Stirling will be represented by Reeve Thos. Cranston, Rawdon Township by Reeve Geo. E. Thompson and Deputy Reeve G. B. Bedford; and Sidney Township by Reeve Geo. Bush and Deputy Reeve Clem Ketcheson.

CLEAN SWIMMING POOL

The boys and girls who use the village swimming pool during the summer may do so secure in the knowledge that they will suffer no injuries from stepping on tin cans or pieces of glass. On Wednesday afternoon a committee of citizens headed by N. E. Eggleston, and assisted by a number of boys in their bathing suits, proceeded to give the pool a thorough overhauling and put it in a fit condition for bathing. This will be good news for the children and those who assisted in the work are worthy of the thanks of all.

MET HERE TODAY

The thirty-sixth District Convention of the Women's Institutes of the West Hastings District, Sidney Township, is being held in the Stirling Community Hall today (Thursday) under the auspices of the Stirling Branch. The District President, Mrs. C. Holmes, presided with Mrs. P. Bronson as secretary-treasurer. There was a good representation present for both the morning and afternoon sessions. Mrs. W. C. West, President of the Stirling Branch, delivered the address of welcome.

FAMILY REUNION

A happy event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Tucker yesterday on the occasion of the annual family reunion and birthday party of Mrs. Tucker's father, Mr. George Frost, of Frankfort.

At one o'clock some eighty friends and relatives from Toronto, Belleville, Saskatchewan, Boharlaw, Prince Edward County, Frankfort and Stirling, sat down to a bountiful dinner that included all the good things one could wish to eat. At the conclusion of the meal birthday greetings and good wishes were offered to Mr. Frost by Mr. Barlow of Toronto; Mr. Jess Barlow, of Bonarlaw; Mrs. Clayton Burdick, Rev. A. S. McConnell and others. In the afternoon the young people found their way to the Fair Grounds for a game of ball, while the older folk, and those who had eaten too much, enjoyed a quiet chat in groups around the house. At five o'clock liberal helping of home-made ice cream and cake, brought a most enjoyable event to a close and amid farewells the guests hurried away to their respective homes.

If the Americans really can make newsprint out of Southern pine it will not be a general calamity to Canadians. It would be a blow to profit-loving Canadian paper manufacturers, but it will also result in keeping the price of paper within the reach of hard-pressed Canadian newspapers. — Almonte Gazette.

STIRLING W. I.

The regular monthly meeting of Stirling Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. T. E. Mathison on June 4th, with an attendance of twenty-six members and several visitors.

The meeting opened with the singing of the Institute Ode and the Maple Leaf, after which the business was dealt with. Plans were made for serving dinner on Thursday in the Community Hall at the District Annual Meeting.

Mrs. J. M. McGee gave a splendid paper on "Buymanship", followed by a humorous reading by Mrs. Bronson. A number of community songs were sung, led by the song leader, Mrs. J. J. Wilson. Miss Hilma Mathison gave a reading on "Mothers Know Best", after which a delightful lunch was served.

ST. ANDREW'S W.M.S.

The Women's Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. J. Reid for the June meeting, which was in the form of a Home Helpers' meeting, of which Mrs. Reid is the Home Helpers' Secretary. The meeting opened with a hymn. Mrs. Koffend led in prayer. Minutes of previous meeting were read and the roll call responded to with the keyword "Joy". Mrs. M. Pomkins gave a reading of introduction to the Home Helpers' part in the programme. Mrs. Earl Fox led in prayer. The hymn "Breathe on me, Breath of God", was sung and the following ladies led in Scripture lessons: Mesdames D. Montgomery, J. Montgomery, H. Foster, T. McGee, C. Baker, J. McGee, B. Hoard and N. Parker. "O Master let me walk with Thee" was sung at this time. Mrs. G. Green, Mrs. D. Montgomery, Mrs. A. Fargy, and Mrs. Parker led in prayer for the work of Missionaries, their children, and all Missionary work done at home. Another hymn "Sow the Seed Beside all Waters." Mrs. J. Reid gave a reading "Guiding Little Feet into paths of Service Vision". Mrs. Koffend gave an interesting talk on "Mothers of the Bible," dealing with Eve, Sarah, Rebekah, Hannah, Louis, Eunice, Elizabeth and Mary. Mrs. J. Montgomery gave a full report of the Presbyterianial which was held in Kingston. "Hark my Soul, it is the Lord" was sung as the closing hymn. Mrs. H. Rollins closed this meeting with prayer. Mrs. Reid then served lunch and a social half-hour was spent together.

PRESENTED PLAY AT

not see Lucy, Barbara and Fannie are each much excited as Hal Ainsworth tells them how beautiful they are and that life has just begun now that he has met them. Mrs. Wonder creates much excitement looking for George who is subject to indignation and who has escaped without his medicine. She supervises her husband's every move, even telling him when he can sit down and when he must stand up. Ross Douglas as Hank Webster, policeman, enters, seeking a criminal, and Fred directs him to wait outside as the man has been in the house and will return. When Jack Bird again enters he is put in the hands of the constable. Meanwhile Lucy asks for him and Fred tells him that he has gone away. She is provoked and decides to elope with Mr. Ainsworth. Ainsworth, who has really fallen for Barbara, unfolds the story as he reveals his love of checkers had prevailed on him to make love to all the ladies. He seeks Barbara that Fred may explain. Fred meantime has gotten a shotgun to scare off Jack Bird. He is wounded in the hand as the gun goes off and his wife who can't stand the sight of blood, faints. The play is brought to a happy ending as Lucy and Fannie are informed that Barbara was only fooling and that he is serious about Barbara. Jack enters and Lucy is reconciled as they plan marriage.

DESCRIPTION OF JASPER PARK GIVEN IN LETTER TO SONS

along the eastern slope of the Rockies adjoining Banff Park on the south. Cutting through this entire region from the southern to the north-eastern boundary of the park, lies the wide central valley of the Athabaska river, known to the Indians as the Great River of the Woods.

In the town are several good hotels, as well as tea rooms, cafes and boarding houses. Jasper National Park is numbered among the great wild life sanctuaries of North America and contains thousands of big game animals including the Rocky Mountain sheep and goats and white-tailed deer, caribou, moose, elk, black brown and grizzly bear. Of all the places of interest we visited here I must make special mention of the Maligne Canyon a few miles north of Jasper Park Lodge, accessible by motor road, one of the most wonderful pot-hole canyons on the continent, and a splendid example of the carrying power of water aided by boulders and gravel. With these simple tools the Maligne river has cut through the hard limestone, a trench nearly 200 feet deep which in places is narrow enough for a man to leap across. Irregularities in the rock bed of the stream have afforded lodging places in ages past for boulders and gravel which have been rotated by the rushing waters to cut large pot-holes, many of which are now high and dry fifty feet above the present stream. More than one hundred and twenty-five miles of motor roads have been constructed in the park which furnish access to many outstanding points of interest. One of the most popular of the short drives in the park is that to Mount Edith Cavell and the Angel Glacier by way of the new mountain highway under construction which will eventually link Jasper and Banff parks. This magnificent peak was named in honour of the heroic services of the famous British nurse in the cause of the Allies during the Great War. The Angel glacier, an outstanding feature of Mount Edith Cavell, has two great lateral wings which merge with the main glacier to form a curious likeness to a flying figure. I learned Jasper Park owes its name to Jasper House, a trading post established about 1813 on the Athabaska River by the Northwest Company and which at one time was in charge of a clerk called Jasper Hawes. Jasper Park may be reached either by railway or by motor road. The main Park Highway from the town of Jasper links up with the Provincial Highway No. 16 at the eastern boundary, approximately 33 miles from the town of Jasper and 208 miles from Edmonton. Three miles east of the town is a delightful setting on Lac Beauvert (Beautiful Green Lake) the internationally known Jasper Park Lodge, a luxurious bungalow-type hotel with main building and separate bungalows. Many of the lakes and streams of the park contain fish and during recent years re-stocking operations which have been carried out greatly improved conditions for sport fishing. Connected with Jasper Park Lodge is an out-door swimming pool ed by the speaker that it was apparent that baseball was coming back in Stirling, and plenty of enthusiasm was being displayed by the boys of the community. Rawdon Softball League teams were planning on playing their games on the local diamond and it needed levelling. If Council would grant them use of the grader they would do the work. On motion of Rollins and Whitehead the use of the grader was granted and the Council agreed to have the hay cut.

Mr. H. P. Ellis asked that the newly-made municipal playgrounds be included in the rounds covered by Constable Eggleston in order that any rowdiness that might develop would be checked. The request was granted.

Councillor Burdick reported that a complaint had been lodged with him that a ditch along the south side of the Emmons property needed opening. This opened the old question of the ditch running north of the properties on Mill Street. Since the said ditch is on private property Council took no action, but it was decided to clean up the ditches on James Street and have new tile laid to facilitate the flow of water. Several other culverts in town were mentioned as needing attention and the streets committee were authorized to look after the work.

The needs of the Street Committee in repairing the various streets of the Village were also discussed at some length and the committee were authorized to use 150 yards of gravel in the work.

An advancement of $100 on the municipal levy was granted to Stirling Public Library on a request from Geo. H. Luery on motion of Burdick and Stapley.

The cutting of the weeds on the village streets was left in the hands of the Street Committee, with instructions to see that the work was done properly.

The caretaker of the cemetery was granted permission to do as he wished.

ed with the hay growing in the cemetery.

A complaint was lodged with Council of persons dumping offending refuse at the dump off Henry St. It was stated that the parties doing so were known. On motion of Councillors Burdick and Stapley Constable Eggleston was instructed to notify said parties to remove the offending matter at once. Instructions were also given that a sign forbidding the dumping of refuse at this point to be erected.

Permission was granted the Orange-ment of Stirling to hold a parade on July 12th and the use of Mill Street from North to James Streets for a street dance if required.

Reeve Cranston explained to Council that the local branch of the Women's Institute had had the dance hall and kitchen of the Community Hall painted, and while they had enough funds to pay for painting the stairway and the hall, they didn't have enough to buy the paint. With the rest of the community building re-decorated, Council agreed unanimously to supply the necessary paint to complete the job.

Notice of motion of the introduction of a by-law governing the running at large of dogs in Stirling at the next meeting of Council was given by Councillor Burdick.

Councillor Whitehead also gave notice that he would introduce a by-law at the next regular meeting to strike the tax-rate for the current year.

Councillor Stapley again addressed Council on the granting of the use of the water from the pond to operate his grist mill. The matter was discussed at some length but no action was taken and Council adjourned at about eleven-fifteen.

CONVENTION OF DISTRICT W.I.

Large Attendance of Delegates and Visitors — Election of Officers

The thirty-sixth annual convention of West Hastings district was held on Thursday in the theatre of the Community Building in Stirling. With the very appropriate background scenery and a profusion of potted plants and cut flowers on the platform, the newly-decorated theatre made a complete setting.

At the hour of ten o'clock, Mrs. C. Holmes, of Belleville, District President, and Mrs. P. Bronson, of Stirling District, secretary-treasurer, took their places on the platform to carry out their duties. With Mrs. T. Matheson as song leader, and Mrs. H. Moore as pianist, both of Stirling, the morning session opened with "O Canada", followed by the Maple Leaf. Institute Ode was followed by the Lord's Prayer.

At this time the following officials were called to the platform. Miss M. V. Powell assistant Superintendent of the Women's Institute, Toronto; Mrs. F. Denyes, Federation Representative, Brighton; Miss Polaird, leader in Girls' work from Toronto, and Mrs. W. C. West, president of the local W. I. The Secretary called the roll with the branches answering with a current event. Following are the ladies to represent their branch: River Valley, Mrs. C. Chard, who spoke on Stanley Baldwin's talk "The Youth of the Empire"; Stirling, Mrs. N. Westcott, "Invasion of Canada by C.I.O."; Bay of Quinte, Mrs. Boulton, "Foreign Values"; Chatterton, Mrs. B. Finkle, "Marketing Scheme — the Ontario Farmers' Products Act"; Wallbridge, Mrs. W. Wickson, "Coronation"; Uniondale, Mrs. K. Faul, "Lord's Day Act". The District financial report was given by the Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. P. Bronson; also the branch secretaries, including Mrs. F. McDonald, Miss E. Thrasher, Mrs. G. Frost, Mrs. W. Wickson, Mrs. T. Tucker, Mrs. R. Williams, Auditors Mrs. L. Rodgers and Mrs. B. Finkle gave the Auditors' report. The President, Mrs. Holmes, then gave her address. The chairman of each Standing Committee then gave the report of the year's work. Mrs. E. Chapman, Mrs. P. Utman, Mrs. C. Ketcheson, Mrs. B. Finkle, Mrs. T. Tucker, Mrs. H. Grey, Mrs. C. Chard, Mrs. L. Rodgers. This closed the morning session. All made their way to the newly-decorated community hall (this work being sponsored entirely by the local W. I.) The table had an eloquent appearance covered with white linen, shining silver and sparkling glass (all a property of the local W. I.). The cut flowers placed on the tables and around the hall were in the appropriate colours for Coronation — red peonies, white spirea and blue iris, placed in black vases which were so well arranged by Mrs. D. A. Burditt. The Institute colours were well displayed by being draped from one chandelier to another. This and the arranging of the tables were capably done by the committee in charge — Mrs. T. Gould, Mrs. H. Tulloch, Mrs. D. A. Burditt and Mrs. J. West. All sang Grace and then enjoyed the tasty viands this organization are so noted for.

The afternoon session opened at 1.15, with Mrs. R. Vanderwater, Chatterton, leading in community singing. The President called Mrs. Nicolson, a pioneer member, to the platform; also Mrs. Clancy, of North Hastings District. Mrs. W. C. West, in her pleasing way gave the address of welcome with Mrs. G. Burditt of Uniondale replying. Four little girls from Chatterton branch sang in alto and soprano voices a number which was greatly enjoyed. A deputation from the Women's Institute was named to interview the township in regards to Sunday evening or midnight dances at the pavilions. The ladies to represent the District are Mrs. K. Faul.

ATTEND GRAND LODGE

Messrs H. E. Hullin and Ernie Broadworth are in Toronto this week attending the sessions of the Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Oddfellows. Bro. Broadworth is the official delegate of Stirling Lodge No. 239, while Bro. Hullin will receive his official appointment as District Deputy Grand Master of Madoc District No. 45.

DONATES CUP

Hon. Dr. J. A. Faulkner, Minister of Health, has donated a cup for competition in the Rawdon Softball League. Four teams representing Springbrook, Bethel, Mount Pleasant and Glen Ross, are in the League and the first three teams will compete in the play-offs for possession of the cup. The second and third teams will play a semi-final series and the winner will meet the first-place outfit in the regular schedule.

HORSESHOERS ARE ORGANIZED

Officers Appointed and Plans Made For the Summer Season

The Annual meeting of the South Hastings Horseshoers' Association was held in Belleville on Friday evening last.

The following from Stirling Club were present: E. Fox, J. Mitchell, O. Casement and F. T. Hallin.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President — F. T. Hullin, Stirling. Vice-Pres. — B. Finkle, Halloway. Sec.-Treas. — E. Fox, Stirling. Stirling, Oak Lake and Belleville have already entered teams in the league, and it is expected that other centres will also be represented before many more days.

Stirling and Belleville staged an exhibition tournament on the latter's courts on Tuesday evening, which resulted in a tie, each organization winning four games. The following players from Stirling took part: J. Mitchell, F. T. Hullin, F. Butler, B. Long, O. Casement, M. Reid, A. Hullin and E. Fox.

On Thursday evening next, June 24th, Belleville will meet Stirling on the local courts and an interesting contest is assured, as the teams are evenly matched.

COLLISION

A collision between the Sidney Township grader and a Ford car, owned by P. Tobin, of Rawdon, and driven by Mrs. L. O'Shea, occurred at the corner of Front and North Sts. on Saturday afternoon about two o'clock. The grader, which was in charge of K. Faul, was proceeding across the intersection onto Mill St., when the Tobin car, which was turning onto North St. crashed into its side. The car was slightly damaged, but its occupants escaped injury.

RECEIVES DEGREE

Friends of Mr. Morgan Rowland, son of Rev. and Mrs. E. W. Rowland, formerly of Stirling, will be pleased to learn that at the Convocation ceremonies held at the University of Toronto on Tuesday, June 15th, he was given his B. A. degree.

Mr. Fred Joblin, son of Rev. and Mrs. F. G. Joblin, former minister on Rawdon Circuit also received his degree at the same ceremonies. Both these former residents were well and popularly known in Stirling, and everyone will join in wishing them continued success in their chosen field of labour. At present Fred is in charge of a mission in Western Canada, and Morgan is stationed at Tory Hill.

HONOURED BY PUPILS

On Tuesday afternoon, just before school was called at 1.30 the pupils of the Stirling High School assembled on the lawn at the school and presented Mr. G. L. Thain, who has accepted a position at Madoc, with a smoking set. During the time he has been connected with the teaching staff here Mr. Thain has made many friends and those members of his daily classes are very sorry to learn of his removal to another school. Miss Jean Donald made the presentation which followed the reading of the following address by Ralph Campbell.

Dear Mr. Thain,—

We regret to learn that you are leaving us after so short a stay, but we can say with pride that it has been a year filled with activities and successes inspired by the zealous interest and support you have given in class and on the campus. Not only are we indebted to your training in inter-form rugby and volley ball, which promoted such enjoyment during the fall and winter, but also for the coaching which won for us the championship honours in rugby, credit in the cadet corps and representation in the track finals. In the laboratory we have completed an enjoyable and profitable year which you have supplemented with the novelty and benefit of seeing our lessons applied by visits to notable industries in the county. With such a record we are naturally sorry to have you take away your genial supervision over lessons and games. Although we regret that we cannot have another year under your teaching, we wish you equal success in your new position.

For giving us so much worth of remembering, we beg you to accept this little remembrance of us.

Signed — The Students and Staff of Stirling High School.

LEADERS OF LEAGUE

Butler's "Gas House Gang" are leading the Town Baseball League by virtue of a win over Sid Williams' "Tigers" on Monday night at the school grounds, in a six-inning game. The final score was 21 to 5. Getting the jump on their opponents in the 17th inning when they hammered the offerings of Ryckman to all corners of the lot to score seven runs, the Gas House Gang were never threatened. Ryckman steadied away in the second inning and pitched splendid ball, errors by his teammates permitting the winners to score one in the second and one in the fourth. However, in the fifth he began to weaken and the Gas boys put six runs across the plate. A similar number were added in the sixth to bring their total to 21. Long, on the mound for the winners, although showing a streak of wildness at times, pitched good ball and was given splendid support by his fielders. Hullin counted the Tigers' first run in the second, and in the third Ryckman and D. Williams dented the rubber to bring their total to three. Blanked in the fourth and fifth they scored two more in the sixth when Sid Williams and McDonald counted. Lineups:

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Dewry on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Gainsforth, Mr. and Mrs. Bert McColl and Mr. and Mrs. Leland Bryant, of Wooler.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Butcher, of Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Hagerman and Mr. Wm. Rodgers, Belleville, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Rodgers, Ridge Road.

Mrs. Geo. Megginson, Mrs. Major Fraser, Mrs. Thos. Spry and Miss Gena Spry are in Toronto this week attending the Rebekah Assembly being held at the Royal York.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Wannamaker, Miss Ruby Wannamaker and Miss Pearl Pidgeon spent the week-end in Guelph attending the Bible Conference.

Mrs. Geo. Lagrow, Whitty, McGee and O'Donnell were in Kingston on Tuesday attending the seventeenth Annual National Convention of the Catholic Women's League of Canada. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. West, Stirling, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Bristol, Minto, Mrs. Ed. Wannamaker Sr., of Eldorado, and Mrs. W. C. West spent Tuesday in Lansdowne visiting at the home of Mr. Zara Bristol.

Mr. and Mrs. Goldie McInroy, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Champion spent Wednesday at Cobourg Park attending a picnic sponsored by the Eastern Ontario Treshermen's Association.

Mr. Peter Maybee, of Bloomfield, visited his cousin, Mr. Walter S. Martin, of Stirling, on Monday. Mr. Maybee, who is nearing his 95th birthday, and Mrs. Maybee, who is also over 90, have the distinction of being the oldest married couple in Ontario, if not in Canada, having celebrated last March over 70 years of wedded life.

HELD PICNIC

The members of the Bridge Street United Church Young People's Union of Belleville, had a very successful picnic on the Tabernacle Grounds, Oak Lake, on Saturday afternoon, June 19th.

BOWLERS AT MADOC

Messrs W. J. Whitty, J. S. Morton, J. E. O'Donnell and P. W. Long attended the men's rink tournament held at Madoc on Wednesday afternoon. The local rink were successful in winning one game out of the three played.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fox was the scene of a happy gathering on Saturday afternoon, June 12th, when twelve friends of Mary Agnes Fox were entertained at a party celebrating her seventh birthday. The afternoon music was spent in games and singing. Dainty refreshments were served, including a birthday cake decorated with seven candles. Those in attendance were Margaret Wilson, Iris and Eva Ann Bastedo, Dora Rodgers, Marilyn Eggleston, Beverly Ingram, Joan Green, Ruth Tulloch, Hene Gibson, Doris Jandrew, Francis Switzer and Betty Reid.

MASONS ATTEND DIVINE WORSHIP

Over Sixty Members of Order Attend St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church

The officers and members of Stirling Lodge, A.F.&A.M., No. 69, G.R.C., together with a number of visiting brethren from Tweed, attended Divine Worship in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, on Sunday morning, at 11 o'clock. The brethren assembled at the lodge room and paraded to the church under the direction of Wor. Bro. T. W. Soimes, director of ceremonies.

Rev. J. A. Koffand, minister of the Church, delivered a most inspiring sermon to the large assembly on the theme "The Building of Lives". "A sound foundation is the first step in the security of any structure, unsound moorings will cause any building to rock and crumble," he said. So with our own lives, we must build character upon which our moral structure stands. When things go wrong we should search out the "rotten timbers" in our own lives if we are to survive. In closing the speaker made a strong appeal to his hearers to "Build for God."

Special music was provided for the occasion by the choir under the direction of Mrs. R. H. Williams, who presided at the organ. An anthem "Lift up your Heads, O Ye Gates," was rendered by the choir, while Mr. Arthur Duncan offered a solo "The Heavens Declare the Glory of God."

At the conclusion of the service the brethren returned to their lodgeroom and were dismissed.

AND STILL GROWING

Farmers of this district are reporting an unprecedented growth in fall grains, and some records in this respect are being claimed. On Wednesday, Mr. Chas. Vance, who lives on the fourth concession of Rawdon Township, displayed a stalk of rye grown on his farm, measuring seven feet three inches. And still it grows.

DIES SUDDENLY

Residents of Stirling and district were shocked this (Thursday) morning to learn of the death of Mr. Fred Jones, of Seymour Township, following a short illness. Mr. Jones, who followed the occupation of butcher, was a frequent visitor to this village and was held in high esteem by a large circle of friends, all of whom will sincerely regret his sudden passing.

COUNCIL MET REVISION COURT

Number of Appeals Against Assessment are Considered

Members of Stirling Council met on Monday night in the Council Chambers as a Court of Revision. Each member took the Declaration of Office and Reeve Thos. Cranston was appointed as Chairman of the Court. The first appeal considered was that of Arthur Weaver against an assessment of $1200 on his house and lot on Front St. Mr. Weaver gave as his reason for appeal that his property was assessed too high in comparison to properties of a similar value in the vicinity. The assessments on the various properties in this section of the Village were considered, but Council decided to take no action on Weaver's appeal.

Two appeals from Mrs. R. Coulter against the assessment on the upper flat of the Empire Block and the former Royal Bank were considered also. These led to a lengthy discussion of the assessments on upstairs apartments in the Village and it was finally agreed that the assessment on the upstairs of the Empire Block was to be lowered from $500 to $400. No action was taken in the other appeal.

Ezra Nicolson also appealed the assessment on his property on Front St. as being too high in comparison with the other properties of the locality. Council agreed with his contention and lowered the assessment from $1500 to $1300.

These being the only appeals tabled the Council proceeded to examine the Assessor's Roll. As a result a number of the property owners will have to appear at an adjourned meeting of the Court of Revision later in the month and show cause why their assessment should not be raised.

The properties of H. Tulloch and Miss D. Caldwell, on Front St. W., were first considered and after a comparison of assessments in the locality the former was raised from $850 to $1100 and the latter from $800 to $1100.

The brick building owned by Warren Harlow on Mill St. E., was next considered. The present assessment is $1000 on the apartment occupied by H. Lummiss, but nothing appeared on the Assessor's Roll for the apartments that are vacant. Council reduced the assessment on the occupied apartment to $650 and assessed two other apartments at $700 each, making a total assessment on the building of $2050.

Discussion next centred on properties owned by E. G. Bailey. After the assessments on each property had been considered, it was decided to raise the assessment on the garage $400; the property occupied by E. Ormiston $200, and a part of the old town hall property used as a garage, $300.

The service station operated by Shell Gas Co., and owned by Council D. A. Burditt next came up for consideration and after a comparison had been made with similar properties in the village the assessment on this property was raised from $700 to $1100.

The property owned by C. Gay, and used as a grist mill by Ashley Brooks was also considered and the assessment was raised from $100 to $300.

The request for exemption of taxes on the Old Town Hall because it was being used for a House of Worship received from Mr. E. G. Bailey, was turned down by the Court.

The following changes were ordered and made on the Assessment Roll. John Ackers from Emily Street to

WHAT ABOUT IT?

"What about the meeting of the business men that was to have been held to organize an association in Stirling?" asked a prominent citizen while in conversation with us one day recently. Unfortunately we were unable to enlighten our questioner on the subject, because so far as we know, nothing has been done since the meeting to arrange for the half-holidays the difficulties that from time to time confront the individual merchants. The majority of municipalities of any size have such an organization and what is good for the majority should be good for Stirling. If anything is to be done in the way of an organization meeting it should be held at once before the holiday season opens. How about it?

SHOULD BE ADOPTED

If a suggestion made to officials of the Department of Highways goes into effect it will be compulsory for motorists to dim their headlights when meeting oncoming traffic. In view of the large number of accidents that are attributed to blinding headlights it is a wonder that this action had not been taken before. Anyone who does much driving on the highways after night knows how difficult it is in seeing at all clearly when meeting a blinding pair of lights, and how very often it becomes a matter of guesswork how near the shoulder of the road your car is travelling. With the average speed of motorists ranging from forty to fifty miles an hour, one needs only to lose sight of the road for a brief second to take the ditch or crash into an oncoming car. In our opinion this suggested legislation is long overdue and should be made effective at once. So long as the dimming of lights is left to the discretion of the drivers, blinding headlights will continue to be one of the main reasons given for many of the accidents that are exacting a heavy toll of human lives in this province.

BE CONSIDERATE OF TOURISTS

Although the height of the tourist season will not be reached until next month, it is reported that it has been running thirty-five per cent. higher than last year. This should be good news for business men and operators of tourist homes who are located on the beaten paths taken by these welcome visitors to our country, but care should be taken to see that the tourists are accorded every consideration in order that their visit may be a pleasant one. Some good advice to the public in fostering the tourist industry is contained in a recent editorial in the Whitby Gazette & Chronicle:

Do not 'soak the tourist'. Remember that the satisfied traveller returns and tells his friends to come with him next time. Don't kill the goose that lays the golden eggs.

Serve local foods. The traveller likes to feel that he is getting the usual type of provincial peculiar to the land he is visiting.

Arrange to give your visitors clean, soft beds, and see that adequate washing and toilet facilities are available.

Feature the Empire. Visitors from other lands like to see our flag, not their own, and like to feel the 'foreign' atmosphere of our country.

EXAMINATION TIME

School days will soon be over. Students at the local High School commenced writing departmental examinations yesterday and by the end of the month all classes both in the Public and High Schools will be through. Those who were successful in getting their examinations on their year's work will not be required to write departmental tests and will have a longer holiday. The pupils have been busily engaged in recent weeks in renewing their various subjects and some have taken extra classes after the regular school hours and on Saturdays in order to be better prepared to meet the final test. Whether or not they will be successful depends

Should there be failures, and there likely will be, the members of the staff of either public or high schools should not be held responsible in cases where pupils failed to give their best. Pupils should be taught at an early age that there is no short cut to an education, and it is only through hard work and strict attention in classes that success may be attained. So far as the Stirling Schools are concerned, the majority of the members of the staffs have proved their ability in past years. New members of the High School staff have given good service throughout the year and their work has been highly commended by the Inspectors from the Department of Education. The results at the local schools in past years have reached a high average and it is confidently expected that when the present year's results are announced the high standard of the past will have been maintained.

CURRENT COMMENT

Those who are constantly urging a paper to "print everything" are usually the loudest wailers when their toes have been stepped on.

The Strawberry Festival season is at hand and present indications are that there will be an abundant supply of this luscious fruit. Now for the good old strawberry shortcake!

Monday, July 12th, promises to be a gala day for the Orangemen in Stirling when a large number of the lodges of the district will gather here to celebrate the glorious 12th. Citizens should co-operate by decorating their places of business and their homes and making their visit a pleasant one.

Evidence of the seriousness of the tent caterpillar menace in this district is seen in the action of the Council of the town of Trenton, in passing a by-law making it compulsory for owners and tenants to destroy these pests. Provision is made by the by-law for prosecuting those who fail to comply with its provisions. While no such drastic action has been taken or even contemplated in Stirling, residents should take it upon themselves to do all that they can in destroying this threat upon all vegetation in the district. Start now and make it a point to destroy the tents of these crawling creatures.

With the Conservative Convention for the selection of a Candidate to contest the riding of West Hastings at the next Provincial election scheduled to take place in Marmora next Wednesday afternoon, there is considerable activity in the Conservative ranks of the riding. Just who will contest the convention is not known, but the names of Geo. Reid, ex-mayor of Belleville; Mayor Arnott, of Belleville; A. R. Burke, ex-Reeve of Sidney, and W. C. West, ex-Reeve of Stirling and ex-Warden of Hastings, are being prominently mentioned. These men have all served their respective communities well, and if they all should go to the post, next Wednesday's convention will probably witness one of the keenest contests for many years.

Citizens of the Village of Tweed are up in arms over the site which has been chosen for the erection of a new post office by the Dominion Government. It appears that in making the choice only a part of the local Liberal executive was consulted, and now that the other members of the executive, along with a large portion of the citizens are dissatisfied with the site which has been purchased, the "fat is in the fire". Letters have appeared in the Tweed News condemning the choice and petitions are said to have been circulated resulting in a large majority of the business men expressing their disapproval. Just what the outcome of the whole thing will be is hard to say, but it looks as though the Village on Lake Stoco will have to take its post office on the site chosen, and "like it."

Monday next is the first day of summer and it will only be a matter of a week or two before the holiday season will be with us and those who are fortunate enough to be able to avail themselves of the opportunity of enjoying a vacation will be journeying to the lakes and streams in search of pleasure and fresh air. For many of the children swimming and boating will be the chief pastime and it would be well for the boys and girls and their parents to observe the rules of safety. Care should be taken in swimming in places where the depth of the water is not known and never swim alone. Never take chances. Every year homes are saddened by the tragic drowning of young people who took unnecessary risks. Play safe and help decrease the annual tolls of human lives lost in the water.

In the open country. What other generation ever saw traffic speeded up to that extent?

too many small organizations depending on public support and lacking membership enough to get anywhere. This has a tendency to break the town up into small cliques, small cliques that are distrustful of one another and hate to see one or another go ahead and prosper. But your town has been made by you and you and if it is not what you would have it you might do a bit of re-creating, a bit of eliminating here and there to make it better.

TIME AND PLACE OF NATIONAL ANTHEM

(Collingwood Bulletin)

Some of our exchanges are arguing over the proper time for singing the National Anthem at public gatherings. Some say at the beginning, others at the close, while all agree that it should be included at least once. Many Canadian municipalities, it is said, have by-laws requiring that the National Anthem be used once, but do not fix the time. In a British country, as Canada is, such legislation is surely a reflection on the people, especially of the communities of which the governing bodies have felt it incumbent to so act. As the Stratford Beacon-Herald very reasonably and sanely puts it, "when the National Anthem becomes compulsory it really ceases to have much value. The playing or singing of it should be voluntary, a movement of the spirit. If an orchestra does not give the cue, some member of the gathering may act as precentor and give the lead. It is certainly no act of true patriotism if people have to be compelled by law to make gesture. If people do not want to pause for that purpose, but grab their hats and coats and start for the exits, it will only irritate them to be compelled to stand for the extra minute." While on this point there is one time at least when the National Anthem should supersede even the "smokes." That is at banquets. In England the smoker before the Royal toast would be the object of a general stare. He would be made feel so decidedly uncomfortable that he would wish himself elsewhere. To explain, the practice is to offer the toast as the coffee is served with an intermission following before the programme is taken up by the chair. This obviates violation of the correct procedure and gives time for social conversation.

A POSER

If a man is against Premier Hepburn on his Hydro policy, with him on the school tax question, opposed to his liquor policy but in favour of his stand regarding the Oshawa strike, how is he going to vote at the next election? asks the Goderich Star.

A TRIBUTE TO SIR ROBERT BORDEN

Comes a news-flash o'er the wires, He is dead — Sir Robert Borden, And a pang stirs every bosom. For the loss the country suffers In his passing.

Long and well he'll be remembered As a wise Canadian Statesman, Chief of State and worthy Premier, Through those awful years of warfare, And the months of reconstruction.

Strong in words but slow to anger, Wise in thought and keen perception, Courteous always to opponents; See we, in this elder statesman One whose loss we ill can measure.

Though he lived a life well rounded, And no strain his memory suffers, Yet when dies a man so useful, Even though his years be many, There's a sense of incompleteness, Of a life still in the making.

When a man so noble passes, Thinks not merely of "the curtain", Drawn to make a life that's finished, For the light he leaves behind him Will for years yet in the future Shed a radiance and a lustre On the path o'er which he travelled, As a heritage of goodness.

BELLEVILLE CYCLIST ENTERED IN RACES IN BRITAIN

Douglas, Isle of Man, June 14 — George Pepper, young Canadian motorcycle champion from Belleville, Ont., withdrew from the junior tourist trophy race during the fifth lap on Monday, ending his first attempt to win driving laurels in Great Britain. The event, first of three over the twisting, hilly island roads, was won by James Guthrie, riding a Norton. Fred Firth was second, J. H. White third and Stanley Woods fourth. The race was for machines of 350 cubic centimetres. Guthrie covered the 264-mile course in three hours, seven minutes, 12 seconds, with a record average speed of 84.43 miles per hour. He also set up a new lap record — 38 miles — of 26 minutes, 35 seconds at an average speed of 85.18 m.p.h.

A clerk was retiring after completing 25 years of faithful service.

On his last day at the office his employer presented him with a large envelope and said:

"This is a token of my esteem." The clerk opened it and found a portrait of his employer.

"What do you think of the gift?" "It's just like you," came the cryptic reply.

Inevitable

"Regardless of mishaps airplanes must advance."

"Yes, they can't go backward."

The Right Place

Stoneybroke was not feeling in the jolliest of moods. "Just look at that notice," he said, indicating the words "Post No Bills" on a blank wall.

"What is the use of sticking that up there? Why don't they put these things in the right place?"

"Where would you put it?" asked his friend.

"Over every letter box in the country," was the reply.

Strange

"I'll pay cash for the house."

"Hm-mm! This is such an unusual procedure that I'll have to ask you for references."

Invariably

"Does your husband confide in his business troubles to you?"

"Yes, indeed — every time I buy anything to wear!"

I'm worth more than you a hundred-fold,

And written on me in letters bold, Is the motto drawn from the pious creed,

"In God we Trust", which all can read. Yes, I know; said the cent.

I'm a cheap little mite and I know I'm not big, nor good, nor bright.

And yet, said the cent, with a meek little sigh —

You don't go to church as often as I.

Campaign Inaugurated To Eradicate Weeds

Jos. Wilson, Agricultural Representative Presides

Reeves, Councilors, Road Superintendents, Weed Inspectors and others interested in the welfare of the County gathered in Shire Hall for the purpose of planning the 1937 Campaign for the control of weeds.

Thirty-five such County Meetings are being held in the Province. Meetings in Eastern and Western Ontario are being held simultaneously.

If the interest and enthusiasm which was shown at this meeting is representative of public opinion throughout the province, a decided improvement in the weed situation may be expected during 1937.

Following the appointment of Jos. Wilson, as chairman, the Weed Control Act and its administration was discussed.

It was pointed out that the main purpose of the Act was to form a basis whereby everyone might co-operate in controlling weeds. Ratepayers with well-cared-for farms lawns and gardens must be protected, stated the speaker. The duty of the Weed Inspector is to see that they receive this protection.

The main clause or body of the Act reads as follows: "Every municipality in the Province must appoint at least one Weed Inspector whose duty it is to go over his municipality thoroughly often enough to know that weeds are not being neglected."

Provision is made in the Act whereby the Weed Inspector may enter on property and have weeds destroyed after having served notice of his intention so to do, if the owner or occupant fails to co-operate, the costs of which may be charged against the property and collected in the same manner as taxes.

Penalties are also provided in the Act for those who fail to observe its provisions.

The following weeds are listed as being noxious: Couch Grass, Bladder Campion, Dodder, Field Bindweed, Johnson Grass, Ox-Eye Daisy, Perennial Sow Thistle, White Cockle, Wild Mustard.

Weed Inspectors were instructed to make a thorough job of cleaning up, to endeavour in every possible way to arouse interest in the work and to secure the co-operation of everyone, to use good judgment when discharging their duties and to be firm when it was found necessary to enforce the Act.

Municipal Councils are appointed by ratepayers to safeguard their interests. Profitable crops cannot be grown when weeds are present. Weedy farms mean lower yields, less revenue for the grower and unpaid taxes. Municipal Councils can not evade their responsibility with regards to the control of weeds. It will pay them in dollars and cents to adopt a weed control policy and to enforce it vigorously, stated the speaker. Good Weed Inspectors must be appointed. These must be well paid and supported in their work. The part which the Road Superintendent plays in the control of weeds was also emphasized. Roads are public property, owned by the municipality. The Municipal Council are administering the Act and should first clean up their own property, thereby setting a good example to the ratepayers and thus making the work of their Weed Inspector much easier. The destruction of weeds on roadsides is road maintenance and the road authority is responsible for seeing that the work is done before seeds mature. He must have the support of his council in this work.

The Weed Control Act itself will not control a single weed, it was stated. Any work done must be the result of definite human action. The co-operation of every ratepayer is necessary. Pressure brought to bear on the Municipal Council by the ratepayers will strengthen their hand. Knowing that they have the support of the public in this important work of weed control, the council will be in a position to adopt a vigorous clean-up campaign and the work of the Council, Road Superintendent, and Weed Inspectors will be much more pleasant.

Weeds within the corporate limits of cities, towns and villages are a disgrace to the municipality.

The importance of the tourist industry in Ontario was emphasized.

Approximately $100,000,000 was spent in Ontario by tourists in 1936. A clean, attractive municipality will be an inducement for tourists to prolong their visit and to return. In this connection a clean province reasonably free from weeds is of equal importance.

Municipal Councils who are lagging in their work will be visited by District Inspectors and pressure will be brought to bear if necessary in order to bring them up to the standard set by others.

The Crops, Seeds and Weeds Branch through its District Inspectors will act in supervisory capacity and will be prepared to give information on any phase of our work and also to assist Weed Inspectors with any difficult problems which they may have.

In discussing weeds and weed control, H. J. McLeod discussed the losses due to weeds by way of decreased yields; robbing soil of plant food and moisture; increasing the cost of every farm operation; lowering the market value of crops and value of farms, etc. This annual loss amounts to millions of dollars each year in Ontario, stated the speaker. He also emphasized the importance of sowing clean seed, soil fertility, thorough cultivation, a short rotation of crops, early maturing varieties, clovers, smother crops, the use of chemicals, roguing, pasturing, hoed crops, summer fallowing, after-harvest cultivation and the disposal of weed seeds, all of which are important factors in weed control.

The cleaning of the threshing machine and all equipment before moving as provided for in the Weed Control Act will assist greatly in controlling the spread of weed seeds on to roadsides and on to neighbouring farms. It was pointed out that threshers should be vitally interested in weed control. Their business and revenue is governed by the condition of the crop which is being threshed. These in some cases may be lowered seventy-five per cent due to the presence of weeds, the co-operation of every thresher is solicited in a Province-wide weed control programme. The registration of threshing machines was also thoroughly discussed and it was explained that (1) Every threshing machine in the Province must be registered. (2) Every threshing machine will be issued a certificate. (3) In the case of every machine which operates for hire the fee of $1.00 must accompany the application. (4) Every machine which travels over public roads should pay this registration fee. All threshers must be treated alike and if we hope to retain their goodwill and to secure their co-operation this work must be thoroughly done. Weed Inspectors were urged to see that this legislation was adhered to within their respective municipalities.

The use of chemicals for the eradication of weeds is past the experimental stage, it was stated. Chemicals are not being used extensively and successfully for the eradication of weeds and brush on roadsides, fence lines, paths, etc., and for the control of small patches of new weeds and persistent perennials in cultivated areas.

Experiments which were conducted throughout the Province during the past two years proved conclusively that weeds can be eradicated on roadsides with very little injury to grass at costs less than that which would be expended for cutting and that the costs will become less each year. Several County Engineers and municipalities have now purchased sprayers and are proceeding to clean up their roadsides. Summer holidays need not be marred in the future, stated the

"Just what the Doctor ordered!"

Dr. Dafeo's license plates carry the same number and medical insignia as he has had for several years—D-70, the best-known license number in the North.

A NEW Chevrolet—that's the prescription Dr. Allan Roy Dafeo, famous mentor of "the Quints", writes for himself when it comes to motoring.

"Above you see 'le docteur'—as his five little friends call him—with his new 1937 Chevrolet Coach, fifth Chevrolet he has owned. "I get as big a kick out of this new model," he tells us, "as I did out of the first car I ever bought—that good old 'Four-Ninety' you people built, back in 1916!"

We're happy Dr. Dafeo chose a Chevrolet. And we are proud that most people prefer our car. The fact is, Chevrolet has led in sales for 3 of the last 4 years.

What makes it so popular is the Chevrolet habit of giving more for less. There's no other car in the lowest price field that offers you Unisteel Turret Top Bodies by Fisher—Valve-in-Head high-compression engine—perfected Hydraulic Brakes—Knee-Action gliding ride—Safety glass—Fisher No-Draft ventilation. And owners report 25 and more miles to the gallon of gas!

See and drive Chevrolet yourself, before you decide on any other car. It's priced with the lowest... costs you less to run... and it's The Only Complete Low-Priced Car! (Payments to suit your purse on the General Motors Instalment Plan.)

Four little girls from the Allan School sang "Happy Comrades" with Mrs. Kenneth Weaver as accompanist. Miss Anna Sharp read the Bible Lesson and Miss Vera McAdam read a Missionary selection. Three little girls from the Williams School sang "Working Together," with Miss Edna Thrasher as accompanist. Mrs. Roy Thrasher gave a brief glimpse of an airplane trip visiting the missions of the United Church in Trinidad, Africa, India, China, Korea and Japan. Rev. J. E. Beckel brought "Echoes from the recent Conference held at Smith's Falls. Misses Gladys Summers and Evelyn Melville gathered the offering and Miss Muriel Milligan staged an interesting game.

Woman's Missionary Society Entertain

Mount Pleasant United Church was the scene of a happy gathering on Wednesday, June 9th when one hundred assembled to enjoy an "At Home" given by the twenty members of the Society. The church was resplendent with baskets of peonies, lilies, spirea and yellow roses. Five auxiliaries were represented, Wellmans, Eggleton, Hoards, West Huntingdon, United, and St. Andrew's. Mrs. John Holmes and Mrs. Allan Bailey welcomed the guests and Misses Eileen MacMullen and Edna Thrasher were in charge of the registering. The programme was in charge of the President, Mrs. Percy MacMullen, who presided over the service and introduced the guest speakers, Mrs. H. B. Herrington, Thomasburg, Periodical Secretary of the Bay of Quinte Conference Branch, and Mrs. W. S. Gordon, Tweed, vice-President of Madoc section. The service opened with quiet music played by Miss Edna Thrasher and the call to worship on "Service" followed by the "Doxology." As this was the regular June meeting the Secretary, Mrs. Roy Thrasher read the minutes. The Treasurer, Mrs. Arthur Phillips, reported seventy-seven dollars to date. Seventeen members answered roll call and the other three were unavoidably absent. The 19th Psalm was read responsively and Mrs. J. E. Beckel offered prayer. Mrs. Morris Rose graciously welcomed the guests. The President paid tribute to the work of the first president, Mrs. James Williams who began her duties in 1901 and carried on pioneer work for a period of ten years. All were delighted that Mrs. Williams was privileged to attend this "At Home"; also one of her faithful workers in the person of Mrs. Frank Williams. The second president was Mrs. Allan Bailey who is still actively engaged in the missionary work. In honour of the King's Birthday celebration all stood and sang the National Anthem. Mrs. H. B. Herrington was the first speaker and she gave a splendid address on the Literature of our Society. She said if we are going to do efficient work we must have tools to work with; namely, the Blue Book or Annual Report, the guide to prayer, and The Missionary Monthly. This last is the official magazine of the Society and contains valuable letters from missionaries and many interesting stories of the work in Canada and foreign fields. The little paper "World Friends" should be in the hands of every small child as it is full of interest from cover to cover. Mrs. C. S. Reddick, of Hoards, Society, read a splendid selection dealing with supply bales and the value of sacrifice in giving to this department. Mrs. Morley Haggerty, Mrs. W. Benson, Mrs. J. McLeod and Mrs. Will Shaw, of West Huntingdon, St. Andrews, delighted with a quartette and Mrs. Sam Donnan played the accompaniment. Mrs. W. S. Gordon, Tweed, brought a message of inspiration along Missionary lines, dealing with the various departments of the work. She also gave some personal items which she had recently received from Dr. Florence Murray of Korea. Dr. Murray is a medical missionary in Ham Heung, Korea. Mrs. Gordon referred to Dr. Katsunoff of the "Church of all Nations", Montreal, and the wonderful work that he is accomplishing among the Europeans and said there is a great scope for us to Christianize the strangers within our gates as well as to learn of their wonderful culture and handicraft. Mrs. Raymond Chambers of Eggleton sang a vocal selection, "God's Sunshine" with Mrs. G. Pidgeon as accompanist. Mrs. Clifford Clancy, Wellmans, read a splendid paper on "The Church and Community" and said "Any woman who isn't a missionary Christian is a missing one." Mrs. William Fitchett, West Huntingdon United, gave "Building for Eternity" as a message of song, with Miss Thrasher as accompanist. Brief addresses were given by the presidents of four auxiliaries and Mrs. Israel Clancy brought greetings from Wellmans. Mrs. John Rennie of Hoards spoke on "The Value of the Missionary Monthly." Mrs. George Pidgeon, Eggleton "Our Responsibility to the new Canadian." Mrs. John Wallace, West Huntingdon, St. Andrew's, "The worthwhile things of life." Mrs. Sam Fargey, West Huntingdon United, "A Valuable Motto." Rev. H. B. Beckel, pastor of Rawdon Circuit, also spoke briefly on behalf of the men folks present in the assemblage. Mrs. Kenneth Weaver tendered a vote of appreciation on behalf of the hostess auxiliary to the guest speakers and auxiliary visitors for their splendid entertainment. The afternoon offering amounted to over eleven dollars was solemnly dedicated by Mrs. John Holmes. The service closed with the rendition of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" and Mrs. Allan Bailey gave the Dismissal prayer. The guests repaired to the Church Hall, which was also adorned with bouquets of summer blooms. After all were seated Grace was sung and an appetizing lunch was served by a bevy of young ladies and members of the Society. At the front of the hall a table was arranged with the central decoration a silver basket of pink peonies. Mrs. George Weaver and Mrs. Frank Smith poured tea while Mrs. Frank Jeffs prepared the beverage in the kitchen. Among those who helped serve were Mrs. Edgar McKeown and Frances, Mrs. Don Campbell, Mrs. Blake Sharp and other members of the Society, and the Misses Phyllis David, Anna Sharp, Muriel Sine, Doris Sine and Muriel Milligan. Mrs. John Rennie and Mrs. George Pidgeon tendered a vote of thanks to Mount Pleasant ladies for their kind hospitality. Mrs. Ross Hoard led the assemblage in the singing of "God be with you till we meet again" and Rev. Beckel dismissed the gathering.

BRIDE AND GROOM HONOURED

Last Tuesday evening about twenty acquaintances and friends from Holloway and Belleville journeyed to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bonisteel to spend a few short social hours with them. They desired to express to Mrs. Bonisteel (nee Miss Lottie Windson) the esteem in which she was held in the community and to wish for both many years of wedded bliss. The happy couple were completely surprised at the invasion, and, after an enjoyable time of chatting had passed, Mr. Harry Reid, who acted as chairman, called the meeting to order. Mr. and Mrs. Bonisteel were presented with a silver tea service after the following address had been read:

Holloway, Ontario,
June 8th, 1937

Dear Lottie and William,—
We, your neighbours and friends have gathered this evening that we may rejoice with you on the occasion of your marriage. Due to the fact that you have always been an active member in the community and church life, we thought it only fitting that we should offer our congratulations and wish you both much happiness for the days that lie ahead. You, Lottie, have been a faithful friend, willing at other relatives.

Robert Christie was a good man, thoroughly sincere. He had many estimable qualities. He exemplified these sterling qualities which mean so much to both home and community, a quiet follower of his Lord and Master. He was one of the most even-tempered of men. Anyone who knew him could not think of him as being officious. Still waters run deep.
His thoughts of life did not flow on the surface. A deep sense of justice not only meant to discriminate between right and wrong, but coupled with that was a Christ-like obligation to help where help was needed. He was honoured and respected by all who knew him, wielding an influence for good at both home and abroad.
We thank God for his quiet, devoted life to all with whom he came in contact.

The funeral cortege proceeded from his late home, Church street, to St.
Paul's United Church, Stirling, where an impressive service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. J. Scott, M.A., assisted by Rev. R. E. Newman, pastor of Holloway St. United Church, Belleville. The text was 2nd Cor.: 17-18 —
"For our light affliction which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding weight of glory." The hymns were "Nearer my God to thee and 'Abide with me'. An anthem was most beautifully rendered by the choir "Come ye Disconsolate". The pallbearers were Messrs Wilbert Christie, Gordon Jarvis, Leslie Kingston, Angus Mumby, Lindsay Pollock.

T. W. GOODHEW PASSES

T. W. Goodhew, for 25 years superintendent of the Northern Elevator company, with headquarters in Winnipeg, died in Victoria, B.C., on May 31st. Mr. Goodhew, who was 78 years of age, was born in Bath, Ont., and arrived in Manitoba in 1878, locating at Emerson, where he had resided until his retirement eleven years ago.
He became a grain buyer and filled responsible positions at many points, joining the service of the Northern Elevator Company when a young man.
He later became connected with other grain firms, and in the capacity of grain buyer he travelled widely over the southern part of the province.
The private funeral service was held in Victoria on Thursday and burial was made in Royal Oak Burial Park.
Besides one brother, Charles, living in Winnipeg, there survives another brother, George, and a sister Etta, living at Victoria; a sister, Mrs. Mary Morrow, Stirling, and a sister, Mrs.
D. A. Fraser, Emerson, Man. Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Morrow, of Stirling, and Mr. Will Morrow, Seattle, were in attendance at their uncle's funeral. —

BOAT, CAR, HORSE RACES TO FEATURE PICTON CENTENNIAL

At the end of this month Picton will commence six days of celebration of its hundredth anniversary of the incorporation of the town and arrangements have been made to make the period from June 30th to July 5th the greatest celebration ever staged in Eastern Ontario.

While something is planned for every hour of the whole six days, July 1st, 3rd and 5th are undoubtedly the highlights. On July 1st the Prince Edward County town will stage the greatest regatta ever held in this province. It is the first ever sanctioned by the American Power Boat Association and this means that any records established will be recognized as official. The $500.00 Gold Trophy for the seventy-mile an hour 225 class has attracted the best boats on the continent and several world record holders will compete. A score of the better American drivers have entered the outboard races and the whole setup promises a day of thrills.

Hon. Earl Rowe has entered his horse, Blue Mountain Chilcoat, in the horse races on Monday, July 5th and will drive himself. $1500.00 in prizes has assured an attractive field and the entries include horses from Michigan, New York, Quebec and Ontario.
Something new in the way of thrills will be the Midget Car races which have been sweeping the States this summer. On Saturday, July 3rd, ten of these little cars will strut their stuff on the Picton track. They are capable of hitting better than eighty miles per hour. Motorcycle races and a death-defying crash and stunt car will add thrills to the same program.

SPEED TRAP AT COLBORNE?

were increased on May 24. Chief of Police Joseph Farrell has for the past several weeks been clocking motorists passing through the village and has been issuing 30 or more summonses weekly, mostly, he claims to motorists driving past the school area in excess of 50 miles an hour. For court held there last week more than 30 summonses were issued, all for

FUNERAL OF REV. C. J. GAUL, OF FLINTON

Rev. C. J. Gaul died rather suddenly at his home at Flinton on Friday, June 11th. The funeral service was held on Monday, June 14th, in charge of Rev. Jas. E. Beckel, of Stirling, assisted by Rev. James Semple, Belleville, Rev. W. R. Merrick, Canflinton, Rev. W. H. Foley, Springbrook, and Rev. J. W. Ogden, of Denbigh. Nine other ministers were also present. Interment was made in the cemetery at Keene. He leaves to mourn his loss, his wife, two daughters and one son.
One brother is a minister at Niagara Falls, U.S.A. He was in his seventy-ninth year and has been a faithful servant of the Christian Church.

LUNGE GROW SLOWLY FIRST FOUR YEARS

That a muskelonge after growing very slowly for the first four years of its existence gains very rapidly both in length and weight during the next couple of years is the interesting discovery made by Professor Harkness of the Department of Biology after a long study of these battling fish. Professor Harkness says that at the end of the first year a muskie weighs only three ounces and two years later his weight is only nine ounces. Then he begins to expand. By the close of the fourth year he is from 22 to 27 inches long and he tips the scales at from two to three pounds. Another twelve months finds his length has increased from 29 to 32 inches and his weight may be anywhere from four to eight pounds. At the close of the sixth year he may run as long as a yard stick and he'll weigh in at 9 or 10 pounds. He doubles up in poundage in the next two years, his ninth anniversary finding him 43 inches long and weighing in the neighbourhood of 20 pounds. When Mr. Musky reaches the age of 12 he is quite a fish, according to Professor Harkness, who says that a 12-year-old muskelonge will be over four feet long and possibly weigh 36 pounds.

WORLD'S NEWEST BIG SHOW TO BE NEAR HERE

The world's largest circus, traveling on three trains of double-length steel railroad cars, with 1,080 people, 30 elephants, 812 menagerie animals and 500 horses will exhibit in Belleville, on Friday, June 25, and throughout this section plans are perfecting for the attendance of every man, woman and child — so it seems — at one of the performances.

Everybody wishes to see the Cole Bros. — Clyde Beatty Circus this year, which returned early in 1935 from a triumphal five-year tour of Europe, and it is a foregone conclusion that the world's largest tent, seating 10, 000 persons, will be filled to the last chair, afternoon and night. Six rings and stages and the hippodrome track, to say nothing of the vast aerial maze for the earth's foremost acrobatic talent — 400 acknowledged kings and queens of daring, grace, skill and incredible agility. Sixty clowns will project ten times that number of mirth waves.
Countless new foreign features and innovations new to America are introduced on the gigantic program of the world's greatest amusement institution. Clyde Beatty's gigantic trained animal exhibition will be presented in the main performance.

Ken Maynard, the screen's greatest Western star, will personally be seen at every performance. Maynard has starred in 87 pictures produced at the major studios in Hollywood. He is by far the highest priced star ever to be seen with a circus. Appearing in his wild west show this season will be scores of champion cow boys and cow girls, Indians and Cossacks.

One of the largest, finest and costliest street parades will be seen at 11 a.m. Hundreds of horses, five herds of elephants and two caravans of camels from the great desert will be seen. In the picturesque life of march will be more than three score elaborately carved and gilded allegorical floats, tableau wagons and open dens and cages displaying the Clyde Beatty menagerie. Doors to the big show and the menagerie will open at 1 and 7 p.m. The big shows start at 2 and 8 p.m.

In a Line-Up
you are Courteous—

Try Courtesy in the Traffic Lines

YOU, like most people, are courteous when you line up at the wicket to buy tickets. You stay in your place, do not jostle your neighbour, you respect his rights, and otherwise act towards him in a courteous manner.

But do you think and act towards your fellow-motorist in this same kind and courteous manner when you get behind the wheel of your car and roll along the highway?

Do you sound your horn when about to overtake him and then pass at a safe distance?

Do you keep to the right so that others may safely pass you?

Do you hand signal when you are about to stop, start, slow down or change direction?

Do you drive at the speed of the traffic you are in so as not to impede other drivers and cause them to "cut-in"?

When you need to sound your horn do you do so in a friendly manner or do you give it a frightening blast?

If you have not tried these courteous driving manners, I earnestly suggest that you try Courtesy when you get behind the wheel of your car or truck.

To "Try Courtesy" is to add greatly to your own pleasure and safety in driving as well as to that of your fellow motorists.

Leashed Guns of Circle L

by Perry Westbrook

Final Instalment

SYNOPSIS: Slim Loyale is paroled from prison after serving 18 months for a crime he did not commit. He returns to his Circle L ranch to find his father dead and sinister forces at work, trying to make him violate his parole so that he can again be railroaded to prison.

The Brockwells and their gang are plotting to gain possession of Circle L ranch and the property of Mona Hall, a neighbour and life-long friend of Slim Loyale.

Slim discovers that Sheriff Starbuck has joined the plot against him. With the help of Dakota Blue and his cowboys, Slim Loyale defies the land-grabbers to do their worst.

The concussion of that roaring discharge brought a shower of broken glass from the raised window sash, and the recoil upset old Joe as though a horse had kicked him. The buckskin screamed wildly, spun around twice then raced away. But it went with an empty saddle. Following horses leaped high as they hurdled the still figure in the street.

Five seconds later it was all over. Joe Rooney crawled to his feet, rubbing his shoulder ruefully. "What a cannon! Shore I felt my shoulder blades touch when that damn thing went off that time. I shore musta hit something."

"I'll say yuh did, Joe," grinned Slim. Then he leaned out of the window and yelled, "Hi, Roy! Stoney! Yuh all right? This is Slim!"

"Shore an' we're coming along, Slim, my lad. Be with yuh in a minute." Roy and Stoney Sheard were soon in the Wild Horse, both uninjured. They looked anxiously at Dakota, who was sitting in a chair while Spud Dillon carefully cut away the bloody pants leg. Dakota grinned dryly.

"Keep yore shirts on, yuh two ole slyound haws. It ain't nothin' to worry about. I could stand a little jolt of liquor, though."

"Get a bottle, Joe," puffed Spud. "Yuh other boys help yoreselves. My treat."

The liquor steadied them. Stoney Sheard turned to Slim. "What say we sashay up the street a bit, Slim? I kinda think I got Brockwell when they was ridin' for a getaway. I know I hit him, an' he was beginnin' to wobble just as they went outa sight past the livery stable."

Slim nodded and they went up the street, picking their way past groups of excited, jabbering townspeople. Sure enough, not twenty yards beyond the northern end of the street they found Sarg Brockwell. He was sprawling flat on his back, his face to the sky. A single look satisfied them that there was nothing they could do. As they turned back, Slim remembered George Arthur. "We got to find that crooked lawyer, Stoney. Brockwell can't talk, but Arthur can an' will, before I get through with him. Yuh didn't see him with that crowd anywhere?"

The cowboy chuckled sardonically. "Him? Why he ain't got nerve enough to get within three miles of a gun muzzle! Yuh'll find him hollerin' up somewhere, scared into fits."

They slipped past the Wild Horse, where Roy O'Brien and Spud Dillon were taking turns at explaining to a clamoring crowd, just what it was all about. It was Stoney who spied the crack of light at the bottom of the door leading into Arthur's office.

"Looks like somebody might be in there, Slim," he drawled. "We can investigate, anyhow."

Slim tried the door, found it locked. Pressing his ear to the portal he listened intently. From inside sounded thick, measured snores. "Sounds like somebody was sleepin' off a drunk," he muttered. "Well, we're goin' in. Give me a heave with this door."

Before the combined weight of them, the door sagged, creaked, then broke open with a crash. George Arthur was sprawled across his desk, his head pillowed on his arms. The air was foul with stale whiskey fumes.

Slim nodded with satisfaction. "Close the door an' shove the chair against it, Stoney," he directed.

He crossed to the sleeping man and shook him roughly. Arthur sighed, coughed and tried to push him away. Slim jerked him erect in the chair and slapped him stingingly on both sides of his face. Arthur's eyes opened.

"G'way," he murmured gutturally. "G'way and lemme sleep."

Slim shook him until his heels rattled. The lawyer started at him vacantly for a moment, his jaw hanging. Then slow recognition pierced through the liquor haze which had deadened his brain.

"Loyale," he murmured. "You — what d'you want?"

"Plenty," snapped Slim. "Get yore wits together. Yuh've got a lot of explainin' to do. Stoney, pour him another drink. It'll straighten him up for a time."

Arthur gulped the liquor greedily and wiped his lips with the back of a shaking hand. A drunken truculence took hold of him. "Get out," he growled. "Got no use for you, Loyale. I hate the sight of you. Get out of this office."

Slim shook him again, half lifting him from the seat, only to fling him back again with a crash. "I'm tellin' yuh somethin', yuh drunken rat. Listen close. Starbuck an' both Brockwells are daid. Get that? Daid!"

Arthur's head came up. "Huh?" he gasped. "Dead?" you're lying."

"Don't kid yoreself. Starbuck an' Leo Brockwell were killed tryin' to raid my ranch tonight. Sarg Brockwell was killed tryin' to hold up the Standard Bank, not fifteen minutes ago. But before he died, Jigger Starbuck talked. Yeah, yuh got a lot of explainin' to do."

Arthur sat quietly, evidently trying to arrange his hazy thoughts. Presently he looked up. "You haven't got a thing on me — not a thing. I won't say a word."

Slim dragged up a chair and sat down, so that he could stare straight into the lawyer's bloodshot eyes. "I think yuh will," he said, a deadly chill in his voice. "Consider my side of the matter. Yuh can clear my name, give written evidence to the world at large that I was railroaded to the pen on false, perjured evidence."

"It just happens, Arthur, that I got a funny idea about honour. I don't care to face the rest of my life with a jail stain on it. An' I'm plannin' a powerful lot for some happiness in the future. So if yuh think I won't go to the edges of hell itself to get complete clearance yuh're badly mistaken."

"I made the threat that yuh'd talk an' make a complete written confession, if I had to use Apache methods to wring it outa yuh. I ain't changed my mind. We've cleaned house on this range, Arthur — cleaned it plenty. We didn't stop at rockin' off the Brockwells an' Jigger Starbuck. So if yuh think we'll back down from addin' yuh to the list, yuh're some mistaken."

"I'm admittin' this: in a fair court yuh can probably beat a death sentence, 'cause we got no direct proof of yuh killin' anybody. But if yuh ever hope to get in front of that kind of court, yuh better do as I tell yuh. Otherwise, it's a rope an' a cotton-wood tree for yuh; that is, if yuh don't die under a little red-hot iron treatment. Yuh're listenin' to the gospel truth, Arthur. I'm gonna get what I want, or know the reason why."

Still half drunk as he was, Arthur could not help but read the truth in Slim's words and looks. His head went down again. "If — if I do as you say, what assurance have I that you'll play square?" he blurted.

"My word; nothin' else. But my word's good, an' yuh know it. Are yuh ready to do yore stuff?"

Arthur gulped and nodded. "Give me a pen and some paper."

In the glowing dawn of a new day, a little cavalcade jogged its way from Pinnacle out to the Circle L Ranch.

In the lead rode Slim Loyale and Stoney Sheard. Following them was a buckboard, with Roy O'Brien driving. Sitting beside Roy, with his legs cushioned and propped up by wads of blankets, was Dakota Blue.

"I suppose Slim'll be after seein' the governor right away?" suggested Roy.

Dakota nodded and grinned. He's as feverish as a hound pup after its first rabbit. Don't know as I blame him, though. The kid has been eatin' his heart out all along about Mona Hall. He's plumb loco about her.

"An' though he's never hinted it to me, I know he's had some dang-fool ideas about honour that's keepin' him from tellin' her. Reckon he's sorta felt that with that prison record on his head, he had no right to ask her to marry him."

Roy snorted. "As if that'd be after making one bit of difference to Miss Mona. She knowed, bless her heart, that Slim is innocent, same as the rest of us. Shore, an' she's a fine girl. She'd stick to the man she loved regardless. But yuh have to honour the boy for his pride, just the same."

At the home ranch Slim wasted no time. He shaved and cleaned up, donning his only suit of store clothes.

Out at the north end of Jericho Valley, in company with Sam Tisdale and Abe Fornachon, Mona Hall sat in her saddle and watched the leaders of long tides of cattle flow out across her range, headed north towards those promised lands in the Knapoo range.

As soon as Tisdale made the agreement as to price with Slim Loyale he had sent word to his trail mates to start the herd moving. And the herd was now on its way to the new promised land.

Mona turned to Tisdale. "I feel like a robber, Mr. Tisdale, taking a quarter a head for the mere passing of those cattle. I don't see where they can possibly do that much damage."

Tisdale grinned. "Don't let that worry yuh, Miss Hall. Me an' the rest of the gang are glad to get by with that price. We're quite willin' to pay it. And here comes somebody that looks as if he was in a danged hurry."

Mona whirled and followed Tisdale's pointing arm. Sure enough a rider was loping steadily towards them and Mona recognized Slim.

A puncher had ridden from town to tell her of the the thwarted bank holdup and the part Slim and his boys had played. But she had heard nothing of Arthur's confession, and, while she had expected that Slim would ride to her when the fight was over, yet she could not help the queer feeling that came over her now at the sight of him.

Slim cantered up, giving a cheery greeting. He shook hands with Tisdale and Abe, then turned to Mona. "I got somethin' to explain to yuh, Mona," he drawled. "How about a little ride? These boys can watch the cattle."

Mona nodded. "I think so, too. You'll excuse us?"

"Go 'long, young 'uns," laughed Tisdale, who guessed how things stood between these two.

Slim rode for two miles before he reined in. Then he turned to Mona, his eyes glowing. "I've got Arthur's signed and witnessed confession that I was framed," he stated. "And that makes it fair that I should say what I'm going to say, Mona." He reached in one pocket and brought out a tiny, plush bubble of a case.

"Back in Jarillo there were times when I thought I'd go crazy. At those times there was just one thing that kept my feet on the ground, an' that thing was thinkin' of yuh. Lookin' back I can see where yuh've been my guidin' star all my life."

"Unconsciously I built my scheme of livin' around yuh. It wasn't whether I wanted to do this or that merely because I wanted to; it was because I always did what I thought you would approve of. Even when yuh were a little, long-jailed kid with pigtail down yore back, there was no greater reward for duty, than yore smile."

"I've gotten so used to that standard of reward now, I can't face the rest of life without it. Before I got this confession, I had no right to ask yuh. Now I can. I've loved yuh forever, it seems like, Mona. Will yuh marry me?"

She looked at him, her lips parted, her eyes glistening. "If there was anything that would keep me from saying yes, Slim Loyale, it is because you were so silly in feeling that you could not ask me until your name had been cleared. A woman who would hesitate over such a foolish thing, would not be worth thinking about. Your name has always been clear to me, Slim. I'll marry you tomorrow, if you wish. I've always loved you, Slim."

There was a rather dizzy interlude, during which a diamond solitaire that Slim had purchased in town that morning was unearthed from the plush case and placed on the proper finger. "There's just one argument I've got to settle," said Slim. "Why wouldn't yuh take that money from me to pay Arthur with, honey?"

"Because I didn't want to be in debt to the man I was going to marry," replied Mona daintily.

Slim chuckled. "Plumb shore of me all the time, wasn't yuh?" Mona dimpled. "I had hopes." Slim reached for her again.

CHEESE BOARD

A price of 14 3-4 cents was paid for a total of 2,681 cheese, all white, on the Belleville Cheese Board at Saturday's trading. Buying was among Mr. McCreary, Mr. Cook, Mr. Hunter and Mr. Hart.

For the first time in years bidding did not rise above the initial bid of 14 3-4 cents registered at the opening by Mr. McCreary.

All cheese offered sold. Buyers present were: Messrs Taylor, Hart, Hunter, McCreary, Cook, Morton, Fraleigh, Ashton.

First request for exemption from compulsory boarding of cheese, as required under the newly legislated Farm Products Control Act, by James Cook, local cheese buyer, who asked that three factories, Elmwood, Northport and Union of this district, engaged in making special, off-shade coloured cheese was registered on the Belleville Cheese Board on Saturday's trading.

It was moved by W. C. Morrow, past president of the Board, seconded by Mr. Chase that exemption be granted. This motion will be forwarded to the local office and in turn presented to head office of the Control Board for final decision.

39,000 Truck Owners Can't be wrong

THEY BOUGHT CHEVROLET Trucks

IN Canada, there are, it is estimated, about 39,000 owners operating Chevrolet trucks. Some are individual operators, others control whole fleets.

In the hands of these men, Chevrolet trucks are daily demonstrating the stamina, dependability and economy which General Motors builds into them on special truck assembly lines. They are establishing outstanding performance records.

With so many owners getting so much satisfaction from Chevrolet commercial vehicles, perhaps you, too, would find it to your advantage—and profit—to investigate the 1937 line. In it there is a low-priced model for every purpose.

Talk it over with your Chevrolet dealer—now! He is prepared to make a liberal allowance on your present truck or trucks... and to arrange convenient financing through the General Motors Instalment Plan.

History of S.S. No. 11 Rawdon Township

The first reference to the school land is in a deed dated Nov. 11, 1850, given by Hon. Edmund Murray and his wife, of Belleville, to William Courtney, Lot No. 4 in the eighth concession of the Township of Rawdon, in which he reserves the lot given to the School Trustees for school purposes.

A little log school was built, a little to the north of the present one. Mr. John Courtney was the first teacher of which any trace could be found, who taught in this school. The Inspector at that time was Mr. Agnew of Madoc. The trustees at that time were: Wm. Haggerty Jr., Charles Wright and James Cooke. Church was held once a month in this log school. Mr. Wm. Haggerty Sr., of Stirling, has in his possession two books which he won as first prizes in mental arithmetic and geography in a contest for the whole township of Rawdon. The names of the books are: "The Wild Man of the West or a Tale of the Rocky Mountains", and "Walter Bavey's School Days at St. Winfred's". Margaret McConaghy came second in this contest.

In 1867 the present schoolhouse was built. Improvements on the school are:

In 1894 it was generally repaired and new windows put in. There are two windows on each side and one on each side of the porch at the front.

In 1898 a new wood-house was erected. In 1907 all new up-to-date desks and teacher's desk were purchased. In 1913 new slate blackboards were put in. In 1923 a new hardwood floor was put in.

The school equipment consists of a Babcock Tester to be used in Agriculture. It has an up-to-date library containing good books for young and old. In 1923 a gramophone account was started. A Hallowe'en Concert was put on by the school pupils and the younger members of the community. The proceeds of this went towards the purchase of a gramophone for the school. Ever since money has been added to this account, for the use of the pupils for treats, etc., at Christmas and Summer Holidays. This is kept separate from the funds of the School Board.

Madeline Bailey; 1929, Mabel Varty; 1930, Mabel Lloyd; 1931-35, Vera S. Wright; 1935, Edith E. Tanner.

An interesting fact when Mr. J. McCrease was teacher was that there was woods all in front of the school. At noon the teacher was playing dog and deer with the pupils and got lost in the woods and did not arrive back at the school until 3 p.m.

Many former pupils of our school have made good. Chief of these is the Late Hon. J. R. Cooke. He was born in Sept. 1866, in Rawdon Township, Hastings Co. He received his education at S.S. No. 11, Rawdon. He was a member without Portfolio of the Ontario Cabinet. He was also a member of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario since 1923, and became Chairman in 1931. His work with rural Hydro stands as one of his supreme achievements. He saw education as a means of improving life, and to that end he made an intense study of rural and urban school problems. He was at one time suspected as a possible Minister of Education because of his abiding interest, but he was named to the Hydro instead. He was an affable, kindly thoughtful and considerate man who everyone loved to meet.

There are also High School Teachers, Public School Teachers, Steno-graphers and Nurses who graduated from the school.

Secretary-Treasurers

1891, Mr. Phillip Brown; 1892-1896, Mr. George Belshaw; 1896-1904, Mr. John Tanner; 1904-1937, Mr. Chas. Mumby.

Among the former pupils who served overseas are: John Sweet, Wesley Sweet, Claude Belshaw, Percy Mack, Stanley Hengle, George Wickens.

BELLEVILLE MARKET

Home-grown strawberries highly coloured and full-flavoured occupied the attention of Saturday morning shoppers at the Belleville Market when they made their 1937 debut in a fair quantity. The size and flavour of the initial offering of this popular fruit were above the average of former years, according to many prominent growers, and prospects for a good crop look exceedingly bright, providing the weather man obliges with some much-needed rain.

While the majority of vendors offered their stock at thirty cents per box, a decrease of five cents from the price quoted in the Thursday market, one optimistic vendor held out for thirty-five cents.

Vegetables Plentiful

With Spring vegetables rapidly approaching the peak of production, onions, lettuce, radishes, etc., were available in large quantities. These sold generally at five cents the bunch and in some cases were offered at three bunches for ten cents. New spinach marked a sharp decline in price, selling at five cents the pound, due, it was stated by vendors, to the fact that imported stocks were flooding the city stores. Asparagus was also plentiful, but showed no noticeable decline in prices. Pound lots were quoted at fifteen and twenty cents. New cabbage struck a popular note with Saturday morning shoppers, selling at from ten to fifteen cents per head. Fruit was conspicuous by its absence with a few pineapples, imported, and the last stocks of winter apples being offered for sale.

Sturdy-looking tomato plants were also plentiful, but met slow response from buyers. These were offered at forty and fifty cents per hundred. Cabbage sets were quoted at fifty for twenty cents. Blue raspberry sets were scarce and sold sluggishly at the current quotation of two cents each.

1936 potatoes showed a marked decrease in stocks with prices remaining fairly steady. Bushel lots were offered at one dollar, with pecks quoted at thirty cents. There were no new stocks available.

Fish lovers' tastes were held to two varieties with whitefish and fresh lake trout being the only two fish available. Both sold at twenty-two cents per pound.

A fine display of dairy produce greeted purchasers in the inside market, with eggs, chickens and butter being offered in large quantities. Eggs remained firm with "A" selects offered generally at nineteen and twenty cents the dozen. Mediums were quoted at eighteen and seventeen cents, with a fair quality of ungraded stock selling at nineteen cents. Butter showed little change in price with the majority of stock offered at twenty pounds for fifty-five cents. A few vendors quoted a straight price of twenty-five cents the pound.

Young broiler chickens catered to a lively market selling at prices ranging from sixty cents to as high as one dollar per pair. Fowl and hens were also plentiful retailing at from fifty cents to one dollar each. Home cooking booths did a brisk business with a fine exhibit attracting many fair market.

WOODMAN COMMITTED ON MURDER CHARGE

Robert Woodman, 23-year-old Kalar Township resident, charged with murdering Aubrey Sedore, was committed for trial Saturday at the conclusion of a two-day preliminary hearing before Magistrate E. J. Butler, of Belleville, at Napanee. It is alleged that Woodman murdered Sedore, 29-year-old hermit trapper, between Feb. 8 and May 20 this year, and attempted to destroy the body by burning it in a swamp a short distance from the Sedore home on the Sixth Concession of Kalar Township. Woodman will stand trial at Napanee next November.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL ON MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

Winfield H. Ross, Belleville, was committed for trial at the Autumn Assizes of the Supreme Court on a charge of manslaughter, following the preliminary hearing held at Tweed on Thursday afternoon. He is alleged to have been the driver of the car which ran down Mrs. Emma Root on Highway No. 37, two miles south of that village, resulting in her almost instant death. Evidence was presented that Ross had been drinking previous to the fatality, and Chief Constable Clare Hayes, in his evidence, said that in his opinion Ross was intoxicated. Hayes said Ross smelled strongly of liquor his speech was incoherent and he walked unsteady.

SETTLEMENT MADE

A claim by Mrs. Caleb Wheeler against the corporation of the Village of Stirling for damages to his property by the fire which burned in the municipal dump at the western limits of the Village for some weeks last summer, was settled on Monday for the sum of $25.00, the amount being set by Mr. Wheeler.

ODDFELLOWS AT TWEED

Eleven members of Stirling Lodge No. 239, I.O.O.F., attended the annual Decoration Day and Church Service of Tweed Lodge on Sunday afternoon. Those attending from here were Bros. W. L. Anderson, J. B. Thompson, H. Johnston, Thos. Montgomery, J. M. Magee, Earl Fox, Alex. Park, H. E. Hulin, E. T. Ward, Fred Kent and Guy Bradshaw.

Appointed District Deputy Grand Patriarch

Past Chief Patriarch Alex. Park, of Stirling Encampment No. 80 was appointed District Deputy Grand Patriarch of District No. 20, at the sessions of Grand Lodge which he attended in Toronto this week. The local district consists of four lodges, Picton, Belleville, Trenton and Stirling. Patriarch Park has long been active in Oddfellow circles and his appointment is a most popular one.

FIRST STRAWBERRIES

Home-grown strawberries made their first appearance on the streets of Stirling, on Monday at twenty-five cents a box. A few hours later they were going at twenty cents and yesterday were offered at two boxes for twenty-five cents.

CAMPBELLFORD WINS FOUR

Stirling Tennis Club met the Campbellford team on the courts at the latter place yesterday afternoon and the following were the results of the matches played:

Mixed Doubles — Ken West and Betty Nicol lost to Don Meyers and Miss Malcolm 6-4, 6-4. Ken Nicol and Phyllis Stockloser lost to Web. Kingston and Elsie Connor 7-5, 6-1.

Men's Doubles — Louis Grimes and Harry Lovibond lost to Cliff Weston and Harry Free 6-2, 6-1. Des. Jackman and J. Ward lost to Ken Kingston and Jim Heppenstall 6-4, 6-2.

Ladies' Doubles forfeited to Campbellford.

BETHEL THE WINNERS

Playing on the High School grounds at Stirling, on Tuesday night, Bethel Softball team took the Glen Ross squad into camp by the one-sided score of 20 to 3 in seven innings. The winners displayed superiority in every department of the game with the boys from the banks of the Trent falling to show their usual good brand of game. Runnalls on the mound for the winners turned in a splendid exhibition of hurling, while his infield backed him up in faultless style, with Bill Sutherland scintillating around the initial sack. R. Pyear, a rookie, on the mound for Glen Ross, pitched good ball at times, but Bethel batters hit him hard once he weakened. Once he gains a little experience he may surprise his opponents.

The lineups were as follows:

Bethel — R. Bateman, 1f; B. Sutherland, 1b; B. Heath, 2b; E. Runnalls, p; B. Ryckman, ss; B. Morton, cf; G. Green, rf; M. McKeown, c; D. Richardson, 3b.

Glen Ross — H. Brown, 2b; B. Reynolds, 1f; A. Fraser, ss; J. Brown, 3b; G. Pyear, 1b; F. Armstrong, cf; A. Holland, rf; A. McDonald, c; R. Pyear, p.

Bethel 1048016 — 20

Glen Ross 0000030 — 3

On Saturday night, on the same diamond, Bethel defeated Mount Pleasant 17 to 5 in a five-inning game before a large crowd. Tuesday night Springbrook defeated Mount Pleasant by the one-sided score of 15 to 3.

These games are proving to be popular and are certainly worth the support of the fans. It is to be hoped that all these softball teams will receive their deserved support. No community can keep a team in the running unless the fans turn out to help. So once more, get behind these teams.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Stirling, Ontario,
June 15th, 1937

Dear Sir,—

We are informed that many beautiful flower beds have been molested and destroyed lately. Dogs, we know, trample down little plants, but taking flowers is not the work of dogs. There are many lots vacant in Stirling, and anyone wanting flowers and vegetables could easily raise them and not steal them. It is not only the stuff that is taken but the damage done to what is left. Have a thought for other people's belongings.

A FLOWER LOVER

SUNDAY SCHOOL LEADERS PICNIC AT OAK LAKE

Over one hundred ministers, ministers' wives, S. S. superintendents and teachers met together on the Tabernacle grounds at Oak Lake, on Wednesday, June 16th, for a day's study of the problems of the Sunday School and Church. The project was under the direction of the Religious Education Committee of the Belleville Presbytery, of which Rev. S. L. Osborne, Napanee, is chairman, and Rev. H. Pointen, of Northport, is Secretary. The special speakers were Rev. Manson Doyle, D.D., and Miss NeTannis Semmens, of Toronto. Interesting addresses were also given by Mr. Kent, of Deseronto, Mr. W. H. Hooper, of Napanee and Rev. H. Pointen, of Northport. The worship periods were conducted by Rev. H. E. Wellwood, of Napanee and Rev. W. P. Fletcher, of Odessa. The interest and enthusiasm of the two groups held proved the value of this convention. At the noon hour a picnic lunch was held on the spacious Tabernacle property. Plans are under way to have a similar gathering next June.

HOUGH - MANSUR

At the Church of the Messiah on Saturday afternoon, June 5th, the marriage was solemnized of Mary, daughter of Mrs. George Shearer and the late C. H. Mansur, of Winnipeg, to Mr. Aytan Lloyd Hough, of Shawinigan Falls, Que., son of Mr. J. G. Hough and the late Mrs. Hough of Cookshire, Que., the Rev. Lawrence Clare officiating. Miss Frances Church of Coaticook, Que., attended the bride as maid-of-honour. Mr. David Mansur acted as best man for the bridegroom and the ushers were Dr. W. L. Ball and Dr. Sidney Ball. Given away by Mr. Shearer the bride wore white marquisette with a Dutch cap and shoulder veil of tulle, and carried white lilies. The maid-of-honour wore a frock of powder blue organdy with a hat of powder blue taffeta, and carried pink roses and forget-me-nots. A reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents. For travelling, the bride wore a grey crepe dress with navy blue cape, hat and accessories. They will reside at Shawinigan Falls.

"Hm-mm! This is such an unusual procedure that I'll have to ask you for references."

Que. Among the out-of-town-guests at the ceremony was Mrs. Jas. McC. Potts, of Stirling. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hough are well known in Stirling. Mrs. Hough attended public school here for a short time, while Mr. Hough was a college chum of Ned Potts and visited him at his home here on a number of occasions.

GRAND OLD PIONEER PASSES

Another of the noble links which bind us with the past was broken on Sunday, June 13th, when Armina Lucella Searles died in her ninety-first year, at the residence of her son, Mr. B. R. Searles, at Oak Lake.

Mrs. Searles was a life-long resident of Sidney township, and long ago united with the Sidney Baptist church, being born on May 1, 1847, the second daughter and last surviving member of a family of seven, born to the late Jonathan Faulkner and Pamela Turner of the Turner Settlement, one of the oldest settlements in Hastings County. Her husband, the late Benson Searles, predeceased her almost fifteen years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Searles selected the site of their home on beautiful Oak Lake just fifty years ago, where they moved with their four children, and settled amid very primitive surroundings. Her loom and spinning wheel in the kitchen corner clad not only her own family but those of her neighbours in homespun, blanketed their beds and carpeted their floors, while at the same time the potash kettle boiled in the fallow.

Both being possessed of a charming personality, this together with the natural beauty of the place, made their home from earliest times a Mecca for Sunday and holiday visitors and thus the home has gradually developed from the log cabin, still standing on the property, into which they moved, to the fine modernly equipped farm and popular tourist resort known as Crescent Beach, one of the best-known in Eastern Ontario today.

From such as these Ontario's grand-est rose.

Her four children, Winnie (Mrs. H. S. Dafee) of Trenton; Lillie (Mrs. L. B. Windsor) of Haliburton; Burton on the homestead at Oak Lake and Fred, of Thurlow township, still survive, together with twelve grandchildren and twenty-one great-grandchildren.

Her echo rolls from soul to soul and grows forever and forever.

The funeral was held from her late residence on Tuesday at 2 p.m. Interment in Stirling cemetery.—(Con.)

Convention of District W. I.

Mrs. B. Finkle and Mrs. C. Holmes.

Mrs. S. McIntosh, of Stirling, recited in good form "The Old man goes to town." The Secretary was ordered to send a letter to Dr. Faulkner, Minister of Health, Toronto, thanking him for the interest he showed in the Clinic the Institute held in March. Flashes from the Belleville Convention were well outlined by Mrs. J. Wilson, of Stirling. Chatterton ladies then gave a synopsis of one of their successful meetings. Mrs. Finkle called the roll, each replying with their favourite poem and author Mrs. Bleeker gave an outstanding paper on "Education" while Mrs. Snider demonstrated an afternoon institute lunch; also told of its food value, which was very interesting. Mrs. Shorey of Wallbridge gave a splendid reading entitled "How do you tackle your work?" Miss M. V. Powell then discussed the co-operative program. The members decided on speaker service in Health Education; also the District Rally again this year. An item of great importance was stressed by Miss Powell in regards to the District Director. The District Director should be prepared to discuss and voice the feeling of her branch in any matter of business. Miss Pollard, leader in girls' work, gave her usual interesting annual address. Stirling number was given by a group of public school pupils under the direction of Miss J. Moffat. Mrs. F. Denyes, Federated Representative, gave flashes from the Federated Board, Toronto. One desire was that each lady attending Belleville Convention would they kindly wear a badge with their name placed on it. Mrs. J. Kane, River Valley, invited the audience to their branch for the next District Annual. It was unanimously decided to accept this invitation. At this time Mrs. B. Finkle, Chatterton, moved a hearty vote of thanks to the Dept. speaker, the Federated Representative; Mrs. Moore, pianist, Mrs. T. Matheson and Mrs. R. Vandervoort and to the Stirling Village for the use of the Community building, and Stirling Ladies' which all together made the day an outstanding convention.

Following are the names of the ladies who attended and registered in the book supervised by Mrs. Rodgers and Mrs. Kane: Mrs. E. Snider, Mrs. R. Townsend, Mrs. C. Carter, Mrs. W. Cadman, Mrs. J. Kane, Mrs. C. Chard, Mrs. P. Utman, Mrs. L. Rodgers, Mrs.

ORANGE LODGES ATTEND CHURCH

Rev. W. J. Scott Delivers Inspiring
Message at St. Paul's

St. Paul's United Church was filled to capacity on Sunday morning when the officers and members of Stirling L.O.B.A. No. 655 and L.O.L. No. 110 attended divine worship. Rev. W. J. Scott, minister, delivered a most inspiring address on the subject "The Liberty of Protestantism." The members of the local lodges assembled at their lodge room on Front St., and headed by Stirling Citizens Band, under the direction of Bandmaster Maurice Bell, paraded to the church. The parade was marshalled by Bro. Orval Casement.

Rev. Scott's message was based on the text "Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage." When Jesus began his ministry after his stay in the wilderness he entered into his work with a freedom of action which amazed his critics. He gave a new meaning to the Sabbath. His chief mission was to bring liberty to his people. The Sabbath was made for man and for the first time the great things in the Jewish Church were thought of as something for man instead of something absolute. Freedom has been the watchword of great and bloody revolutions. The individual workman disliked anything with a tendency to deprive him of his liberty. In no realm had liberty been greater than in that of religion. Whenever this freedom had been threatened there had been opposition. The greatest movement against the loss of freedom was the Protestant Reformation, which supported the view that the people should have direct access to God. The greatest distress from political upheavals had been in those states that had escaped from being effected by the Protestant Reformation. Russia, Spain and Mexico were mentioned by the speaker as examples of states where the religious liberty of the people had been threatened. Those democracies imbued with the liberty spirit of Protestantism had shaped themselves in an orderly fashion. "Protestants and the Orange Order must oppose encroachments on the protestant liberty," stated Rev. Scott. Religious liberty had to do essentially with the liberty of the individual. "How are we availing ourselves of the opportunity of public worship?" asked the speaker. Some people went anywhere but to the church. Protestants should do the things that are right because of their love of God. No true Protestant only went to Church once or twice a year, but was always interested in the work of God.

Special music was rendered by the choir, under the direction of Mr. G. L. Clute, organist and choir master. Mrs. Hubble and Miss Ruth Martin rendered a duet and the choir offered an anthem.

At the conclusion of the service the parade reformed and proceeded to the cenotaph where a two-minute silence was observed in honour of the brethren who gave their lives for King and country, following which they returned to the lodge room and were dismissed.

PASSES R. N. EXAMS

Miss M. Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Richardson, of Stirling, who recently graduated from Nicoll's Hospital, Peterboro, received word on Wednesday morning that she had been successful in passing her R. N. examinations. Her many friends are extending their congratulations.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY TO MEET

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Horticultural Society will be held in the Agricultural Rooms tonight (Thursday) at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of making a decision on holding a Flower Show some time during the summer months. Last year's show was not as good as the one held the year previous due to the severe drought, but with the numerous rains that have visited this season so far this year there should be an abundance of flowers of good quality. It is fully expected that the directors will decide to hold another show this year.

INJURED AT LAKE

M. McGillivray, a young man from when he was thrown from a roller coaster at Oak Lake on Sunday afternoon, suffered painful bruises. The injured man was riding the toboggan while in a standing position and when, for some unknown reason it stopped part way down the chute, he was hurled over its front onto the surface of the chute, from where he slid into the water. He was taken from the water and brought to Stirling for medical assistance. No responsibility for the accident is attached to the owner of the coaster as persons using it do so at their own risk.

MASONS AT TWEED

Messrs Jos. Wilson, H. Francis, R. B. Duffin, Thos. Solmes and Dr. E. A. Carleton were in Tweed on Sunday afternoon attending the Masonic Service, under the auspices of Tweed Lodge No. 239, A.F. & A.M., held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. Rev. W. A. Hunter delivered an excellent address on the theme "Masonry and Labour."

TO OUR CORRESPONDENTS

Owing to next Thursday, July 1st, being Dominion Day and a public holiday, we are asking our correspondents, advertisers and contributors to have their copy in this office as early as possible to ensure publication. We have appreciated your co-operation in the past and trust that you will again assist us in this regard. We thank you.

LEAVE ON TRIP

Early on Sunday morning Councilor D. A. Burditt and Mrs. Burditt left for a two-weeks motor trip through the United States and Northern Ontario. Mr. and Mrs. Burditt left here for Cleveland, Ohio, and from there they will direct their course to Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., making a number of calls on friends en route. Here they intend to spend a few days with their daughter before starting on the homeward trip.

STIRLING MEETS DELORO TOMORROW

Weather permitting, the local baseball fans will be given an opportunity to see the first game of the season with an outside club tomorrow (Friday) night when a pick-up team from the Town League will meet the fast-travelling Deloro team in an exhibition game. The game will start promptly at six o'clock and it is anticipated that there will be a large crowd of fans on hand to cheer for their favorites. There is only one way of assuring the successful comeback of baseball in Stirling, and that is by having a good attendance at the games. Will you do your bit towards fostering good, clean sport in the community? Be on hand at the High School Diamond tomorrow (Friday) night at 6 o'clock.

MINISTERIAL PICNIC

One of the most interesting picnics ever held by the Ministerial Association was held in the cottage of Rev. W. J. and Mrs. Scott at Crow's Landing, Stoney Lake, on Tuesday, June 22nd. The day was spent in boating, bathing and visiting. Both at the noon and supper hour the group enjoyed the meals prepared by the ladies, which were served in the Scott cottage. At the close of the evening meal thanks were extended to Rev. and Mrs. Scott and boys for their hospitality; good wishes to four of the members who are leaving the association, namely Revs. H. A. Foley, W. P. Fletcher, J. C. Lowrie and H. Turner; and sympathy to the Secretary, Rev. J. A. Koffend, who because of illness was unable to attend. Among those present were Canon and Mrs. Swayne, Bonarlaw; Rev. and Mrs. McDonald and family, of Roslin, Rev. and Mrs. Beazor, of Roslin, Rev. and Mrs. Kennedy, Madoc; Rev. and Mrs. Foley of Springbrook; Rev. A. S. and Mrs. McConnell and family, Stirling; Rev. W. Fletcher, Rev. J. E. and Mrs. Beckell and family, Stirling, and Rev. W. J. and Mrs. Scott, of Stirling. Arrangements were made to hold the next meeting the third Monday in September.

WEST HASTINGS TORIES CHOOSE THEIR CANDIDATE

R. D. Arnott, Belleville, Wins on First Ballot - Rowe Speaks

Mayor R. D. Arnott, of Belleville, was chosen Conservative Candidate for the constituency of West Hastings at the next Provincial election, at a large and enthusiastic convention held in the village of Marmora on Wednesday afternoon. The 31-year-old Belleville barrister was victor on the first ballot over two other nominees, H. B. Fetterley, Belleville, and Arthur L. Burke, of Sidney Township.

The guest speaker of the afternoon was Hon. Earl Rowe, leader of the Conservative party, who delivered a lengthy address in denouncing Premier Hepburn and his government. He was supported on the platform by E. G. Johnston and R. Philpott, Conservative organizers for Eastern Ontario, and other party stalwarts.

Reeve William Linn, of Marmora, welcomed the delegates, and R. A. Elliott, of Deloro, president of the Association, presided. The following officers were elected: President, Col. A. P. Allen, Belleville; Associate President, Mrs. Harry Naylor, Belleville; First Vice-President, Dr. Carleton, of Stirling; Vice-Presidents of ladies' section, Mrs. Blatherwick, Bancroft, and Mrs. E. G. Bailey, Stirling; Secretary, R. H. Ketcheson, Belleville; Treasurer, C. S. Rollins, Coe Hill; Auditors, Clem Ketcheson and Fred Wilson, Sidney Township.

In opening his address Hon. Mr. Rowe stated:

"Never before have we seen such a surrender nor retreat in the Ontario Legislature as we have witnessed during the past three years. The Prime Minister has tricked the public school supporters, deceived the separate school supporters, and has made Hydro, the greatest public ownership system in the world, nothing more than a political football. He has negotiated for 456,000 additional horse power after cancelling the Hydro contracts, and has repealed his school bill, the most iniquitous piece of legislation ever introduced."

"Hepburn has the millionaire press monopoly, The Globe and Mail at his back, he has held more portfolios than Mussolini, and is directing nothing more nor less than a rubber stamp Cabinet. I would rather never be Premier of Ontario than sell out the integrity of this Province as he has done. He is now trying by legislation to nullify the judgments of the courts of Ontario."

Attacking the Prime Minister on his liquor policy, Mr. Rowe said that the "floodgates of beer have been opened, and a vicious patronage system has been inaugurated in which legislators are getting licenses wholesale for their friends."

"The Oshawa strike was just another form of political strategy which Mr. Hepburn tried to use to effect," he said. "Mayor Hall didn't ask for help from the Prime Minister, but Mr. Hepburn spent $85,000 which belonged to the Province to settle the strike which could have been handled easily without his intervention."

"He now says he is through with Mackenzie King, but the Prime Minister of this Dominion told Mr. Hepburn that he was through with him a year ago," he said.

"The Conservative Party will always be opposed to the C.I.O. or any other lawless group. It stands 100 per cent. for law and order, and I am prepared at any time to assist him in keeping it established," Mr. Rowe declared. "The British Cabinet does not call out a battleship every time some foolish statement is made from a soap box in Hyde Park, yet Mr. Hepburn plunged the Province into further debt by his bluff and camouflage on the Oshawa strike. I challenge him to deny that he has increased the salary of the conciliator, Louis Fine, since the strike."

"He is being stampeded by The Globe and Mail, and if all signs are true this millionaire group is trying to buy up more press power in this Province. No one newspaper in this Province is big enough to dominate the Conservative Party nor its policies. Behind the headlines of the McCullough-Wright newspaper there lurks the idea of a coalition between the barons of St. James Street, Montreal, and the wealth of Bay Street in Toronto."

HELD BEE

Members of the Stirling Agricultural Society met this (Thursday) morning at the Fair Grounds for the purpose of cleaning and levelling the grounds in preparation for the season's activities. There were quite a number on hand and a distinct improvement is noted in the appearance of the grounds.

"CORONATION RIBBON" FOR FALL FAIR

The usual list of prizes offered at the Stirling Fall Fair will be augmented this year by a "Coronation Year Rosette Ribbon", from the Ontario Association of Agricultural Societies. For some time the Association has contemplated offering an award for agricultural achievement and chosen Coronation Year to make a start. The Ribbon will be presented to the Stirling Agricultural Society, which will have the privilege of choosing what class or line of work it will be awarded in.

The ribbon is very attractive, of purple satin, rosette type with triple streamers, lettering and crown imprinted in gold and a gold finished inch and three-quarter button on the face of the rosette, on which there is printed "Ontario Association Agricultural Societies, 1937."

F. R. Mallory, Secretary of the Stirling Society, has the ribbon in his possession and a decision on the choice of class for which it will be offered will probably be made at the next meeting of the directors.

HOLD SOCIAL EVENING

A social evening was held on Tuesday in the lodge rooms of Laurel Rebekah Lodge No. 211, with Campbellford and Madoc lodges as guests and taking part in the programme. Madoc took charge of the first part of the programme and put on two contests with the groups divided according to birthday month.

At this point Laurel Lodge No. 311 took part and Mrs. Jos. Greenly was called to the front by Mrs. Percy Utman, who read an address, and Miss Nina Carlisle presented her with a silver cake plate as a wedding gift. Campbellford presented their part of the programme by opening with community singing. A short play was given by five members from Campbellford, which was much enjoyed. The same five sang "A Bible Story You've Never Heard before."

Mrs. E. Bailey, of Stirling lodge, gave a reading on "A Writ-up on a Wedding". More community singing was enjoyed. Lunch consisting of ice cream, cake and tarts was served to bring a very pleasant evening to a close.

RURAL LEAGUE GOING STRONG

Bethel Squad Take Firm Hold in the First Division

Saturday evening, on the local School Diamond, Bethel increased their lead in the Rawdon Softball League when they met and defeated the Springbrook team by the one-sided score of 21 to 8 in a six-inning game before one of the largest crowds of the season. Broadworth, on the mound for the losers, pitched good enough ball to win most games, but his support was very erratic at times and contributed in a large degree to his downfall. Runnalls pitched good ball for the winners and was never in trouble, his teammates giving him splendid support. Taking a five-run lead in the initial inning, Bethel was blanked in the second, but added three in the third. The fourth was their big inning and seven runs crossed the plate before they were retired. One more was added in the fifth and five in the sixth. Springbrook scored one in the first and second innings, two in the fifth and four in the sixth for a total of eight.

The line-ups were:
Bethel - R. Bateman, 1f; B. Sutherland, 1b; B. Heath, 2b; Ryciman, ss; E. Runnalls, p; B. Morton, cf; Green, rf; M. McKeown, c; D. Richardson, 3b.
Springbrook - G. Heath, 1f; H. Bateman, cf; C. Heath, rf; G. Broadworth, p; H. Bateman, 2b; C. Thompson, ss; C. Bailey, 1b; R. Bailey, c; M. Heath, 3b.

Tuesday evening on the School Diamond, Bethel were again victors when they defeated Mount Pleasant by the score of 22 to 12 in five innings, before a fair crowd. The winners outbatted the Mount Pleasant boys but were given a close battle for the first few innings. Don Broadworth pitched for the losers and gave a good exhibition of hurling, while Runnalls on the mound for Bethel was in his usual good form.

Bethel fielded the same team as in their Saturday game and the following performed for the losers:

Mount Pleasant - J. Coggin, c; D. Broadworth, p; Bert Jeffs, 2b; H. Bedford, ss; T. Bedford, 3b; R. McConnell, 1b; C. Potts, rf; H. Smith, cf; C. Dunkley, cf.

The score by innings:
Mt. Pleasant 13313-12
Bethel 05755-22

On the same evening Springbrook defeated the Glen Ross squad by the score of 6 to 3 in a hard fought struggle.

Saturday night's game on the local school diamond will be between Mt. Pleasant and Glen Ross.

ATTENDS M.O.H. MEETING

Dr. H. H. Alger attended the Dominion Medical Health Officers' meeting held at the Chateau Laurier in Ottawa, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week.

HORSESHOE NOTES

Members of the Stirling Horse-shoe Club will be hosts to the Belleville Horse-shoe Club tonight, (Thursday) at 8 o'clock, when they will meet last year's League Champions in an exhibition tournament. The locals have been practising faithfully for several weeks and are determined to start the current season with a victory over their rivals. While this game is purely an exhibition, both clubs will be trying hard in preparation for the opening of the regular schedule, which takes place next week, and some good contests will be witnessed.

THANK YOU!

This office is indebted to Mrs. Chas. Linn, of Front St., for a beautiful bouquet of American Beauty Roses grown in her garden. The bush from which these flowers were picked had fifty blooms on it and some sixty or more buds. Mrs. Linn also has a fine display of peonies in her garden, which is one of the beauty spots of the village. We extend our thanks and appreciation to Mrs. Linn for the bouquet.

A LITTLE PAINT NEEDED

Several of the business men along Front and Mill Streets have dressed up the fronts of their stores with a fresh coat of paint, and as a result the business section of this village has taken on a fresh and attractive appearance. With the merchants showing the way it might not be too much to ask the Village Council to have the fire hall on the east side of Mill St. have a coat of paint. The window frames and the doors have become weather-beaten and dull and are badly in need of redecorating. It would not take a great deal of material to do the job and whatever the cost, it would be greatly overshadowed by the improved appearance.

A MATTER FOR THE POLICE

According to a letter which appeared in last week's issue the latest type of depredation being practised in Stirling is the theft of flowers and vegetables from a number of the flower beds and gardens in the village. Citizens spend no little time and money in an effort to improve their home surroundings and the village as a whole, and to think that there are persons residing in the village who have no more sense of propriety than to steal the flowers and trample the beds is almost unbelievable. It is believed that the thefts are the work of young boys and an effort should be made by the authorities to put a stop to it. If allowed to continue, the practice may grow until it will be impossible for citizens to have any blooms in their yards. The boys who are responsible should take warning and cease their despicable actions or else they are heading for trouble.

COUNTY RATE REDUCED

Of interest to the ratepayers of the County of Hastings as a whole was the reduction of one and one-half mills made in the County Tax Rate at the June sessions of the County Council last week. This reduction was made possible in part by the action of the Provincial Government in assuming the cost of Old Age Pensions and the Mothers' Allowance and will be good news to the over-burdened taxpayers. It will be particularly welcome in Stirling where there is every indication of a raise in the levy for some of the municipal departments and together with the one mill subsidy promised by the Provincial Government should go a long way in keeping the local tax rate somewhere near last year's rate. In spite of the reduction made in the County rate it is still much higher than the neighbouring county of Prince Edward, where only six and one-half mills are required for County business. Nevertheless it is a step in the right direction and with a gradual return to better times with a corresponding decrease in indigent accounts the taxpayers will look forward to a downward trend in their County tax.

DESTROY THOSE WEEDS

The Ontario Department of Agriculture is making an appeal to the citizens of the Province for a general clean-up on the noxious weeds. A meeting of the Reeves, Councillors, Road Superintendents, Weed Inspectors and others interested in the welfare of Hastings County was held in Belleville recently, at which a discussion of the Weed Control Act and its administration took place. Similar meetings are being held in other parts of the province. Under the provisions of the Weed Control Act, all noxious weeds must be destroyed as often as it is necessary to prevent the seed maturing. If the owners of the properties do not cut the weeds the municipalities have the right to have them cut and charge the cost of same against the respective properties. The weeds listed as noxious within the meaning of the Act are: Bladder Campion, Couch Grass, Dodder, Field Bindweed, Johnson Grass, Ox-eye Daisy, Perennial Sow Thistle, White Cockle and Wild Mustard. What undoubtedly constitutes a menace to those farmers who are making an honest effort to keep farms clean is the crop of weeds found on vacant lots and roadsides and neighbouring farms whose owners are careless about such things. The loss of yield in grain suffered by farmers due to weeds amounts to thousands of dollars each year and every effort should be made to eradicate them. There are also numerous vacant lots and lanes within the limits of the village where weeds are flourishing and it is the duty of every citizen to see that his property is cleaned up. Those growing on the sides of the streets come under the jurisdiction of the street committee and will no doubt receive their prompt attention. Weeds and long grass growing within the bounds of a village detract from its beauty and attractiveness and citizens of Stirling and district are urged to co-operate and do their bit in the war against weeds.

THE UNDERPAID RURAL TEACHER

This is the time of year that teachers are deciding whether they will stay in their present school for another year, and that school boards are deciding whether to keep them or make a change. Most of the changing will be done in rural schools, for the majority of teachers in "the little red schoolhouse" move from one school to another every year or every second year, while the city or town teacher remains in the same position for seven to ten years.

There is plenty of reason why the city teacher should be more contented with her lot. In sections where the country teachers' salaries are best they average only about half of what the city teacher is paid. This is a situation that is hard to understand. We have heard from time to time of rural teachers in this section getting as low as four or five hundred dollars for a year's work, while teachers in the urban centres are getting twice or three times as much. Surely there are very few people who would say that the country teacher does only half or a third as much work as her co-worker in the town, and by the same token very few who would not say that the former is on the whole underpaid.

As in the case of the farmers, the depression has hit the country teachers quite severely. In some sections their salaries are less than half of what they were back in 1929. This is a figure which we can hardly expect to attract to, or retain in, the teaching profession the more able of our young people. Eventually the cities as well as the villages and towns will suffer as their teachers, as a rule, come to them by way of the rural school.

CURRENT COMMENT

There is one simple rule of driving that will make our streets and highways safe for everyone who uses them: "Drive as you would have others drive."

Farmers in the neighbourhood of Stirling have started to cut their 1937 hay harvest and some good stands of alfalfa are reported throughout the area, some being considered the best for many years. The grain crops are also showing great promise and given favourable weather, one of the best crops in years is being predicted for this district.

In spite of the announcement made some time ago by Premier M. F. Hepburn that there would be no provincial election during 1937, there is a persistent rumour heard in this section that the Government will spring an election on the electorate some time during the month of August. Just what grounds the forecasters are basing their predictions on, we do not know, but it is doubtful if the electors will have to go to the polls before another year has rolled around.

The numerous thefts of farm machinery to be eventually offered for sale as junk throughout Hastings County resulted in action being taken by the Council to have all junk dealers licensed. At the June session held last week a recommendation was made to the Provincial Government that it license all junk dealers and buyers in the Province. The junk business has reached such huge proportions in recent months, and if the government acts on the Council's suggestion it would put a stop to the epidemic of thievery which has struck this county.

If there is one thing more than another that is the bane of every business man in this day and age, it is the matter of credit. When to give credit and when not to keeps the average business man in a quandary most of the time. To overcome this state of affairs the business men of Smith's Falls have organized what is known as a credit Bureau. The members of the organization are supplied with a list of those who are considered "poor pay" and in this way are able to refuse credit in cases where they are doubtful of receiving their pay. This plan is one that should work in any community and one the merchants of Stirling might well copy.

any basis his dollar has 10 per cent less purchasing value than it used to have.

THIN-SKINNED?

(Oakville Recorder)

"If George McCullagh had more publishing experience and less financial experience he wouldn't be so thin-skinned. Apparently he is touchy about his lack of newspaper experience and also his money-making luck in mining stocks. He is asking the removal of a college professor because he dared to say: 'At present Ontario has no alternative to reading at breakfast every morning whatever a couple of gold-mining millionaires may think is good for its residents.' What is wrong with that? Isn't it true? The Globe and Mail can never be a newspaper again while it is in its present hands."

NO INCREASE IN ACCIDENTS

(Trenton Courier-Advocate)

It must be a great disappointment to the many persons who prophesied that the new fifty-mile an hour speed limit on the highways would mean long lists of fatalities over the weekends, that no such thing has happened. There were more accidents when it was illegal for the motorist to drive fifty miles an hour than there are now when such a speed is legal. There probably was more carelessness also. As a matter of fact not every motorist can drive his car fifty miles an hour even though the car can do that rate easily. On the other hand there are many excellent drivers who could sit behind the wheel of a car and drive along at fifty miles an hour as though it were a slow tricycle and keep that up all day if necessary.

WHAT ORGANIZATION CAN DO

(Collingwood Enterprise-Bulletin)

An exchange talks of organization and co-operation to push a town ahead. Effective organization is always ahead of individual efforts regardless of how energetic it may be. Everyone respects a well developed organized body. To illustrate, an old story is repeated. It is told of an old stage driver who was driving with a friend in the seat beside him. A big horse fly lit on the right lead horse's ear. The old driver unleashed his long whip and picked off the fly without touching the horse. The feat was repeated several times, to the delight and amazement of the friend who marvelled at the old driver's skill. As they drove along the road they passed under a tree, from the overhanging branch of which hung a hornet's nest, about which a dozen or so hornets were buzzing. "Let's see," said the friend, "if you can pick off one of those hornets." "Nope," said the old stage driver, "not them fellows, they're organized."

It is the same with a town. If the leadership of a town is not made with each other, if each plays the part of a rugged individualist, if they do not pull together, or are not organized for the good of the whole community, the town doesn't get ahead in the degree that it otherwise would. It blocks its own progress.

IT'S BECOME A RACKET

(Alliston Herald)

An outrageous award was made by administrators of the Farmers' Creditors' Arrangement act last week. In fact several decisions were reached in the cases of men appealing for relief from the burden of debt which they themselves contracted. The most flagrant piece of injustice undoubtedly relieves the applicant but it ruins an honest man who during many years of activity accumulated enough money to sustain him during the closing years of his life. The applicant for adjustment was the man whose activities have been noted in these columns on previous occasions. He is the one who has paid no interest on his mortgage for some years, who has never paid a cent of principal since he took possession of the farm and who has sold some of the permanent equipment he found on the farm when he took it over. He is the man whose family regularly go to a show once or twice a week. The award of the administrators of the Creditors' Arrangement act is that the first mortgage, held by the government, shall be reduced $200, the second mortgage, held by the former owner of the farm, who consented to take the second mortgage because the government insisted on holding the first mortgage, was cut from $2,800 to 400 and all unsecured debts were cancelled entirely. The board of governors of the Stevenson Memorial hospital were advised of the decision at their meeting on Friday evening, and informed that the bill this man owes the hospital was uncollectable. Comment on this action scarcely seems necessary. In a country where honour and integrity are held in high regard such a decision from a body of so-called honorable men will not meet with popular approval. And as for its influence on the average business man it is decidedly bad business because if a body appointed by the government will sanction and indeed decree that a man make no effort to pay his debts private citizens may be expected to do likewise. If we are drifting into bolshevism or worse the drift is being accelerated by those in authority.

Pat had got a job and was told to help the foreman.

Together they set out to level a site for a building, and while the foreman made adjustments to bricks on the ground, it was Pat's job to look at the spirit level and shout out instructions.

"How's that, Pat?" asked the foreman.

"Sure an' that's level," said Pat, looking at the spirit level.

The foreman made a slight adjustment.

"How's that now?" he asked.

"Faith and that's much better!" cried Pat.

SHIELDS DONATED TO MARMORA HIGH SCHOOL

Marmora High School has hanging on its walls six beautiful shields which have been presented by some of the citizens of Marmora and Deloro for general proficiency in the school. The shields are made up of the High School Crest in wrought bronze with the High School colours, red, white and black, in the background and are mounted on wooden shields. They bear the inscription "Fide et Opere Valebo" and have small plates for the names of the qualifying to be inscribed on.

NEWS OF INTEREST FOR BUSY FARMERS

Hay Market Report — Eastern and Northern Ontario

Prices: There is a considerable variation in price on account of location but in main hay districts the prevailing prices to producers at car, vary from $5.00 — $6.00 per ton.

Supply: A considerable supply of timothy and light clover hay is still available but all clover and heavy mixed clover are sold.

Demand: A last minute brisk demand for export to Eastern United States points exists but it is not expected to be maintained. Some speculation as to export to Great Britain is anticipated since navigation is now opened on the St. Lawrence. Northern Ontario reports much easier movement with closing of lumber camps.

50,000 Acres Tobacco

Under very favourable soil and weather conditions the largest acreage of flue-cured tobacco in the history of Southwestern Ontario was planted the latter part of May. From greenhouses and hotbeds at the rate of between 4,000 and 7,000 plants per acre the young plants were set out, chiefly by horse-drawn planting machines.

The Ontario flue-cured Tobacco Association estimates that approximately 50,000 acres will be grown this year an increase of about 15,000 acres over the 1936 acreage and virtually double that of 1935. Some 500 new farms of various sizes are being developed in the counties of Norfolk, Elgin, Oxford, Brant, Kent and Essex. Norfolk County remains the centre of the industry and it has witnessed a tremendous boom in the construction of kilns and greenhouses this spring. With a favourable growing season, the production is likely to be double that of last year.

Cooperation is Needed

In June of each year the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, in co-operation with the Provincial Departments of Agriculture, distributes cardboard schedules to farmers for the purpose of collecting statistics of acreages under crop and the numbers of livestock and poultry on farms. This is now extended to include the breeding and marketing intentions of farmers with respect to livestock. These schedules are distributed to the farmers of Ontario through the rural school teachers. It is important that all farmers co-operate in furnishing this information. The acreages of field crops, in particular, are the real foundation of agricultural production statistics. Only slightly less important in national planning is the necessity of having correct knowledge of the numbers of livestock on farms. The accuracy of its largely dependent on the obtaining of completed cards from a fair sample of the total number of Canadian farms.

Clean Range for Chicks

Chicks should not be raised two years in succession on the same ground, as a guard against picking up disease germs. When the chicks are on range they consume a considerable quantity of green feed, especially if it is fresh and tender. The trouble with a lot of our crops is that they soon become tough and fibrous. Fall sown rye makes a splendid early pasture. Oats sown early in the spring makes tender green feed for June and July. If oats are planted at intervals of two or three weeks they give splendid green feed up until the middle of July. Rape or Kale may be sown for summer pasture.

Some poultrymen place the colony house at the edge of the corn field so that the chicks may have shade. Raising chicks in the shade of permanent trees is not always the best plan, as the land cannot be worked up to the sun the same as in a corn field. We have seen several rows in the corn field planted to a green crop for the chicks so that they would have both green feed and shade in the one field. With plenty of tender green feed the cost of raising the pullets may be reduced as compared with an all dry feed ration.

Control of Raspberry Sawfly
Raspberry plantations subject to the attack of the raspberry sawfly, and particularly those which were defoliated or partially defoliated last year by this insect, should be carefully examined now, and if small green worms are readily found, plantations should be sprayed before the blossoms open with 1½ lbs. lead arsenate and 5 lbs. hydrated lime in 40 gallons water.

The larvae of the raspberry sawfly — green spiny worms — eat out holes in the leaves and when abundant may completely skeletonize the foliage, leaving nothing but the mid-ribs and larger veins.

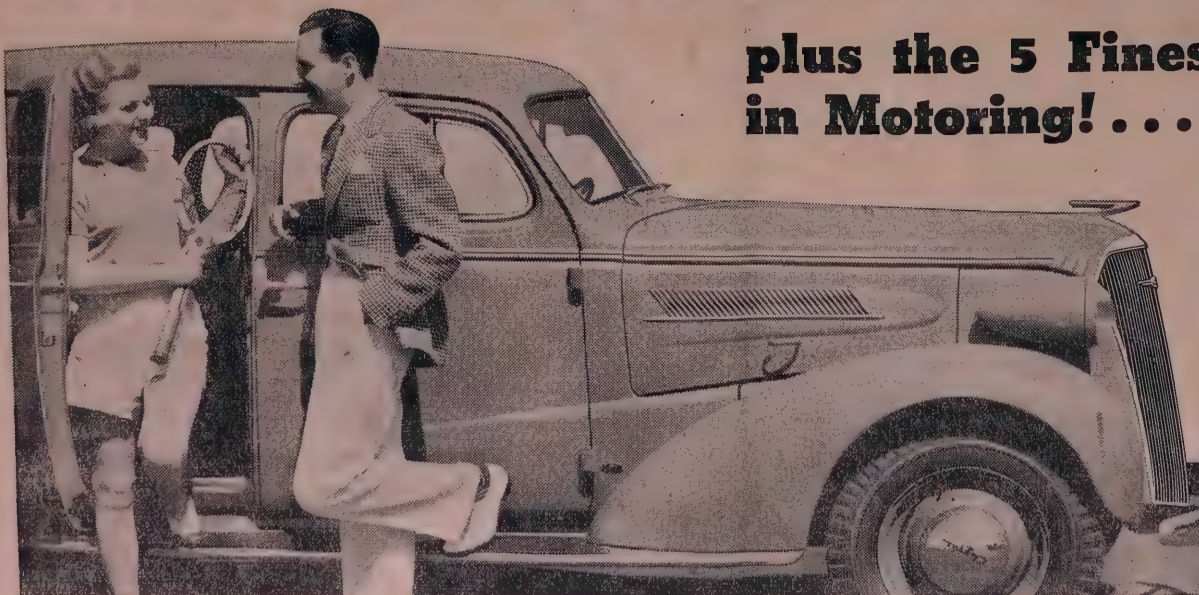

Seasonal Crop Report
A summary of crop conditions by the Statistics Branch shows the following: Rains in May further retarded the seeding of Spring grains — especially on heavy soils and fields that were soaked by excessive precipitation in April. At the end of May approximately 10% of the spring grain acreage in Ontario had not been sown, although most counties expected to finish by early in June. In counties bordering the St. Lawrence River, progress was slower. An unusual feature of the present season is the fact that seeding was as early in Northern Ontario as in most of Western and Central Ontario. In Old Ontario the season has been two or three weeks earlier than usual, whereas in the Northern districts, it is a week to two weeks earlier. Early sown grain has made good growth and later seeding has greatly benefited by the warm clear weather early in June. With a continuation of satisfactory weather conditions and abundant soil moisture growth should be rapid. The outlook for field crops is promising. The condition of spring grains on June 1st was placed between 91 and 92% of the long-time average. This is approximately the same as on June 1st, 1935 and 1936. The acreage which farmers had intended to sow to spring grains will be slightly reduced on account of lateness of seeding, and as a result, the acreage of late crops such as buckwheat, corn, dry beans, and soy beans will be increased.

The 646,000 acres of fall wheat that came through the winter has made excellent growth during the past month and there is every indication of an excellent yield per acre. Fall rye is in full head and also promises a good yield. Alfalfa is making very rank growth and cutting has already started in Western Ontario. Some of the alfalfa fields are spotty and in Eastern Ontario many old alfalfa meadows were so badly winterkilled that they have been plowed up. Last year's seedlings of alfalfa in Eastern Ontario are in fairly good condition however. Hay and clover have made good growth, but the total yield will not be heavy as a number of fields are thin and uneven from winter killing and last year's drought. Pastures were retarded by cold weather during the first three weeks of May, but are now coming along very quickly. Livestock are now on pasture and, showing the effects of better feed.

WEST HUNTINGDON W.M.S.

The monthly meeting was held at the home of Mrs. S. McCurdy on Thursday at the usual hour, with a hour the meeting was presided over by the President, Mrs. A. Wright, opening with a hymn, and Mrs. W. Tufts led in a brief prayer. The roll call was answered by "Peace". Minutes were read and approved. The Scripture lesson was given in 3 parts by Mrs. A. Wright, Mrs. S. Fargey and Mrs. J. S. Wilson. There were several visitors: Mrs. K. Bush, Mrs. Bush, Mrs. Burditt, Sidney; Miss H. Fargey, Stirling, also Mrs. M. Johnston, Mrs. J. J. Wilson and Mrs. Armstrong, also of Stirling. Mrs. Tufts read the story of the life and death of the late "Rev. G. E. Simmons, and "Saved by Grace" was very fittingly sung, led by Mrs. J. J. Wilson, all joining in the chorus. Several readings were given by the different Harolds, Mrs. G. Post, Mrs. A. Ashley, Mrs. Moorcroft. Several matters of business were dealt with. Miss G. Pitman sang very sweetly "Must Jesus bear the Cross." Mrs. J. McCurdy of Sask., was called on to address the meeting and in a few remarks told of their meetings carried on in the same way. The work is very encouraging. Mrs. C. Elliott took charge of the study book. After singing another hymn prayer by Mrs. Wilson closed a very helpful meeting, full of inspiration.

WEST HUNTINGDON

Citizens here were shocked on Monday when it was learned of the tragic death of Mr. Arthur Leavens. Mr. Leavens was well known here, and was a close friend of the Geo. Cooke family. A number from here attended the funeral in Belleville on Wednesday.

A large number of the Conservative stalwarts attended the convention at Marmora on Wednesday afternoon.

On Friday evening a large number of the friends and neighbours of Mr. Roswell Reid gathered at his home to extend a welcome to his bride to the community. Mr. Arthur Wilson was chairman for the evening's entertainment, and Mr. Elmer Post conducted some community singing with the piano. Mr. John B. Hagerman, of Minto, rendered two pleasing solos and Miss Mona Wright read the following address:

West Huntingdon,
June 18th, 1937

Dear Edna and Roswell,—
We, your friends and neighbours, have gathered in your house tonight to wish you bon voyage on the sea of matrimony. We could not allow this great occasion in your life to pass by without rejoicing with you both, and wishing you health, wealth and happiness.

Our occasions with you, Roswell, since childhood, have always been of a very pleasant nature because of your kind, genial and friendly disposition.

We hope to become better acquainted with you Edna, and that you will feel that these friends of Roswell's welcome you among them and include you also in these best of wishes, kindly accept these gifts, not for their value, but as a tangible token of our esteem and good will toward you both. Signed on behalf of the community — Dan Cooke, Charles Wright, Elmer Wilson, Carl Thompson.

The newlyweds were presented with a handsome occasional chair, a rocking chair and an end table, and each made suitable replies. Mrs. Melville Donnan, in an inspiring prayer, asked for God's blessing to guide and direct the newly-organized home. Lunch was served and the social hour brought to a close.

On Tuesday evening the Endeavourers' S. S. Class met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Elliott for their regular monthly meeting. After the worship period readings were given by Mrs. W. J. Fitchett, Mrs. Sandy McCurdy and Miss Hilda Moorcroft. Mr. Clayton Tummon delighted with a solo. Roll call was answered by each member giving a Bible character whose initial corresponded. Mr. Arthur Wilson gave as a Scripture lesson one of Rev. Spurgeon's sermons taken from the Family Herald, and Mr. Phillip Carr gave an address on the richness of abiding in Christ. The singing of some old favourite hymns and Benediction by Clayton Tummon closed this interesting meeting. At the close a lunch was served.

Mr. Ed. Sharpe, of Belleville was a tea-hour guest of Mr. and Mrs. Sandy McCurdy on Tuesday.

Mrs. Charles Fargey and Barbara were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey, of Cameron.

Mr. Judson McGowan spent a couple of days recently with friends in Bancroft.

Mr. Delbert McCurdy spent Wednesday at the Kingston Cheese factory the guest of his friend, Mr. Keith Bray.

Mrs. May Humphrey and family, of Concession were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sandy McCurdy.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Brummell and Diana, of Napanee, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Carr. Miss Diana remained over for an extended visit.

Mr. Harold Thompson was a Sunday guest of his friend, Mr. Dan Cooke.

Miss Kathleen Moorcroft and Mr. George Ashley have each been notified that they have passed their Entrance exams on the merit of their year's work.

BURNBRAE

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Milne returned from their wedding trip. Points visited were: Toronto, Niagara Falls, Springfield, Mass.; Boston, and they returned via Montreal.

Mrs. Chas. Rennie of Guelph, Mrs. Jack Deakin, Fort William, and Mrs. Carl Johnston, Campbellford, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson and Mrs. Annie Donald on Friday last.

Rev. and Mrs. MacMillan entertained the elders of St. Andrew's Church and their wives, to tea on Friday evening, June 18th.

Mrs. Frank Little, accompanied by Mrs. Alex Milne, Mrs. John Thompson and Misses Eva Milne and Edith Gibbons, attended a special meeting of the Women's Institute at Maltmore on Thursday of last week.

Masters Grant and Roy MacMillan entertained the school boys on Thursday, June 17th, it being the occasion of their birthdays. Grant was eleven and Roy seven.

Rev. Mr. Douglas of P. E. I. who is holidaying at the home of his brother-in-law, Mr. Jas. Nelson, conducted the morning service in Burnbrae Church on Sunday. Rev. MacMillan had charge of a service in the Kingston vicinity.

The funeral of the late Fred Jones was held at the home on Saturday. Rev. J. E. Beckel conducted the service and the Wellmans choir led in the singing. The body was taken to Picton for interment. Mr. Jones will be missed from the butchering occupation, the trade which he has followed since his coming to this district some twelve years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hume and children spent Sunday afternoon and evening with Mrs. Hume's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Anderson, at their cottage at Oak Lake.

Miss Dorothy Watson, Burnbrae, and Mr. Clarence Grills, English Line, were married at the Burnbrae Manse on Saturday, June 19th. Miss Hazel Watson, sister of the bride, and Mr. Lindsay Fry, attended the bridal couple.

MADOC JUNCTION

The June meeting of the W.M.S. was held at the church on Thursday with Mrs. Geo. Pidgeon as leader. Mrs. Chambers, secretary of the baby band was absent.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Harlow attended the shower at Warkworth on Monday night for Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Greenley (nee Margaret Simpson). Messrs Oliver and Bruce Stapley spent Wednesday in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fitchett and Rosella and Mrs. George Pidgeon spent Sunday afternoon at Oak Lake. Miss Pearl Pidgeon enjoyed a trip to Guelph over the week-end.

Friends here were shocked when they heard of the tragic death of Mr. Arthur Leavens, of Toronto, on Monday afternoon. He was piloting a passenger plane from Toronto to Windsor when the fatal accident occurred. Mr. Leavens, formerly of Belleville took up residence in Toronto about a year ago. His many friends regret his untimely death.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Strickland, of Stirling, hitch-hiked via the C.N.R. track to the home of the latter's brother, Mr. Clarence Fitchett, on Wednesday afternoon.

Picking strawberries is the order of the day in this locality. A bumper crop is reported.

The pupils of Mrs. Harlow's Sunday school class met at Mr. and Mrs. Harlow's home on Thursday night. The pupils wrote from memory the following: Lord's Prayer, Ten Commandments, Apostle's Creed; 23rd Psalm, Books of the Old and New Testament. Prizes were awarded as follows: 1st, Marion McMullen; 2nd, Lenora Stapley; 3rd, Dorothy Pidgeon and Ralph Stapley (equal); 4th, Hughie McMullen.

WELLMAN'S

Mrs. Ellen Sharpe, of Mt. Pleasant, spent the week-end at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Will Johnston. We extend congratulations to Mrs. Sharpe on the occasion of her seventy-eighth birthday, on June 19th.

Mr. and Mrs. George Watson and boys spent the tea hour on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Thompson, Sine.

The funeral of the late Mr. Fred Jones was held on Saturday at his home and was largely attended. Rev. Mr. Beckel preached a very comforting message to the bereaved friends. Interment was made in Picton Cemetery.

Miss Mina Dracup acted as bridesmaid at the Sherry-Brown wedding in Belleville last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dracup, of Peterborough spent Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Dracup and Mr. and Mrs. Omar Dracup.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pauley spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Farrell, of Bethel.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Johnson and Carolyn spent Sunday with Mrs. John McQuigle and Essie, of Havelock.

MOUNT PLEASANT

Mrs. Percy MacMullen, press Secretary of the Bay of Quinte Conference Branch W.M.S.; Mrs. Geo. Weaver; Mrs. Frank Smith, Miss Eileen MacMullen, of Mt. Pleasant, Rawdon Auxiliary, attended a farewell at White's United Church, on Wednesday, June 23rd, in honour of Miss Elsie Hunt, R.N., who is leaving the last of August as a missionary to the John Neil Hospital, Cold Lake, Alberta.

Mrs. Ross Hoard, Mrs. Frank Jeffs, Mrs. Harry Ketcheson and Mrs. M. Park spent today (Thursday) in Kingston.

Mrs. Roy Thrasher and Edna, Mrs. James Sharp, Mrs. Cyrus Summers and Mrs. Emma Summers visited Mrs. Will Johnston and Mrs. Murney Johnston, Salem, on Wednesday.

Miss Frances McKeown spent a few days last week with her cousin, Miss Myrtle McKeown, Springbrook. Ten ladies gathered on Wednesday, June 16th, at Mount Pleasant Hall and quilted a basket quilt for Mrs. Geo. Megginson. The dinner money will be used to buy yarn for the supply work of the Woman's Missionary Society. At noon a letter from Dr. Florence Murray, Ham Heung, Korea, was read; also an invitation to attend the farewell for Miss Elsie V. Hunt at White's Church.

A very successful sale was held on Thursday afternoon, despite the very heavy rain, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sine and Mr. and Mrs. John Bailey. Mr. Ray Williams, of Hards, was auctioneer for the occasion.

The welcome rain of Thursday and Friday was a wonderful boon to the strawberries and peas, as well as the other crops, gardens and flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar McKeown entertained on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barnum, Evelyn, Helen and Don, Mrs. James McKeljohn, Rylestone; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sloggett, Campbellford.

On Friday evening over fifty from Mount Pleasant journeyed to Carmel where the two young people's societies closed their activities for the summer months. Mr. Don Scott, president of Carmel, presided and the service opened with quiet music, call to worship and devotional exercises.

Mr. Russell Pyar read the minutes and the president heartily welcomed the guests. Mr. John Oggins, president of Mount Pleasant, graciously replied to the welcome. Miss Eileen MacMullen gave a missionary selection "The Silver Sixpence." Miss Edna Thrasher sang "The Saviour's Everlasting Love." Miss Dorothy Moore read the Bible lesson. Mrs. Cyrus Summers outlined the topic on the subject "Playing the game", which was quite appropriate at this time of year. The male quartette, Messrs J. Coggins, Norman McConnell, Bert Jeffs and Ernest White, with Miss Edna Thrasher as accompanist, sang "Jesus' Invitation." Mrs. Arthur Phillips read "Shabby Old Dad" in honour of Father's Day. Brief addresses were given by Rev. Jas. E. Beckel and Rev. W. J. Sott. Master Donald Spencer sang "Give the Little Boy a Chance", with his mother as accompanist. Mrs. Percy MacMullen recited a humorous number. Misses Vera McAdam and Jean Remington sang a sentimental duet. Miss Fay Andrews contributed a guitar selection. Misses Marion and Ruth Rose, with Mrs. Kenneth Weaver as accompanist, sang "The Old Attie Trunk." Miss Muriel Milligan staged an interesting game and contest. Votes of thanks were reciprocated and the Carmel young people served a delicious lunch, topped off with lemonade. All joined in singing "Blest Be the Tie that Binds" and journeyed homewards, after thoroughly enjoying the friendly visit at Carmel.

RHEUMATISM SPREAD TO ALL HER JOINTS

Obtained Relief by Using Kruschen Salts

Here is a sad story of suffering, but it has a happy ending. This woman was attacked by severe rheumatism which spread to all her joints. But Kruschen brought relief as she describes below:—

"I feel it my duty to tell you how Kruschen Salts brought me relief from a severe attack of rheumatism. I had rheumatism in my legs and knees, later spreading to every joint in my body. This lasted over a period of 13 weeks. I was then ordered to bed with acute rheumatism. I was recommended to try Kruschen and before finishing the second bottle I was able to perform my normal duties." (Mrs.) I. D.

Rheumatic conditions are frequently due to an excess of uric acid in the body. Two of the ingredients of Kruschen Salts have the power of dissolving uric acid. Other ingredients in these Salts assist Nature to expel the dissolved uric acid through the natural channels.

MINTO

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Windsor and son Gilbert, of Haliburton, and Mrs. Robert Patterson and son, of Clayton, N.Y., were Wednesday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hagerman.

Mrs. Hayton and Miss Laurena Scott were tea hour guests of Miss Edith Hagerman on Monday evening.

Mrs. Robert Patterson and Mrs. Walter Hagerman attended the funeral of their grandmother, Mrs. Armina Searles, Oak Lake, on Tuesday last.

MENIE

Residents of this district were shocked to learn of the death of Mr. Fred Jones of the Town Line. Mr. Jones followed the occupation of butcher and was held in high esteem by a wide circle of friends, all of whom will sincerely regret his sudden passing. Funeral service was held from his residence on Saturday. Interment was made in Picton cemetery.

Wedding Bells aren't just tingling, but are ringing very frequently.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry McMullen and Floyd, of Tweed, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Stephens.

Mr. Chas. Carter returned home, Thursday from Campbellford hospital after undergoing an operation for appendicitis.

Several from here attended the shower for Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Milne at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Ingram, on Friday night.

A few farmers have commenced to cut hay, but are delayed for a few days due to the very welcome refreshing rains.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Anderson and boys, of Mount Pleasant, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Wallace.

Mr. Sam Hobbs Sr., was removed to Belleville General Hospital on Sunday night in a very critical condition by Dr. Pedley of Stirling. He underwent an operation on Monday night.

HISTORIES OF DISTRICT SCHOOLS

SINE SCHOOL — S.S. NO. 6 RAWDON

Before the building of the present stone school, a log building was used. This school faced the west. The seats, which were long benches, faced each other and ran lengthwise of the building.

The majority of the settlers were United Empire Loyalists who settled in this section.

In the summer of 1864 A.D., the stone building was erected. One of the masons was John Gay, a member of the section. The money for the building was raised by a levy on the property of the section. There was enough raised the first year to begin the work and the following year it was paid off. The seats were made with cast ends, finished off by the carpenter. The attendance averaged forty in summer and sixty in the winter.

The first trustees were Silas Sine, Silas Smith and David Sine. The first teacher was Joel Streeter. He was followed by Robert Smith. The caretaker did the sweeping and the building of fires. He was given the ashes and two cents a fire in payment.

Mrs. Turner Sine has in her possession one of the "First" books used in the Stone School. It contained thirty-five pages and was divided up into lessons. Comparing the second reader of 1884 with the second book of today, several selections are found to be the same.

The school was used for church services as well as for school purposes. The first service was a funeral for Wm. Badgley. When the building was erected, the entrance hall faced the north with doors facing east and west, near the south end. Here there were two circular lobbies. Between these lobbies was a high desk with three steps leading up to it.

Some years later, about the year 1889, the two south windows were boarded up, the doors stoned up and the circular partitions were removed. The entrance door for both pupils and teacher was made in the north end of the building.

Under Inspector McIntosh an extra lot on the east side of the school was bought from James Lafferty for a playground. In front of the school a row of willow trees were planted by Miss Emma Vandervoort, a member of the section, now living in Chicago. Along the south and east end of the school in earlier days was a fence made of boards, while to the north along the road was a picket fence. This has since been changed to a wire fence. The woodshed, which formerly stood at the road, has been moved back beside the school. Following R. Smith in 1864, in close succession were: Andrew Glass, Redford Weese, George Wiggins, Robert Broadworth, S. Matthews, M. Mosher, H. J. Meiklejohn (1882, who is now Dr. Meiklejohn, residing in Toronto), Miss Dorland, Mr. Chapman, U. Solmes, S. Stiles 1899; Miss Gunter, 1890; J. Johnston, 1891-1892; B. E. Cummings, 1893; Misses Breakell, (1894-1896); Miss Sutherland; Chas. Bailey, Blake Denike, A. McKenna, 1906; Miss Sullivan, A. Dillon, Miss Bateman, Mr. Foster, M. Matthews, M. Inkster, D. Rodgers, E. Reid, J. Sone, R. Eggleton, F. Eggleton, B. Wright, 1935.

Among those who attended the Sine Settlement School and later entered a profession was B. F. Butler. He later taught at Wellmans Corners, after which he attended college and graduated in medicine. He then went into partnership with Dr. Parker. He specialized in ear, eye, nose and throat and then located at London, Ontario. Messrs John, George, Frank (Tait) Butler, Mr. M. W. Sine graduated as veterinary surgeons, Dr. Frank Butler practised in Belleville and died a short time ago in Campbellford.

In 1936 school supplies were bought by the section for the children. With money raised by the children in putting on Christmas entertainments, a phonograph was purchased. In 1937, by way of observing Coronation year, thirty-two cedar trees have been planted along the west side of the school. Any further information with regard to the history of Sine School, S.S. No. 6, Rawdon, would be very much appreciated.

FOURTH LINE SCHOOL NO. 7 — RAWDON

Settlement began in this section at least as early as 1801 as Mr. Wm. Drewry has in his possession an abstract statement showing that his farm was granted by the Crown to Catharin Markland in 1801. In 1846 it was sold to Joseph Merritt, in 1848 to John Goldsmith and in 1853 to Wm. Drewry, the present owner's grandfather. Mr. John G. Green's grandfather, Mr. Tolton Green, received his property from the Crown in 1837. Other pioneer settlers were Luther Tucker, who was a United Empire Loyalist, Phillip Caverley, John S. Hagerman, Wm. and James Kyle, George Conley, the Priory family and the Wilson family. The nationality consisted of English, Irish and Scotch.

The first school that served the community was built of log and situated on Mr. Fred Richardson's farm a short distance east of the present site. There are no available records of it, and the oldest living resident, Mr. John W. Hagerman, has only a slight memory of it, as he attended the brick school which replaced it about 1867. His sister, Mrs. Hugh Jones of Marmora, remembers the log school as having had very small windows and benches.

The first brick was on the present site but nearer the road. It was smaller than the present school but had the windows arranged similarly, three each on the east and west sides, and two on the north which faced the road. There were two wooden blackboards across the front or south end. The seats were about five feet long and sometimes contained four or five pupils. Heat was furnished by a box stove which would take a cordwood stick.

In the early days there were several brick kilns in this section where bricks were made by hand, and it is believed the brick for the school were made on the Helmer farm which is now owned by Mr. John Downs. The brick in Mr. John W. Hagerman's house were made on his own farm about sixty years ago by Isaac Bailey.

Some of the teachers in the old school as remembered by Mr. Hagerman are Thos. Fair, Mark Anderson, Mr. Seymour, Miss Clarke and two Misses Morton. The old school was torn down in June 1896 and during that month school was held in a vacant house belonging to Mr. Frank Conley.

The contractor for the masonry of the new school was Mr. James Drewry, of Stirling, the carpenter was Mr. Chas. Lott, of Springbrook. Brick from the old school was used on the inside of the new building but new brick was purchased for the outside. It is believed the new brick was made in the Harry Naylor Brick Kiln on the place now owned by Mr. Henry Cook. During the preceding winter lumber was drawn from Trenton by Messrs James and George Drewry. Sand and brick were also drawn on sleighs during the winter.

The water for the masonry was drawn by Messrs George and John G. Green. All refuse from the old school was sold at auction on the school yard. A debenture of $1000 with interest at 6% was paid in ten instalments of $100 each and interest each year. The teachers at the time was Miss Ella Robinson, of Ameliasburg at a salary of $300.

The next year in 1897 a well was dug, a fence built, and the south-east corner of the yard filled up with rock and covered with earth to make it a little less sloping.

The present school room is thirty feet long and twenty feet wide, with three windows each on the east and west sides. Blackboards reach across the entire south end, between the windows on the east and west sides, and between the two doors at the north end of the room. A lobby six feet wide reaches across the entire north end and opens into a small brick porch which faces north.

The school is built on a hill and under the south end is a basement for storing the wood. Until 1920 when a furnace was installed, heat was supplied by a large box stove. After the installation of the furnace coal was burned until 1932. Since then wood has been used.

In 1912 the old blackboards were replaced by slates. In 1927 thirty-five adjustable single desks with lift tops were purchased and arranged in five rows.

In 1929 music was introduced as a special subject with Miss Ramsey as supervisor but since her death in 1931 the work has been carried on by Mrs. Blanche Alexander of Madoc.

In 1931 a planatorium was added to the equipment and a suspension globe in 1935. In 1932 the Junior Red Cross also prepared two portfolios, one in 1934 and one in 1935 and sent them to Japan. In 1935 a portfolio was received from Japan.

In 1935 a covered water tank with tap and a sink with outlet were installed. At the same time the well which had not been used for many years was cleaned out and fitted with a pump. This year under the direction of Dr. E. A. Carleton, M.O.H., the drinking water is being chlorinated.

In 1936 the pupils made and painted a sand-table and this year they made a set of shelves to hold the drinking cups.

The school is well equipped with pictures, maps, etc., and has a library which is kept up-to-date by the addition of new books each year.

Men from this section who served in the Great War are Bryson Donnan, Bruce Richardson and Morley Richardson, the last of whom made the supreme sacrifice.

Before 1877 Hiram Conley was secretary-treasurer for some years. Geo. Drewry filled the position from 1877 to 1913; Clayton Tucker from 1913 to 1923; John Green from 1923 to 1935, and since then Wm. Drewry. The present trustees are John Morrison, Arthur Morrison and Roy Welbourne.

Records of teachers date back to 1879. They are as follows, Mary A. Ludlow 1879, C. Cathcart 1880, W. G. Armour 1881-2, F. V. Mullet 1883, R. Mitchell 1884, E. Connor 1885-6, J. Rollins 1887, C. Montgomery 1888-9, W. R. Telford 1890, Isa Breakell 1891-3, B. M. Foster 1894, Ella Robinson 1895-7, Sarah Copture 1898-1900, B. Denike 1901, C. E. Green 1902-3, G. F. Drewry 1904, M. F. Weston 1905, L. M. McLachlan 1906, Vita M. Bailey 1907, R. E. Holmes 1908, C. E. Treagold 1908-9, L. C. Kirkwood 1909-10, L. A. Fleck 1910-11, F. E. Hubble 1911-13, H. M. Caverley 1913, C. S. Jones 1914-15, E. G. Hubble 1915-16, S. J. Bateman 1916-18, Mary Vogan 1918-20, Augusta Morton 1920-22, A. McAdam 1923, Bessie Rosebush 1924, Freda Matthews 1925, Grace Vandewater 1925-28, Myrtle Reid 1928, Beatrice Blackely 1929-31, Marion Wilson 1931-33, Mabel Hayton 1933.

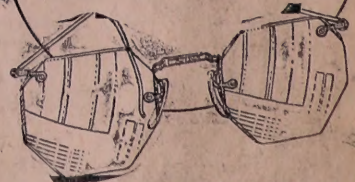

About two hundred and fifty pupils have attended the present school since its erection in 1896. Some who have become outstanding are as follows: John R. Fanning, a lawyer in Rochester, George Wilson, a dentist in Chicago, Edward Doake a druggist in Toronto, Fred Drewry, electrical engineer in Toronto, and Bryson Donnan K.C., in Belleville.

Coronation year, 1937, has been marked by the planting of thirty-two trees, including spruce for a western wind-break, elm, pine and ash for shade trees and two Royal Oak Seedlings from the Royal Forest obtained from the Men of the Trees and also by the beginning of a school garden.

The writer of this log, (Mrs.) Mabel Hayton, Harold, Ontario, will appreciate any additional information and wishes to thank Mr. John Hagerman, Mr. Wm. Drewry and Mr. John Green for information received.

THE PENTHOUSE MURDER

By CALEB JOHNSON

First Instalment

In Elmer Henderson's bungalow on top of the thirty-storey Highart Film Company's building on East Fifty-sixth Street, near Fifth Avenue, four men were playing poker on a cold January night.

"This is a slow game," growled big Dan Flaherty. The Chief Inspector in charge of the homicide squad of the New York police force was taking one of his rare nights off, and he wanted his fun to come fast and furious. "Four-handed poker's no good. Isn't anyone else coming?"

"Fitz ought to be here any minute now," said Martin Frazier of the District Attorney's staff. "He's usually the first to arrive."

"Some skit called him up, I suppose, and it's all off," grunted Dan Flaherty. "Funny, the way dames fall for him."

"He's a choosy picker, at that," responded Frazier. "Only falls for the live ones. Lydia Lane's the latest."

Even poorer poker players than Dan Flaherty and Martin Frazier would have noted the instant change of expression which came over the faces of the other two at the mention of Lydia Lane's name. Henderson, their host, was the first to speak.

"Studio gossip, nothing more," he said. The words were simple enough, but there was an undertone in his voice which made Dan Flaherty lift his eyebrow questioning as he glanced quickly from the speaker to Frazier.

"Miss Lane has been rather annoyed by his attentions. Of course, I can't speak for her, but that is the impression she gave me, quite distinctly, this afternoon. She was up here, having a voice test, and I took her home."

Archie Doane, the fourth man at the table, had coloured deeply at Frazier's careless mention of the popular picture actress. Dan Flaherty's quick glance revealed to the Inspector that he was biting his lips and holding his head rigidly as if trying to control his voice.

"I'd be obliged, gentlemen, if you would leave Miss Lane's name out of it," he said, as Henderson finished. "You will understand why when I tell you that she has promised to marry me."

"I'm sorry!" exclaimed Frazier. "I had no idea. I hope you'll overlook my loose tongue, old man. You've won a prize, from all I hear, though I haven't had the pleasure of the lady's acquaintance." "Congratulations, Doane!" cried Henderson. "You'll make the handsomest couple in pictures. Miss Lane is quite the most charming lady I have ever known. And one of the very few whose voice registers as well as her lovely face does."

"So, that's how it is, eh?" said Dan Flaherty. "Well, boy, I wish you luck. I've never tried it myself, but I hear matrimony highly spoken of by those that have — sometimes. But I wish the rest would come, whoever's coming."

"Max Michaelis said he'd be over about nine," said Frazier.

"Somebody call up Fitz," suggested Henderson. "Anybody know his number?"

"I'll call him," said Doane. "All right, Frazier, no harm done," he went on, offering the Assistant District Attorney his hand. "Where's your telephone, Elmer?"

Henderson motioned toward the foyer which separated the room where they were from the rest of his quarters, and accompanied his guest to the cabinet in which the telephone directories were cased.

"Here it is; Stephen Fitzgerald, Plaza 0004," said Henderson. "You understand how to use a dial phone?"

"Excuse me a minute?" he said to the others, as Archie Doane began to whirl the telephone dial. "I'll be with you again right away."

He crossed the foyer and went into another room.

"Nice little guy, Henderson," said Dan Flaherty. "Good nerve, too; the way he backed his busted flush now and got away with it was as good poker as I've ever seen. I'd have sworn he was holding a kicker with threes, or had two big pair at the least."

"What does he do? Teach singing? There must be money in it, the way he's fixed up here." He glanced approvingly around the luxuriously furnished room.

"No, he's an inventor," replied Frazier. "I thought I told you about him."

"Only that you'd played poker with him once or twice and that he played a good game," said the Inspector. "What does he invent?"

"His latest is a new way of making talking pictures," said Frazier. "Brings out the natural voice much better than anything yet. I understand. I don't pretend to know about those things, but they say the High-art Film people paid him close to a million cash on account of royalties, and a salary of a hundred thousand or so to supervise the whole working of his device. He's got a laboratory back in the other room."

"That's what he meant by giving the Lane dame a voice test, then," grunted Dan Flaherty. "I thought he didn't look like a singer. Guess that skit's all right, eh?" He glanced over his shoulder at Doane, still at the telephone. "Archie isn't falling for any more rotten ones. For an actor, he's as square as they come. Pretty hard hit, I should say."

"Head over heels in love, the way he flared up," grinned Frazier. "I made a bad break there but he took it like a sport. Guess Henderson's right; it was just studio gossip about her and Fitz. Naturally enough, with Fitzgerald's known susceptibility and her good looks. Fitz directed her last two pictures, and you know how gossip travels."

Doane came back from the telephone. "You were right," he said to Frazier. "Some girl got hold of him and he'd forgotten all about his engagement here. At least, his man says that a lady called him on the phone about quarter past six and he hurried out and hasn't been home since."

Henderson came in as Doane was speaking, followed by a man-servant with a tray on which reposed a siphon and several glasses with their quota of ice cubes, and a couple of bottles.

"Too bad. Couldn't come, eh?" he said. "Well, here's something to take the curse off. Wonder if we can't hurry Mr. Michaelis up."

"He's probably just finishing dinner at the club," said Dan Flaherty. "I'll call him."

"Ask him to bring along anyone else he thinks would like to sit in," said Henderson. "Six are better than five." He glanced at the glasses in front of the others. "All filled, gentlemen? Then here's to the prospective bridegroom and his lovely lady."

Doane coloured again as the others drank the friendly toast. Flaherty went to the telephone and returned in a few minutes with the information that Max Michaelis and a friend were just getting into a taxi to come over.

"Mind if I use your phone again?" asked Doane. "I'll just call up Miss Lane. She wasn't sure whether she would be going out to-night or not; half expected a summons from a dowager aunt or something like that."

"Surely. Help yourself," replied Henderson. "Give her my compliments, won't you."

"Tell me about Michaelis," he went on, addressing Frazier. "I've heard something about him of course. You see," he added, turning to Inspector Flaherty, "this is really Frazier's party. I don't know many people in New York — to busy in my laboratory until lately to make many friends. Doane and Fritz, of course — got to know them in my work. If it hadn't been for meeting Frazier, here, through Fritz, I wouldn't have had the pleasure of knowing you, for example."

"There isn't much to tell about Max Michaelis," said Frazier, "excepting that he's the shrewdest lawyer in New York."

"That's saying a good deal, I should think," said Henderson. "He's rather on the inside of things, isn't he?"

"If by that you mean that he has the confidence of the District Attorney's office and the Police Department I should say that he's very much on the inside. He's that rare bird, a criminal lawyer who is absolutely on the level."

"I'll say he is," said Dan Flaherty. "Gets my goat, sometimes, butting in on police matters. But, damn him, he's always right. Got the best set of brains of any man I know. Probably that's Max now."

The doorbell rang as he spoke. Doane rejoined the others. "No answer," he said. "Guess she's gone to see her aunt."

To Dan Flaherty's shrewd eyes, however, the actor seemed a trifle disturbed under his outward calm.

"Doesn't like it because Fritz was going to meet some dame and the Lane frail's gone out too," he whispered to Frazier, as they all rose to greet the newcomers, Max Michaelis and his friend, a stockbroker named Williams.

"Afraid I've got your rugs soaked," apologized the lawyer as an avalanche of snow cascaded from the shoulders of his fur coat.

"Quite all right, Mr. Michaelis," said Henderson, as Frazier introduced him. "Nothing but water, after all, isn't it? I'm not quite sure, you see, because I've never had any experience with snow."

"Where did you come from?" queried Michaelis, slipping out of his great coat. "Never have seen snow before."

"No. It may sound odd, but I was born in raised in southern California, and my only visits to the North and East have been in the Summer. I've only seen snow at a distance, on the mountain peaks," replied Henderson.

"Southern California, eh?" said Michaelis, moving over to the open fire. "Los Angeles? Oh, Pasadena. Don't happen to know a fellow named Everett, Joseph Everett, a lawyer, do you? Great friend of mine."

"Why I've met Mr. Everett, though I can't say I know him well," Henderson answered. "Here," he continued, as his man came in with fresh glasses for the newcomers, "I don't suppose you gentlemen will object to a drink?"

"Not I," said Williams, the stockbroker. "Br-r-r! Winter's here, all right. This would be a great night for a murder."

"Hear that Dan?" said Michaelis to the Inspector. "What are you doing, taking a holiday on a night like this? Williams says it would be a good night for a murder."

"Well, here's success to crime, then," rejoined Flaherty raising his refilled glass. "I've never noticed the weather made much difference."

"Success to crime," echoed Max Michaelis, glancing around the room as he drank. "Cozy place you've got here, Mr. Henderson. Nobody'd dream that it was storming outside."

"We had no idea there was a storm on until you came in looking like Santa Claus," said Archie Doane.

"It has to be soundproof — at least as soundproof as possible," Henderson explained. "My work is in the talking pictures, you know, I have to have absolute silence in my laboratory."

"Good place for a murder, too, as well as a good night for it," said Michaelis, setting down his empty glass. "Just think of what the newspaper men would do with a soundproof room as the scene of a crime. 'Screams of the victim smothered by padded walls' and that sort of thing, you know. Wonder some fiction writer hasn't pulled off a murder in a 'talkie' studio. Ideal setting, eh Dan?"

"And for that reason the last place to expect it," growled Inspector Flaherty. "Most murders are unpremeditated. They happen as the result of a sudden impulse combined with opportunity. That's what makes it hard to convict a murderer. If he has set his stage for the job he's bound to leave clues we can pick up, and once we prove who set the stage we've pretty nearly got a conviction. It's the hit-and-run killers that do the most of the murders and leave fewest clues behind."

"My, what a gruesome turn our party is taking!" interposed Archie Doane. "Murder! Ugh! It even makes me shudder to see it in the pictures. I'm supposed to shoot a tough hombre in the film I'm working on now, and it gives me the creeps even to pick up the property pistol."

TORONTO MAN KILLED AT COLBORNE

Struck by the fast Canadian National Railways eastbound train at Colborne on Saturday night Frank Webb, K.C., 74, Toronto barrister was killed when the train sliced off the rear portion of his car. Webb was found lying beside the running board, his body crushed, the car standing upright on its wheels.

Police said Mr. Webb was on his way to his summer cottage at Colborne and had paused at the level crossing south of the village of Colborne, to allow the C.N.R. westbound freight to pass. Believing the way clear, he started across, but was struck by the eastbound passenger train, No. 130.

Parts of the car were found 175 feet up the track, but the main part of the car was 43 feet away. Lying beside the running board was the body of the driver. Examination showed his arms, legs and ribs were broken and the skull crushed. Coroner Dr. A. C. McGlennan opened an inquest which adjourned until June 28. Mr. Webb was born in Colborne and practised law there until about 15 years ago, when he moved to Toronto. He was a frequent visitor to Colborne, however.

"TRY COURTESY" CAN BRING LOWER INSURANCE PREMIUMS

"Just plain, everyday selfishness" on the part of motorists is responsible for 75 per cent. of Ontario's huge annual cost of traffic accidents, in the opinion of Jos. H. King, superintendent of the automobile and casualty branch of the Canadian Underwriters' Association.

"When motorists can show a substantial and permanent decrease in the accident and death rate on our streets and highways, they will unquestionably reap the benefit of their careful efforts in lower insurance rates," according to a statement made yesterday by Mr. King.

Referring to the current "Try Courtesy" campaign of the Ontario highways department, he remarked that its objective could be the means of saving tens of thousands of dollars for motorists who carried insurance. Many drivers, he thought, are paying a heavy price for selfishness and lack of courtesy in their insurance premium, or forcing other motorists to carry the burden for them.

In his opinion, many accidents are caused by "cut-in" drivers who create the circumstances for a mishap but do not participate in it themselves, and usually insist belligerently "they had nothing whatever to do with it."

This type of road demerit, says Mr. King, is usually in a great hurry to get somewhere, "but if you asked him what he was going to do with the few minutes he saved at the risk of his own and several other lives, he would be hard put to give you a reasonable answer."

He painted a vivid word-picture of several hundred thousand motor vehicles swooping down simultaneously on the towns of Napanee, Newmarket, and Tillsonburg and killing or maiming every single inhabitant — nearly 11,000 men, women and children. "Fantastic, you'd say," exclaimed Mr. King, "yet every year, largely through selfishness and lack of courtesy, we are allowing this very thing to happen in Ontario. How much longer are we going to let this annual massacre continue?"

Because of the many factors involving conditions of roads, drivers, weather, automobiles, and other circumstances which bear on traffic accidents, Mr. King thought it would be difficult to compile accurate statistics showing the actual cost of discourtesy in motoring, but stated there was no question in his mind or in the minds of other automobile insurance experts that motorists are paying a heavy toll for thoughtless and inconsiderate driving.

In his experience, women are outstandingly more courteous behind the wheel than men, although they may not generally be as good drivers.

"But," he added, "courtesy will go a great deal farther in preventing accidents than a good driver who seems to think he is on a racetrack."

More extensive efforts are necessary, he maintained, to eliminate the night-driving hazards of "one-eyed" cars and glaring headlights and to abolish the danger presented by "parade leaders" who hold up a line of 10 or 20 cars by driving at an unreasonably low pace. Such cars, Mr. King believes, should be made to accelerate their speed to meet the demands of traffic or made to travel on secondary roads where their ambling pace will not interfere with safe highway conditions.

BASS AND 'LUNGE SEASON

Town and district fishermen who have been hoping for an earlier opening of the bass and 'lunge fishing season this year are doomed to disappointment as word has been issued by the office of J. D. Taylor, deputy minister of Game and Fisheries of the province, that there will be no change this year from the July 1st opening.

History of Minto School

The first school in this section was a log one built on the fifth concession of Rawdon on the farm then owned by the Farrell family and owned now by Mr. A. Farrell. There are no records of this school but it is believed to have been built at the beginning of the nineteenth century.

Around 1850 the location was changed. Another log school was built on the farm of Mr. Henry Wright, now owned by Mr. H. C. Sine. They used benches which were easily shifted about the room. Many humorous stories are told of the days spent there. Among those who attended are Messrs Wm. and Henry Hagerman who have already passed the eighty mark. In 1872 it was decided that the old school was becoming inadequate and a new one should be built. The new site was chosen because it was thought to be in a more central position for those attending. It was located on the farm of Mr. Denis Maloney, now occupied by Mr. Leo Farrell. It was made of brick. On each side were two medium-sized windows. The main entrance was at the north, but at the south at either corner there was a door facing east and west, respectively, leading into the boys' and girls' cloak rooms. The desks had straight backs and seats. There were blackboards at the front and sides of the room. Those at the front were very small; those at the sides between the windows were just the brick wall painted black. This school was built at a cost of one thousand and sixty-seven dollars by Chas. Barger.

Each family who had children attending this new school were asked to deliver one-half a cord of wood or pay one dollar. Any children coming to school who were non-residents of the section were asked to pay seventy-five cents per quarter.

In 1874 a picket fence was built and the yard cleaned and levelled by Mr. Patrick Ryan.

In 1890 several maple trees were planted along the north and west sides. Most of these still stand.

In 1901, a woodshed, twelve feet by sixteen feet was erected at the south of the school. This is being used to this day.

In 1903 part of the picket fence was replaced by wire fence. Later the rest was changed to board fence, about four boards high. This was taken away and wire fence put in its place.

Near 1908 the doors at the east and west corners of the school were closed. The cloak rooms were torn out and built at the north of the school. At this time also, a platform about eight inches high and six feet wide was placed at the front of the room.

In 1924 the school was painted inside and out. Each year maps, books for the library were added, keeping both up-to-date.

In 1928 music was introduced in the school under the direction of Miss Ramsay. Her place was later filled by Mrs. Blanche Alexander, of Madoc.

In 1929 the old brick school was remodelled. Mr. J. M. Clarke, Belleville carpenter, and Mr. W. Vanderwater, Moira, plasterer, were hired to do the work. When they were finished there were seven windows at the east, divided into two sections — a large one at the bottom, the top one smaller, opening to allow the air to enter near the ceiling. One window was left at the back on the west side and two on the north on either side of the door. Five large slate blackboards were placed on the west side; the other old ones were left at the front of the room. The outside was stuccoed — the plaster being a pink colour and the pebbles mostly black and white.

In 1930 heavy screen was placed over the eight windows facing the playgrounds.

In 1935 a covered water cooler was purchased for the school. A cupboard was built and eighteen white granite cups provided by the School Board. In 1936 a new cupboard was built, the top to serve as a library; the bottom to hold the fifth class equipment, globe, measures, etc.

Some of the pupils who attended this school have graduated and have become teachers, nurses and ministers.

The teachers who served in this school since 1872 are: 1872, G. D. Wiggins; 1873, Miss Mary H. Heagle (Late Mrs. Walter Sine); 1874, G. W. Wiggins; 1875, Miss A. Pettit; 1876, T. J. Fair; 1877, D. McDonald; 1878, W. R. Solmes; 1884, W. W. Dingman; 1885 and 1886, M. Grant; 1887, Phillip Austin; 1888, Miss Cherry; 1889, Miss Ridley; 1890, Miss Bennett; 1891, Mr. George Fraser; 1892, Geo. A. Kingston (received $360 a year and kindled his own fires); 1893-96, John Johnston; 1897-1905, A. O. Mourn, (who is now an undertaker in Detroit; George E. Simmons (who died in China, where he was serving as an Anglican Church Missionary); Clifford Caverley; 1906-07, Miss G. A. Green; 1907-08, Miss T. B. Rodgers, (Mys. Clayton Hagerman); 1909-10, Miss H. Bailey (Mrs. (Rev.) H. B. Neal, Campbellford); 1910-11, Miss E. Macklin; 1911-12, Miss Mackintosh; 1912-13, Miss Coza Bateman (Mrs. Walter Wright); 1913-14, Miss Alma Harlow (Mrs. Carman Pauley); 1915-21, Miss Agnes Stout; 1921-22, Mr. Sheldon Osterhout, Mrs. Myrtle Stout; 1922-23, Miss Josephine Sine; 1923-25, Miss Lulu Johnson; 1925-26, Miss Lela Lough; 1927-28, Miss Mary Bethel; 1928-31, Miss Luella Matthews; 1931, Miss Ruby E. Barker; 1932-34, Miss B. A. Clark (who died in April 1937); 1934-1937, Margaret M. Danford.

The Secretary-Treasurers from 1872 were: Messrs J. T. Belshaw, Samuel Patterson, Wm. Heagle, Wm. Waller, T. J. Fair, J. T. Belshaw, Richard Clements, Daniel Sines, Wm. Hagerman, Jacob Sine, Richard Clements, James Stout, Albert Dumley, Paul Hagerman, Jacob Sine, Geo. B. Johnston, 1924-37, J. B. Hagerman.

The men who went overseas from here are: Messrs Arthur Hagerman, Roy Bedell, Stanley Heagle, Joseph Robinson, who spent most of the four years in a German prison and Fred Bedell and Hector Roy, who were killed in action.

The writer wishes to thank anyone who gave valuable information. Anyone who might add something to our brief history please communicate with Messrs E. Sines, S. A. Twidley, J. McMaster, the present trustees; G. B. Hagerman, secretary-treasurer, or the writer of this article, Margaret M. Danford, Harold Ont., R.R. No. 1.

FORDS DEFT TO UNIONS

(By Henry Ford)

"If union leaders think they can manage an automobile factory better than we can, and pay better wages under better working conditions than we can, why don't they build a factory of their own and show us up? They have the capital — they have all the money they need and a lot more. The country is big; they have the men; and think of all the union customers they would have! If the union leaders are sincere, they should go into business themselves. If they have thought out a better way to manage business, let them demonstrate what it is. If they can't do that, why do they pretend they can?"

In Business you are Courteous—

Try Courtesy on the Highway

WHETHER YOU are a salesman or a customer, a manufacturer or a farmer, you, like most people, think and practise courtesy towards those with whom you do business. You thus lighten the burden of work and add to the pleasure of the days.

But do you carry this same courteous habit of thought and action onto the highways and practise it towards your fellow-motorist when you are driving? Unfortunately many do not! And why? There is no real reason. They just THINK differently towards their associates of the highway than towards their business associates.

I suggest to such drivers that you now resolve to Try Courtesy in your driving. That you refrain from "cutting in" which is one of the greatest hazards of present-day traffic and may put you or the other fellow or both of you in the ditch. Try Courtesy instead. That you drive at the speed of the traffic you are in and never "hold up the parade". That you keep well to the right at all times—there is lots of room. That you never pinch, pocket, or otherwise put your fellow-motorist "on the spot". Try Courtesy instead.

To these suggestions you can add many others if you will just THINK and drive in terms of courtesy. By so doing you will add greatly to the pleasure and safety of motoring for yourself and for others.

OUR NEW SERIAL

Starting in this issue is our new serial story "The Penthouse Murder," by Caleb Johnson. This is a thrilling story of a mysterious murder and a master detective in action. Clues, clues everywhere, but you'll never guess the solution before you read the final chapter. It is a clean, exciting mystery novel and we hope our readers will like it.

FLOWERS PLANTED

Members of the Stirling Horticultural Society added to the beauty and attractiveness of the Village last week when they planted a variety of the season's flowers in the window boxes at the Public Library, and the flower beds located in the Stirling Cemetery and near the centre bridge.

The beds in the local Memorial Park were also planted by members of the Park Committee.

This village holds a high place among the municipalities of its size in the province for its attractive homes and well-kept lawns and parks, a reputation gained chiefly through the efforts of the Horticultural Society and the Memorial Park Committee. The thanks of the citizens are due the members of both these organizations.

BOWLING NEWS

Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Carleton, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Whitty, Mrs. N. Wescott, Mrs. Jas. McC. Potts and Mr. Thos. Soimes, members of the Stirling Lawn Bowling Club, were in Kingston, on Monday, when the bowlers of District No. 15 were hosts to thirty-nine lawn bowlers from South Africa and fourteen ladies travelling in the party, travelling across Ontario. Dr. E. A. Carleton, Vice-President of the Provincial Lawn Bowling Association, welcomed the visiting bowlers in his official capacity, and following a tour of the city, luncheon was served at the Club House.

Six teams from District 15 opposed an equal number of the visitors in 21-end games. Afternoon tea was served at the tenth end and a banquet was held at the Clubhouse of the Cataract Gold Club at the conclusion of the games.

Messrs Soimes and Whitty were paired with Meyers and Wiggins of Campbellford to make up one rink, and were defeated by the score of 19 to 15. Dr. Carleton was a member of a Madoc-Bellelville rink which also was defeated.

Win At Brighton

Stirling Bowlers carried off the honours at a mixed rink tournament held at Brighton on Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. P. W. Long, F. R. Mallory Mr. and Mrs. W. Whitty defeated a Belleville rink skipped by C. Sulman in the finals by the score of 10 to 9, after two extra ends had been played. The Stirling rink won all three games played. For prizes each lady received a silver relish dish and each gentleman a small silver tray. Only ten rinks took part in the competition.

CLEVER FAMILY

The three sons of Lt.-Col. B. C. Donnan, K.C., of Belleville, County Crown Attorney, are students at St. Alban's School for Boys at Brockville, and during the past year have won a high place in both the academic and athletic activities in that institution.

Tommy, the youngest of the three boys, won the junior athletic championship at St. Alban's school, while Bryson Jr. won the tennis title of the school. At the June examination the results at St. Albans shows that Bryson Jr. headed the senior class, after having previously being well up in his academic endeavours during the first semester last fall. In winning the junior athletic championship of his school Tommy excelled in both track and field events to win those coveted honours of the school year at St. Albans College, while in music Bryson July. Different items of business were then dealt with. The collection was taken, which amounted to $1.09. Miss Marion Tucker, the guest for the afternoon, was then introduced. She gave a very interesting and detailed lecture on the two-days' course for girls which was held in Stirling. She very capably demonstrated the making of a clothes-closet from orange crates; a hat-stand and cover; a dress-cover; shoe packs and a boulder box made out of a chocolate box. The ladies enjoyed the descriptive lecture very much and Marion was given a hearty vote of thanks for coming to their meeting and giving such a splendid report of the work.

Mrs. P. Hubble then gave an auto-harp selection. The topic on "Peace" was very capably given by Mrs. W. H. Hanna. This was followed by a reading by Mrs. N. Rosebush.

Mrs. Hubble sang a solo, accompanied by her harp.

The next meeting will be held on July 8th (note change of date) at Mrs. S. McIntosh's home.

The meeting closed with the National Anthem. A dainty lunch was then served by the hostess.

Mrs. Prince entertained the Women's Institute on Wednesday afternoon.

COUNTY COUNCIL MAKES INCREASED FAIR GRANTS

In Committee of the Whole on Ways and Means on Thursday afternoon the County Council increased the annual grants made to the Fall Fairs held in the County each year. Last year a grant of $75 was made to each rural fair, but this year the amount was increased to $100. Grants of $100 to the Hastings County Cheesemakers taking part in the Eastern Ontario Cheesemakers' Convention held at Belleville, the money to be used as prize money; $75.00 to the Championship School Fair to be held in Stirling and $35 to Mr. Joseph Wilson, Agricultural Representative at Stirling for Boys' and Girls' work in Agriculture were also made.

But a lively debate ensued before the motion granting $175.00 to the Belleville Fair Board, and $100 each to the County Fairs was finally passed by the Ways and Means Committee.

Grants of $100 each to the Red Cross Hospitals at Bancroft and Coe Hill were passed by council.

THURLOW TOWNSHIP FLIER IS KILLED IN CRASH

While Federal aviation officials endeavoured to determine the cause of the disaster which took the lives of three aviators on Monday, Coroner Dr. T. J. McInnis announced that there would be no civil inquest into the tragedy which sent a Toronto-owned monoplane into a death-dive some five miles west of Rannoch. Said to have literally come to pieces in the air, the four-passenger plane became a tomb for Arthur Leavens, the pilot, and his two companions, Charles Sockett, 28, and A. L. Ogden, 37, both expert pilots, and Toronto residents.

The machine had been purchased from a Montreal broker by the Leavens' brothers only one month ago. It had received a complete overhaul at that time. Its total number of hours in the air since construction were 400. Walter Leavens, brother of the dead pilot said yesterday. The firm was composed of three brothers, Walter, Clare and Arthur. All three had been flying for the past ten years, and Arthur had more than 2,000 hours of flying time to his credit. The plane had been purchased for use in charter trips. Walter Leavens could offer no explanation of how the machine might have crashed. He admitted that there was a possibility of a wing coming off, but added that it was a very remote one.
